Woman's Club has Meet Of Unusual Interest Friday

Members of the Salem Woman's club were delighted with a surprise visit from Mrs. Sadie Orr-Dunbar who came to Salem unexpectedly Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Dunbar spoke briefly before the club members on the subject of the coming Red Cross seal sale which is being prepared now. In speaking of the work accomplished Mrs. Dunbar said that it was amazing the results obtained from the use of the money which is collected each year in the seal sale. It accomplishes much relief in tuberculosis cases needing attention, and aids in getting people into a position where cures may be accomplished.

A suggestion came from the state chairman of the American Homes division for the organization of radio clubs which would meet each Tuesday at 8 o'clock to hear the lecture which is to be released over KOAC on "parent and child relations".

William H. Crawford, representing the utility taxpayers commission, spoke in an explanatory manner concerning the amendments to the state constitution which will come up for consideration on the November ballot.

Mrs. George H. Alden called particular attention to the study classes which meet each Wednesday at the Woman's club meeting. These classes meet at 2 o'clock at the city library. Two hours are given over to current events under the direction of Dr. F. O. Franklin and to a book review given by Mrs. J. C. Nelson. All members are welcome to join these classes.

Prof. Morton E. Peck of Willamette university was the speaker and illustrated his talk on Scotland with numerous stereoscopic slides of Edinburgh castle, St. Giles cathedral and other spots of historic interest. Prof. Peck ventured the opinion that "aside from Greece and Rome, the Scottish people contributed most to civilization." And he also suggested that the unfailing courtesy of the Scotch people made their country a most attractive place in which to travel.
