BANK DEPOSITS ARE INCREASED

Growth Noted Since March But Figure is Little Below Year ago

Deposits of all banks in the state of Oregon on September 24, 1930, aggregated $291,147,-230.97, as against $279,079,-550.34 on March 27 of this year, according to statement prepared here Monday by A. A. Schramm, state superintendent of banks. The statement was based on the September 24 call.

Mr. Schramm's tabulation shows a slight increase in deposits since June 30, a marked increase since March 27 and a slight decrease as compared to the figures of October 4 a year ago. Deposits on October 4, 1929, were $304,418,796.69.

The banks show an increase of approximately eight per cent in cash on hand and due from other banks as compared with a year ago. This figure now stands at $65,499,534.43. Government bonds in the banks total $44,-729,407.69 and other bonds and securities $65,033,867.72. Banks of 52 towns and cities in the state show deposits of $272,454,237.56. In all of these towns and cities the deposits are $500,000 or more.

DELZELL ATTACKS HIGH TARIFF IDEA

Characterizing the American tariff system as an idol which would not stand rigorous scrutiny, William A. Delzell, democratic candidate for congress, asked for a government of, by and for the people to replace a government which he characterized as "one of a plutocracy." Delzell, introduced by John Bayne, congressional committeeman for the Marion county democratic party totok "Rats in the Idol" as his topic.

He likened the tariff system to an idol whose worship had been sustained by fear, prejudice and ignorance.

Tariffs which he said made possible great trusts such as the steel industry, the sugar combine, the aluminum industry and the concrete combine, were scored by Delzell. "The steel idol looks well with the aluminum paint put on it by Andew Mellon," said Delzell while democrats in the audience applauded.

Delzell also attacked "the idol of subsidies" drawing material from the government aid given the Union Pacific when it built across the continent. He cited government sale of ships built during the world war as a form of subsidy and attacked recent mail contracts made with ships carrying U. S. mail to foreign lands.

Delzell scored the Hawley tariff. He blamed this legislation for business conditions of the last seven months which he said had grown worse from month to month.

The speaker concluded his remarks with a poem he composed, in which he laid blame for Oregon's alleged business plight to the Hawley tariff.

Preceding the address, Senator Miller of Grants Pass urged members of the chamber of commerce to support closing the Rogue River, a measure provided for on the ballot November 4.
