GRADUAL DROP IN PRICES NOTED CHEAP APPLES DOMINATE MARKET

Hogs off 25 to 75 Cents With Cattle, Sheep Markets Slow

PORTLAND, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The gradual drop in general falling away in prices which has characterized movements in livestock, produce and commodity markets here for several weeks, continued this week and at the close prices were considerably under last week's close. Hogs were off from 25 to 75 cents. Wheat was off a nickel.

Heavyweight hogs were going $8.50-10.25 for 250-290 pound stuff, off 50-75c; mediums, 200-220 pounds, were down 50c to $9.25-10.75; lights, 160-180 pounds, were quoted at $10.25-10.75, down from 50 to 75c; feeder and stocker stuff was around 10.00-11.00, off 50 cents. Trading in hogs was active, however, and the prices quoted were not far from the market.

There was little to be said for the cattle market. Prices fluctuated considerably during the week and the quality offered was not impressive. Good steers, 600-900 pounds, moved up 25 cents to $7.50-8.00. There was no change in quotations on cows, offered at $5.50-6.25 for good stuff. Vealers declined 50 cents to $10.00-11.00 for good to good to choice milk fed stock.

There was no change in sheep or lamb quotations, good to choice lambs, 90 pounds down, going at $5.50-6.50. Depressed by severe unsettled stock market values, and by disquieting reports from Argentina, wheat futures and cash grain prices went into another slump this week. Big Bend blue-stem dropped to 88 cents. Last Saturday it was quoted at 91 cents. Soft white and western white were 73 1/2 and hard white, northern spring and western red, 70 1/2 cents.

Oats was unchanged at $24.00 for No. 2, 23 lb. white, and No. 2, gray. May quotations were unchanged. Buying prices, f. o. b. Portland, were: alfalfa, $18.00-18.50; barley, $12.50-13.50; eastern Oregon timothy, $12.50; clover, $14; oat hay 14; oats and vetch 14.

Bag prices improved two cents during the week and fresh extras were quoted at 35 cents. Butcher extras fell off two cents to 37 cents. Oregon 1929 hop crop prices narrowed down to 10 cents a pound, and 1929 crop prices were 6 and 7 cents. Prunes were unchanged.

Oregon Potato Crop is due to Appear on Market Soon

PORTLAND, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Wholesale butter and egg markets were steady at unchanged prices today. Light run of fresh butter receipts was sufficient for a fair demand. Prices on storage eggs were shaded by some dealers.

Fruit and vegetable trade was reviewed by the bureau of agricultural economics as follows: Cheap apples continue to arrive at the Portland market in abundance, and dominate the present apple deal, at 50-65c per box of small and ungraded stock. Small price concessions have been necessary to move wrapped and packed Jonathans and Deliculous.

First Deschutes potatoes are due to arrive at Portland next Monday. A slight premium over Yakima Netted Gems will probably prevail. Idaho shipping point potato markets are steady at $1.25-1.35 per cwt. Yakima is quiet at $2.00-2.70 per ton of combination grade stock. Klamath Falls is the highest primary potato market in the west, with No. 1 Russets selling at $1.75 per cwt. f. o. b. loading points.
