Admit Activities Carried Out Under Orders of Moscow Group

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—(AP) Admitted communist leaders of the Pacific coast, appearing today before a congressional committee investigating communism in the United States, advocated overthrow of the government and substitution for it of the Soviet system of rule.

Their statements drew the fire of Congressman Carl Bachmann, a member of the committee, who warned William J. Simons, communist leader in California and other western states, to confine himself to questions asked and to avoid "speeches."

Activities of communists here during the last five years were described by various witnesses, including police officials, federal immigration officers, national guard officers and representatives of the American Legion.

All agreed communism was on the increase in the west and were of the opinion legislation should be adopted providing for deportation of alien communists when their activities are shown to be opposed to the welfare of the nation.

Claims Probe is Against Workers

Simons proved a fiery witness and assailed the committee's investigation as a direct move against workers of the country and a menace to communists trying to alleviate conditions of the workers.

Insistent questioning by Congressman Bachmann and Congressman J. Hampton Fish, Jr., chairman of the committee, brought the admission from Simons that communists in America were members of the third international with headquarters at Moscow, and proceeded under direction of that parent body.

Simons was asked by Bachmann what he thought would happen if he were to arise before an investigating body in Russia and denounce the Soviet "Judge for yourself," Simons replied.

Points to Gerard

Finally Simons agreed he would not be "an ideal insurance risk," but added nobody would denounce such an ideal form of government.

Under questioning he admitted Russia is ruled by the communist party, membership of which comprises less than one per cent of the population of the country.

"But that is not as bad as the situation in this country where former Ambassador Gerard pointed out that 59 capitalists rule the nation," said Simons.

Among other witnesses today were Captain Charles Goff of the San Francisco police department. He testified he had heard Simons advocate violence against the government and on one occasion, during an unemployment demonstration, he said he heard Simons threaten to seize $1,500,000 from the city treasury to supply jobless workers. If the unemployment situation were not alleviated.

Colonel Wayne Allen, of the 159th infantry, California national guard, said he had discovered a number of communists had enlisted in national guard machine gun companies.

department conferences and round tables. The commercial teachers' association, principals' association and health education districts also held meetings.

The main address this morning will be given by Dr. H. D. Sheldon of the University of Oregon school of education, and this afternoon at 2:50 o'clock Dr. Schorling will give the closing address of the institute.

The Marion county division of the Oregon state teachers' association will hold its annual business meeting this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, when officers for the ensuing year will be chosen.

Ralph W. Tavenner of Salem is scheduled to become president by virtue of having been vice president the past year. Vern D. Bain, superintendent at Woodburn, is the retiring president. Report of the nomination committee will be made prior to the election.

LAWSON SAYS NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

DALLAS, Oct. 6.—Dale Lawson, 15-year-old Polk county boy, alleged killer of Mrs. Harriet Dickinson, entered a plea of "not guilty" in circuit court here this afternoon. Date of trial has not been set but will probably be October 20 or 22. He was arraigned before Judge Arlie Walker this morning.

Lawson is facing a first degree murder charge in connection with the death of Mrs. Dickinson, who was shot and killed at her farm home south of Independence last April 30. He was indicted by a grand jury last week.

John H. Carson, Marion county district attorney, who has been asked to assist in the prosecution, has not yet notified the circuit court whether or not he will act. Don Collier, of Portland is the defense attorney.

sembly, the crowd was plainly in no mood to cut short its shouted welcomes to such gallant war time figures as General Gouraud, its own battle blinded national vice-commander, Frank Schoble of Wycoke, Pa., General Pershing and others.

Nor did it forget two grand old men of another war, James E. Jewell, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and Edwin J. Foster of Worcester, past commander, who rose happily to acknowledge the tumult which broke out at mention of their names.

Trio Remain in Jail Following Larceny Charge

Theron Randall, John Van Vleck and Roy Van Vleck spent Monday night in jail, having failed to furnish $1000 bail required of them by Justice Brewer Small before whom they were brought Monday. The charge was possession of stolen goods.

