

Athletics win Title as Earnshaw Joins Diamond Immortals

CARDINALS ARE SUBDUED AGAIN

Speed Ball Artist Repeats After one Day's Rest To Clinch Series

By ALAN GOULD
SHIBBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The great right arm George Livingston Earnshaw and the dynamite in the bats of his team mates, exploding with devastating effect all over the premises, today swept the Philadelphia Athletics to their second successive world championship and their fifth of all time under the leadership of Connie Mack.

While the 67 year old patriarch of baseball sat serene and quiet on the bench, in his vicinity among a flock of wildly flitting players, the Athletics put on a power-plus exhibition of baseball to rout the St. Louis Cardinals, 7 to 1, in the sixth game of the world's series.

The victory gave the Athletics the series by a margin of four games to two, as they worked their previous conqueror, Wild Bill Hallahan, from the box after two innings and hammered three of the four Cardinal pitchers for seven smashing hits.

On the same field where they made five extra base drives account for as many runs in the opening game route of Burleigh Grimes the Athletics today collected five doubles and two home runs, one by Al Simons and the other by Jimmy Dykes, to roll up a total of 18 bases—nine of them extra bases.

Staggering back from the terrific force of this high explosive bombardment, the Cardinals were subdued for the first time in a straight game by the fast ball pitching of Earnshaw, who blanked them for eight successive innings as he completed one of the greatest pitching exhibitions in world's series history.

With only a day's travel from St. Louis to Philadelphia for rest, Earnshaw returned to the mound and mastered the National league champions with the same skill and effectiveness he showed in winning them in the second game here and in holding them scoreless for seven straight innings of the crucial fifth game at St. Louis Monday afternoon.

Only the fact that he was withdrawn for a pinch hitter in the fifth game, which Robert Moses Grove finished and received official credit for winning, prevented Earnshaw from scoring three victories and placing his name in the hall of fame that already lists Christy Mathewson, Jack Coombs, Red Faber, Base Adams and Stanley Coveleski.

In twirling the better part of three of the six games, 25 innings altogether, Earnshaw held the clouting Cardinals to the meagre total of 13 safe hits and two runs. From the third inning of the second game until the ninth inning this afternoon, Earnshaw pitched shutout ball over a stretch of 22 consecutive innings.

Not since Christy Mathewson blanked the Athletics three times in the world's series of 1905 has any pitcher shown such complete mastery over his opponents, nor given a more brilliant and courageous exhibition.

Allows one run after being hit by Earnshaw, after surviving the brief Cardinal outbreak in the ninth, waited for Bing Miller to bring in the last ball for him and then raced to the dugout to escape the wild rush of fans, scrambling the field. The crowd of 52,295 spectators arose at the finish to give the big right hander one of the most vociferous ovations any world's series hero has been accorded.

since the great Walter Johnson struck victoriously at the mound in 1924 in Washington.

With one out in the opening frame, Dykes walked and scored on Cochrane's two base smash that came off Bottomley's glove and eluded Watkins, rolling to the right field wall. Mickey galloped to third on the error and scored on Miller's double.

Hallahan got past the second without further damage, despite hitting Bishop and again passing Dykes, but Simmons greeted Sylvester Johnson, a right hander, with a home run into the left field bleachers in the third inning. Miller scored with the second double and the only hit that the Athletics wanted.

Johnson passed Bishop in the fourth and Dykes then hit a line drive into the lower left field stands for a homer and two more runs. Fox's double, in the fifth, followed by sacrifice hits by Miller and Haas put over the sixth Philadelphia run.

Johnson gave way to a pinch hitter and big Jim Lindsey was on the mound in the sixth when Bishop walked, raced to third on Dykes' booming double and scored on Cochrane's sacrifice fly with the last Athletic tally.

Lindsey, in the eighth, and Herman Bell, pitching in the ninth as the fourth Cardinal mounder, unretired the A's in order.

Meanwhile, off Earnshaw, only two Cardinals got as far as second base in the first eight innings. George Fisher, pinch hitting for Hallahan, doubled in the third, and Hafey doubled in the seventh, after which Bottomley walked but these were the only Cardinal scoring threats until they averted a shutout in the ninth, when hits by High and Hafey, interspersed with two walks, produced only one run.

Robin Reed and Wildcat McCann to Wrestle Here Next Wednesday, Armory

AFTER experiencing some difficulty in finding a grapple willing to meet Robin Reed, well known bofe crusher from Reedsport, Matchmaker Harry Plant grinned in anticipation of success Wednesday afternoon when he heard Wildcat McCann was back in town.

Nor were his hopes in vain, for within a few minutes after Plant got in touch with the Irishman from Mexico, he had him signed up for a match with Reed at the armory next Wednesday night. The date became available when the Forcum fight show was postponed a week because of a misunderstanding on the part of Marcus' manager. October 22 is final for the glove mix, Plant says.

Interest in the mat game is expected to be briskly at mention of Robin Reed, who has not wrestled here since the revival of this sport a year ago, but appeared here a number of times several years ago.

Reed is one of the real luminaries in the welterweight list, having been picked only a few months ago by the national wrestling commission as one of half a dozen entitled to compete for the world title at that weight.

McCann drifted back into town Wednesday after several months spent in Canada, where, he reports, he won every match engaged in.

