LOE HEADS VALLEY CLUB

Evans Valley Group Discuss County Agent Question Recently

EVANS VALLEY, Oct. 6.—Oscar Loe was elected president of the Evans Valley club at its meeting Friday night, the first meeting of the year. This was not a social meeting nor was a program given. It was devoted exclusively to business and plans were made for the coming winter. Other officers chosen were Herbert Ness, vice president; Ruby Downs, secretary; Albert Furue, treasurer.

The club decided to charge ten cents admission for the regular monthly programs which will be held on the first Friday of the month this year instead of on the third. The club has a number of club songs which will be written and other means are being devised with which to give the club more "pop."

The playground committee, composed of Oscar Loe and Andrew Peterson, reported that it would purchase equipment for the school play ground in the near future.

A vote was taken to show the sentiment toward a county agent in Marion county with the result that was very favorable toward a county agent.

The first program of the year will be given November 7. A very good program is being planned for this time and refreshments will be served.

WOODBURN FAMILY ON MOTOR JAUNT

WOODBURN, Oct. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Matson and their two sons left Monday morning for a motor tour to the east that will probably take six weeks. They started for Chicago, Illinois where they will visit for a while. After their Chicago visit they will drive to their former home, Iron Mountain, Michigan, and there to Detroit. They plan to return to Woodburn by a southern route.

About 50 old friends of B. F. Hall gathered at his home on Young street Thursday night to pay respects to Mr. Hall's wife, formerly Miss Baker of Albany.

W. J. Nelson and family moved to their new home east of Woodburn last Monday from Centralia, Washington. The farm, which was sold through the efforts of J. N. Haugen, local real estate agent, sold for $125 an acre. The farm is fully equipped and stocked.

JEFFERSON HAS MANY VISITORS

JEFFERSON, Oct. 6.—Mrs. William Duckworth of Eugene, was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Pease, Sunday. Accompanying her was a friend, Mrs. A. Bages and young son, who were guests of the Pease family.

Elyn Ely of Salem began her school in the Parrish Gap district last Monday. She is making her home with Mrs. A. E. Phelps, driving back and forth to school every day.

SEEKS NEW FLYING HONORS

Miss Laura Ingalls, of New York and St. Louis, Mo., with her D. H. Mott biplane in which she will seek a transcontinental flight record for her sex. Miss Ingalls plans to hop off this week from Roosevelt Field, L. I. The plane is the same in which she executed 980 loops last May, setting a loop record for women.

BEARS ARE PLENTIFUL Hunters From Mill City Bag Several of Them

MILL CITY, October 6.—Bears seem to be unusually numerous in the vicinity of Mill City this fall and those hunters who start out for one of the meek and innocent deer, and fail to secure one seem to find it not so difficult to bag a nice fat black bear. Perhaps the reason for this is that the hunter may pause to admire a beautiful buck and thus give the animal a chance to feed to safety while when Mister Bruin looms on the horizon the wily hunter aims first and takes time to admire later.

One day recently John Stammers and C. Seitzinger discovered a big black bear helping himself to apples in the former's orchard. The men did not wait to inform officers of the robber but proceeded to dispatch the bear themselves. Thursday afternoon Frank Chance returned to Mill City with a 200 pound bear which he killed while on a hunting trip near Endor. Endor is between Niagara and Detroit.

But perhaps the two men who got the biggest thrill out of a bear hunt so far this season are John Worden of Fox Valley and Cleve Davis of Mill City. The two men were hunting in the territory along the Little North Fork which they had decided was the most suitable for their search. Quietly they stalked along the trail with Worden in the lead. Suddenly Davis called to his friend to look back of him. Worden did so and there not more than ten steps from him stood a bear. There was no time to argue, neither was this the time to run, so John took aim with his trusty rifle and in less time than it takes to tell Bruin lay dead. But no sooner had the bear fallen in its tracks than here came a cub and trotting up its fallen mother, put its claws around her neck while a few feet away another cub peered from behind the trunk of a tree. Both cubs were killed by the men.