The men are accused of being in collusion with Charles Van Vleck, still at large, in the acquiring of property from some local stores. The trio was apprehended after they attempted to exchange a hat in a local store, the hat having been taken from an auto.

By a strange quirk, the clerk with whom they attempted the exchange, was the owner of the hat and reported the men to the police who made the arrest.

They have asked time to consult an attorney.

got. And we'll beat him, too. Frisch Avers He Didn't Drop Ball

Frankie Frisch, captain of the Cards, said he did not drop the ball in the eighth inning after tagging Haas at second base.

"Umpire Geisel," Frisch bellowed, "must have been blind. I hung right on the ball but he made his ruling and couldn't change it despite the fact he was wrong. We still feel we should have won today's game and we're going to knock hell right out of 'em when we get back in Philadelphia."

but present law prohibits its exportation.

Hydrogen Blamed For Latest Disaster

Britten made his announcement after Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics, had urged repeal of the present law to permit helium to be sold in peace time to all nations, especially to Great Britain and Germany. He added the extent of the R-101 disaster "is undoubtedly due" to its having been inflated with hydrogen gas.

Lieutenant Commander C. E. Rosendahl, who was on the American naval dirigible Shenandoah when it collapsed in 1925, expressed the opinion the loss of life on the R-101 and the complete loss of the ship "must be charged primarily to hydrogen, whatever led to the crash."

Rosendahl added that regardless of the cause of the British dirigible disaster, "the loss of R-101 does not condemn the modern helium inflated rigid airship."

ROAD CONGRESS IS ON AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP) Cooperation among nations as a means of promoting peace and prosperity throughout the world was stressed today by Secretary Stimson in an address at the opening session of the sixth international road congress.

Addressing highway experts from 60 nations representing every part of the world, the secretary of state said "It is to the unselfish spirit of international cooperation, so finely exemplified in this congress, that we must look for the basic guarantees to the future peace and prosperity of the world."

Increasing road building programs were urged by Roy D. Chapin of Detroit, the president-general of the congress, as a means of giving additional employment to labor.

The meetings will continue throughout this week with engineers and road building experts exchanging information looking toward improvement of modern highway systems. Seventy-six reports translated into English, French, German and Spanish—the four official languages of the congress—have been prepared for presentation.

tion made to the council, asking permission to park freight cars for storage on Front street.

Alderman Hughes brought up the matter of the expenditure of $463 for the conversion of a fire truck into a machine suitable for use of the street department. The council allowed that outlay.

With the rules suspended by unanimous consent, the council approved an ordinance exempting the Evangelical church on Summer and Marion streets from the provisions of the building code, so the church could be erected within four feet of the property lines.

Alderman Dancy's bill giving permission to the Portland General Electric company to build a spur track on High street was finally passed. The measure has been pending since June, the matter being one of form as the company had built the track, inadvertently, before the council gave its formal permission.

Mayor Livesley asked the council to give consideration to the matter of floodlights for the airport. He said he deemed these needed and estimated that the cost would be $1000. The matter was referred to the aviation committee.

ASTORIA WILL GET ADDITIONAL BANK

A third bank for Astoria was assured Monday afternoon when the state banking board placed its seal of approval upon the application filed by C. A. Gingrich and associates and instructed A. A. Schramm, superintendent of banks, to issue a charter as soon as all the legal requirements have been complied with.

The action of the board Monday marks a complete about face from its position of last April, when, by a vote of two to one, it sustained Schramm in his refusal to grant a charter to this same banking group on the ground that Astoria was already adequately supplied with banks.

The new bank will have a capitalization of $160,000 with $15,000 in surplus and $17,000 in undivided profits. C. C. Gingrich will be president of the new institution, H. Burke vice

Dandruff Crust Quickly Dissolved

One after another, a million men and women have made this discovery; that this simple method does dissolve the crust of dandruff; puts the scalp in the pink of condition; makes hair soft, lustrous, thick and vigorous.