"I've just learned to wrestle," McCann said, though many local fans were convinced he knew the game pretty thoroughly when he left here.

McCann had heard some intimations that he "ran out" on a match here when he left for Canada. On the contrary, he says, he had given notice sometime before leaving, of his intentions.

McCann was unable to show at his best in his last several bouts here, because of an injury to his back, suffered in the match with Al Karasick. He's in top shape now, McCann declares, and he wants to see some of these championship belts he hears about.

WAR VETERANS BEHIND BAILEY

Group Organized Here for Campaign; Douglas McKay Leader

Veterans of the world war, headed by Douglas McKay, announced here yesterday the formation of a Bailey-for-Governor club which would conduct its activities throughout the state.

The executive board of the newly formed organization includes war veterans from virtually all principal localities in Oregon.

Members of the club's executive committee include: George W. Whitby, Hood River; Vic Mackenzie, Salem; Otis Palmer, La Grande; Kearns R. Healy, Enterprise; Duncan Cameron, Cottage Grove; Ed Bayliss, Sheridan; Geo. Love, Portland; Don Graham, Prineville; George Cook, Medford; Carl Stetter, Roseburg; John Euders, Ashland; Fred Dinner, Newberg; Ernest Starr, Silverton; W. W. RELATIVES CITED IN DIVORCE PLEA

His mother, grandmother and a blind aunt were too much for her, so she had to leave him alone, 23, Albinus G. Glendon, Schmidt in complaint for divorce filed yesterday against Louvera B. Schmidt. They were married in Longview, Wash., in February, 1929, and have one child.

The complaint sets forth that his mother is possessed of a biting and gossiping tongue, is domineering, overbearing and dictatorial, all of which the plaintiff could not stand. Defendant neglected and refused to furnish Mrs. Schmidt and their child a home away from these presences, so she left him.

Plaintiff asks return of $150 she has loaned defendant since they were married; $100 attorney's fees and $25 for cost of maintaining suit; $50 monthly temporary alimony; $25 monthly for the child during pendency of suit; and $50 monthly permanent alimony and $25 monthly permanently for care of child.

CURT COMMENTS

One thing we like about the recent world series is that the best man won.

Referring of course, to George Earnshaw. But he better look out for the pitchers' union will be posed to work every game, but this bird gets bent on proving that they can.

Our idea of nothing at all is the remarks made by players, etc., into the microphone after the series is over.

We heard from Stan Lainsan, erstwhile megaphone man at the ball games here and one of the best little sport fans in town while he was here. Stan is now in Los Angeles. He saw Oregon State and U. S. C. play and reports that the Staters would have done a lot better except for the witting proclivities of the famous Los Angeles brand of sunshine.

He also said this boy Mohler was the one to look out for in future U. S. C. games.

Salem high plays Silverton tomorrow afternoon at Silverton and whatever the outcome, we're glad to see them play because other schools in Marion county have sort of shied away from competition with Salem in recent years.

Some of the boys who played together on the Silverton junior ball team this summer will be pounding each other from opposite sides of the scrimmage line Friday.

The 1929 football season was played on dry land in the Willamette valley, but this year we seem destined to see some old fashioned mud battles. It's peculiar, too. Willamette university had a great passing outfit a year ago and the weather stayed nice so the boys could play that sort of game.

Still, Caldwell, Idaho, isn't in the wet weather zone and the boys better have some pass defense if they want to stop those Coyotes who have scored on Washington State and University of Idaho.

We'll bet there'll be no brotherly love wasted in that game at Caldwell a week from Saturday. The Coyotes will still have in mind the drobbing they took here the big one—that is, if Williams can look back on the worse treatment they encountered at Boise the year before, 52 to 0 as near as we can recall it.

Last year the Northwest conference race worked up to a finish at climate. Thanksgiving day, with Willamette and Whitman licking everything up to that point. We wouldn't be surprised if this year, the game at Caldwell next week would be the big one—that is, if Williams can be a factor at all. It may be Whitman and College of Idaho, this year as it was for the first couple of years after the conference was reorganized.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Bellingham Normal Vikings, 23 strong, will leave here early tomorrow for Portland, where they will meet the Normal school eleven of Monmouth, Ore., in a night football game Friday.

Basketball for Girls Dropped in Linn County
SCIO, Oct. 8.—At the Linn county teachers institute, which met in Albany Thursday and Friday it was voted to do away with girls' basketball, and baseball, in Linn county and not to have receptions after the boys' games, to permit them to return home earlier.

Final at Portland: Roosevelt 19, Benson Tech 6.

SERIES SPLIT NOT BIG BUT NOT BAD

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The victory of the Athletics today gave them the winner's end of the money, approximately $5,000 per man, figured on a basis of their total of 136,027.69 being split into 27 shares.

The total gate receipts for the series exceeded $500,000 and the nearest to the million dollar mark since 1926.

BUILDING PLANS OF W. U. NOT CERTAIN

Whether Willamette university will have one or more new buildings within the near future is a matter indefinite and uncertain and any final decision will rest with the board of trustees.

"It is true that we have available the $100,000 Hauser gift which could be used for buildings," President Carl G. Doney said Wednesday. "However, this has been placed with the endowment funds and is drawing interest."

"We would prefer to have additional buildings erected as gifts by friends of Willamette and to keep our endowment at its present mark as a minimum. There has been no definite establishing of policy as regards new structures."