MRS. A. STARBUCK DIES IN PORTLAND

DALLAS, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Almira Gibson Starbuck, mother of Dr. A. B. Starbuck, of Dallas, died at her home in Portland, Sunday, following an illness of eight months, caused from a fall.

Mrs. Starbuck was a well known pioneer resident of the upper Willamette valley, coming to the Eola hills when a girl of seven. She was born in Pike county, Illinois, June 8, 1845, and came across the plains with her father Daviss Gibson in 1852. She attended school in the Eola district and was married to Thomas Starbuck in 1871. They made their home in the Eola section until they moved to Portland in 1887. Mr. Starbuck was prominent in the Seventh Day Adventist church. He died just 12 weeks ago.

Mrs. Starbuck is survived by a daughter, Miss Edith, of Portland; her son of Dallas; a sister, Mrs. William Patrick of Salem; three brothers, A. B. Gibson of Dallas, Cass and Dorr Gibson of Salem.

Services will be held in Portland, Tuesday at 2 o'clock from the Sunnyside Seventh-Dad Adventist church with interment in the Lone Fir cemetery.

HERE FROM IDAHO MEHAMA, Oct. 6.—Gene Wilkerson of Cambridge, Idaho spent a few days visiting with friends here this week. The Wilkerson family formerly lived on what is now called the Wilson place and moved to Idaho six years ago. This is his first visit here since leaving. He says they have a fine potato crop there this year.

WOOL GROWERS ELECT RHOADES

Retail Lamb Price has not Followed Decline in Price To Producers

At the meeting of the directors of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers held October 3 and 4 at Portland, J. O. Rhoades, Riggins, Idaho, was elected to fill the unexpired term as director for Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho, left vacant through the recent death of James M. Davis, Pullman, Washington. Mr. Rhoades is one of the largest sheep operators in that district, has been connected with the First National Bank of Lewiston, and has served as county commissioner.

A report of wool market conditions and sales of wool made to Pacific coast mills and by the National Wool Marketing Corporation, of which the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers is one of the largest regional units, was made by R. A. Ward, manager of the local association.

In discussion of the lamb market situation, it was pointed out that while the retail lamb price is off approximately 10 percent, the wholesale price is approximately 20 percent lower, and the carcass lamb price is about 30 percent lower. This showed that the retail price had not followed the heavy decrease in the prices paid to the producer of lambs.

Sheep diseases and the need for legislation providing for sheep disease investigation and study in Oregon was discussed by C. E. Greile, director of the wool growers association and the Pacific International Livestock Exposition.

Present at the meeting were: Dr. T. Alexander, Chehalis, Wn.; Dr. Edwin Bunnell, Willows, Calif.; Fred Falconer, Pendleton, Ore.; C. E. Greile, Portland, Ore.; E. A. McCornack, Eugene, L. A. Robertson, Garberville, Calif.; G. A. Sandner, Scio, Ore.; R. N. Stanfield, Baker, Ore.; Carl Whitmore, Joseph, Ore.; J. O. Rhoades, Riggins, Idaho; Geo. Gattin, marketing specialist of the Oregon State College; Arthur A. Goldsmith, counsel, R. A. Ward, general assistant manager, and D. L. Barnes, field representative of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers.

HUNTERS ACTIVE AROUND MILL CITY

MILL CITY, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Wilbur Chesnut and her family returned to their home in Mill City the first of the week from a visit of several days with friends in Portland.

E. C. Chandler and Leo Franklin of Albany spent Saturday night and Sunday near Detroit on a hunting trip. Chandler is a lino-type operator and Franklin is a printer. Both men are employed on the Albany Democrat-Herald.