Get a bottle of "Danderine" from your drug or toilet counter today. Put a little on your brush each time you dress your hair. Penetrating to the head, its soothing aid soon has an itching, feverish scalp cool, comfortable, healthy. The crust of dandruff simply melts away.

Dandruff is unsightly. It is the cause of grayness, baldness, dry, brittle, dull hair. When the scalp is freed from this irritating scurf, Danderine soon has the hair back in condition; soft, glossy, thick, vigorous and youthful-looking.

Start on Danderine today and end hair worries. A thirty-five cent bottle will demonstrate its merit. (Adv.)

ry, cavalry and artillery from Rio Grande do Sul, Santa Catarina and Parana.

He said that when the revolution triumphed a provisional civil government would take charge, with elections for a president and congress to be called later.

State Sets Up Provisional Regime

Advices from Rio Grande do Sul today indicated the state government had set up a sort of provisional regime already. This state, which is dominated by Petullo Vargas, defeated by Julio Prestes in the elections last March, today nominated Lindolf Collor as its diplomatic representative to Argentina. He left for Buenos Aires by airplane.

The federal military forces continued to go over to the side of the revolutionaries.

Officers of the seventh cavalry were at first arrested but now have returned to their organization for the northward drive to Sao Paulo. The rank and file of the sixth cavalry is backing the revolt, but its officers refused to join and surrendered on condition they be permitted to leave the country.

They were taken from Alegrete, where the regiment was stationed, to the Uruguayan frontier and released.

In addition to the recruiting of the regular troops, the rebel leaders have begun conscripting men between the ages of 21 and 35.

Officials View New Telephone Building Here

High officials of the Pacific Telephone and Telephone company were in Salem Saturday night to inspect the new building of the company here.

C. C. Aller met and welcomed the visitors who were N. R. Powley, vice president in charge of operations, and C. E. Fleeger, vice president in charge of engineering. Both men make their headquarters in San Francisco.

They have the states of Oregon, Washington, California, Nevada, and a section of Idaho as their territory.

On the trip here they were accompanied by General Manager Wise of the Portland office.

BRAZILIAN REVOLT NOW HELD SERIOUS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—A sharp change in the opinion of Washington officials as to the seriousness of the Brazilian insurrection was manifest tonight as reports came to the capital from the Latin American republic.

Some observers previously had expressed the opinion it was the result of repercussions of recent revolts in other Latin American countries and the economic depression with which Brazil has been affected to the same measure as other countries.

Military observers tonight pointed to the vast distances between the points along the coast and in the interior where it would appear the revolutionists have to a measure been successful, as indicating the possibility of a prolonged revolt.

Several questions were formulated in the minds of the probes. Some of them were:

Did the metallic structure give way before the ship came to earth, as might be shown by the finding of the bits of metal?

Did not the ship take fire when flying over the region of Beauvais and before coming to earth, as declared by one of the riggers, S. Church, an engineer of the Royal Airships Works?

Was the R-101 simply swept to earth by a squall such as struck the fateful spot again today and nearly took the investigators off their feet?

While the probe was going on today Premier Tardieu proclaimed a national day of mourning on Tuesday for the victims. The bodies today were placed in coffins and borne into Beauvais from the little suburb of Allonne. They were carried to the city hall.

In the great cathedral tomorrow Bishop Lesenne will say a mass in their memory, and then they will be removed to Boulogne, there to be placed on British destroyers and borne home for a solemn service of commitment in St. Paul's cathedral on Friday.

The service here will bear some of the depth of sorrow that the British feel over the deaths of such conspicuous figures as Lord Thomson, the popular air minister; Sir Seton Branccker, director

ATLANTA CLAIMING 90,000 MORE SOULS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Atlanta's contention that it has a population of 360,692 instead of 270,367 was laid before the District of Columbia supreme court today where decision was withheld pending further study by the court.

Seeking a court order to compel census director W. M. Stewart to publish the larger figure, counsel for the Georgia city contended the Georgia legislature had a right to increase the area of the metropolis from 34 to 184 square miles. In this area, five corporate cities and 15 communities totalling about 90,000 population are located.