Porcupine is Killed At Farm Near Scio

SCIO, Oct. 6.—Quite an unusual incident for this part of the country occurred Saturday morning, when A. I. Arnold's dog treed a porcupine in his front yard. Mr. Arnold then shot it and brought it to town Saturday afternoon, where he was exhibiting it. It was larger than a skunk and had a yellowish stripe down its back. The dog got several quills in its mouth which were removed.

Mr. and Mrs. Q. W. Wassam and children and Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Smith and children of Salem were Sunday visitors in Mill City at the home of Mr. Smith's and Mrs. Wassam's parents, Postmaster and Mrs. G. W. Smith.

Sven Eliassen, athletic coach at the high school left for Eugene Friday evening to remain until Tuesday. While in the university city he will spend considerable time visiting the school.

RICKEY CLUB TO MEET FRIDAY EVE

RICKEY, Oct. 6.—Local talent will furnish the program for the first meeting of the season of the community club which will be held at the school house Friday evening.

The program will be in charge of the club officers, Mrs. A. E. LaBranche, Mrs. T. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. W. Flood and O. D. Binegar. Each family is asked to assist with the program and also to furnish a cake and a dozen sandwiches for the lunch.

Mrs. W. H. Humphreys and Mrs. M. M. Magee will have charge of serving the refreshments.

BUYS WOODBURN FARM

WOODBURN, Oct. 6.—Charles Fay, formerly of Wisconsin, has purchased a ten-acre tract of land near West Woodburn from W. Wolf. Fay expects to build a house on the land and set out berries. A house in Portland was taken in on the deal by Mr. Wolf.

G. E. MEETING DRAWS CROWD

Turner Host to Marion County Meeting Here Recently

TURNER, Oct. 6.—The Marion county Christian Endeavor convention opened in the Turner Christian church Friday evening with a good registration for the first session, which opened with congregational singing led by Miss Margaret Shoemaker of Eugene. Prayer was offered by Rev. E. J. Gilstrap of Turner. The address of welcome was given by the local C. E. president, Miss Josephine Gilstrap. The response was given by Basil Zell, county president.

After the president appointed the needed committees, special vocal music at the Turner Christian church was given by three sets of twins who belong to the local society. They are Misses Helen and Helena Witzell, Mildred and Maxine Spencer, Anna and Edra Johnson.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. James A. Smith of Dallas. The subject being, "The Conflict" Eph. 6:12. Rev. Smith said that "victory is not worth much unless the enemy is strong. Being a Christian calls out the best there is in us, for we will find that our life's pathway is strewn with conflicts. You will find that ministers have a profound sympathy for the young people as they continually meet the modern brand of temptations. We are to be constantly arrayed against the evil one who is strong and persistent at all times. Our first parents were tempted and went down. Jesus was tempted and won. Sin lies in yielding, not in the temptation. School life is beset with temptations, you may have companions that fair to the eye, but who for good, you may get mixed up on questions that you had hoped were settled, by the unwise reading of some of the modern stuff that shouldn't be published in the first place. You go to a true friend for advice. Jesus won out and he challenges you. You have no easy task, but a possible one."

The benediction closed the evening session and delegates were assigned to various homes for the night.

Banquet Enjoyed Shortly after six o'clock Saturday evening the C. E. delegates and friends sat down to the banquet tables in the dining room which was decorated with red and white streamers and fall flowers. The theme for the toasts was "Overcoming the World." Kenneth Hickok was toastmaster, who presided with the following subjects presented, "Overcoming Through Faith," by Ole Peterson, "Overcoming Through Love," by Delbert Daniels, "Overcoming Through Understanding," by Grace Klampe, "Overcoming Through Endeavor," Leone Clask, "Overcoming Through Service," Berney Scheerman. The subjects were very ably handled by those taking part. A few C. E. yells enlivened the program. All journeyed to the auditorium for the evening service, the main feature of which was the address by Ross Guiley of Eugene, speaking in "The Christian Endeavor Jubilee, San Francisco, 1931." Between 50 and 60 delegates had registered by Saturday night. The convention closed with the Sunday evening service.
