

OCEAN POWER PLAN REVISED

Seawater Plant to out-do Niagara, is Claim of Georges Claude

By W. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(AP)— Georges Claude tonight predicted Niagara Falls would be outdone as a power source by a future seawater plant, which would be an improvement of his experiment at Matanzas, Cuba.
Niagara water falls less than 200 feet, but Claude told a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers he could produce power equivalent to sea water "falling in as unlimited measure as wanted in a cataract 3-9 feet high."

The scientist, who is on his way to France, gave the engineers technical figures of power produced in his small Cuban plant, which he said prove his claims.
At Matanzas he obtained 12.5 kilowatts of power from a difference of temperature of 10 1/2 degrees centigrade between surface and deep water.
Temperature is Secret of Plan
But, he said, this power jumped to 22 kilowatts with an increase of 3 1/2 degrees in the temperature difference. He explained that the efficiency of a sea water power plant grows as the square of the temperature difference.
"And," he said, "there is a difference of 24 degrees available most of the year in the region of Santiago de Cuba."
This temperature difference, he said, is not the only source of the additional power expected. It will come also from ironing out mechanical imperfections which he described in the Cuban plant.
He said his experiments showed that "in large plants of the future" it will be possible to obtain more than 500 kilowatts of power from every cubic meter of cold water passing per second through the works. Of this power four-fifths, he said, will be net, the other fifth being required for operation.

TRANSIENT YOUTHS ARE BURNED ALIVE

The woodchoppers found Hensley with one side enveloped in flames and Wilson's feet nearly burned away. Hospital physicians here said the boys apparently had been burned six or eight hours before.
A salt shaker, dotted with blood stains, was found near the fire but there was nothing else to indicate they had been camping.
Neither had any money. The physicians said both appeared to have been severely beaten.
The letters, both signed "Rene," were dated at Day Brook, N. C., one was written Oct. 16 and the other Oct. 13.
"I miss you so. I sure wish I could be with you, one of the guys headed 'In school' said.
With the letters was a scrap of poetry.

BALD CREEK, N. C., Oct. 22 —(AP)—Woodrow S. Wilson and Burton Hensley, reported victims of a mysterious attack near Memphis, Tenn., left their homes here Oct. 14 in an automobile, relatives said today.
The pair, both students in the high school and of the same age, 15 years, first drove to Greenville, S. C., where they visited the former's father, M. M.
Wilson, a textile worker.
After a short stay in Greenville, the youths visited relatives in Asheville Friday night. They left the next morning, saying they planned to return home on Monday, W. M. Hensley, a farmer, received a card from his son which had been mailed in Asheville.
No other word was received from the boys until dispatches told of their being found in a camp fire near Memphis.

ROAD DAMAGE CASE GETS VENUE CHANGE

Based on stipulation, the suit of J. H. McDonald against Polk county has been transferred from the circuit court of this county to the Polk county circuit court. Order to that effect was signed yesterday by Judge L.
H. McMahon.
McDonald, one of the property owners along the 12th street cutoff to the Pacific highway south, seeks about $2,100 for alleged damages to his property. The county court accepted the road viewers' recommendation for damages amounting to only a few hundred dollars, whereupon Mc-Donald filed claim for larger damages and later appeal the case to the circuit court.

Hunts too Late, Warden Charges

Dr. C. W. Emmons of Salem, was arrested in Polk county on a charge of shooting after the legal hours, it is reported by Ben Claggett, deputy game warden.
Dr. Emmons was arraigned Tuesday before Justice Mcintosh of independence and pleaded not guilty. Trial was set for October 31.

RANCH HAND KILLED
SEATTLE, Oct. 22.—(AP)— Hansel Ford, 22, assistant United States district attorney here, ran down and killed Tony Notaro, 60, a ranch hand, at the Duwamish river bridge on the new Seattle-Tacoma highway tonight.

LOG PRODUCTION IS CUT DOWN GREATLY

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 22.— (AP)—Log production in the Pacific northwest has been held to 46 per cent of capacity for several months, L. H. Mills, Portland, Ore., president of the Pacific Logging conference told delegates to the 21st session here today with the result that orders have exceeded cutting for 12 successive weeks.
"The logger who comes successfully through the period of hard times will have his costs down to a basis which will insure profitable operation when better times return," he said.
The program of the conference has been prepared with a view to aiding the members to improve their methods."
Mayor Herbert Armstrong welcomed the delegates, Mayor J. C.
Tennant of Tacoma, replying, declared the lumber industry of the Pacific northwest and the effects of a slump in that industry were widely felt.
Employment of engineers who would make better timekeepers was blamed for expensive errors in logging work. In discussing engineering work in logging camps and the value of maps.
Reduction in costs resulted from preparation of a relief map of the Ryderwood territory under logging operations, Ray Morse of Longview, said. Engineers had been able to lay out rail lines on the map which could be adhered to in the field, he said, and cost estimates figured from the map had been within three per cent of the actual cost.

HAWLEY TO VISIT SOUTHERN OREGON

Congressman W. C. Hawley is winding up his campaign for re-election by a trip into southern and southwestern Oregon which will bring him back to Salem on Saturday, November 1. He will remain in the city, until after election Tuesday, November 4.
Mr. Hawley will be in Medford and Ashland today and Friday and will be in Eugene Saturday.
Next Tuesday he will be in Reedsport and the following three days will find him in all the principal towns of the Coos Bay territory. He will return to Salem from Marshfield on November 1.
Congressman Hawley will confer with party and business leaders in each section visited, discussing the needs of the district.

MURDER CHARGED PRINCETON, W. Va., Oct. 22.

(AP)—Mrs. Minnie Stull, 30, a widow, is in jail here on charges of killing her eight year old stepson, Mickey Stull, by placing him in a tub of boiling soapuds.

RE-ELECTED

President Paul Loebe (above) was re-elected by the Reichstag, while severe clashes on the floor preceded and followed the ballot.
Hardly had he resumed the chair when the Fascists began obstructive tactics which may make Parliamentary procedure impossible.

Those Same Juniors to Clash Again

Parish Junior high school will meet McMinnville Junior high school on Olinger field at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon.
This is the last game for Parish before they meet the old rivals, Leslie, next week. The second team will take the field against McMinnville with five of the first string on the ineligible list. Coach Hawk hopes to develop reserve material for the Leslie game.
Much individual attention has been given the players during the last week and a good brand of football is expected.

BANKER PROVIDES STRAW VOTE FUND

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 22.—(AP)— Walter Head, Chicago and Omaha bank executive and chairman of Nebraska Power company, contributed a $4,000 fund to finance a straw vote for the purpose of ascertaining strength of possible opponents for Senator George W. Norris, it was testified today at the campaign funds hearing before Senator Gerald P. Nye.
The witness, Victor B. Smith, Omaha banker, said the pool was to determine particularly the "availability" of former Governor Samuel R. McKelvie and Gov.
Arthur J. Weaver as candidates against Norris in the republican primary.
Senator Nye who conducted a one-man hearing today after taking Smith's testimony, said:
"The evidence so far discloses that the opposition to Senator Norris has been substantially placed on the power trust, through Mr. Head's connection as chairman of the board of the Nebraska Power company."

MINE DEATH LIST INCREASES TO 248

ALSDORF, Germany, Oct. 22.
—(AP)—Seven miners were rescued alive tonight from galleries of the Anna II mine, but there was almost no hope for 25 others unaccounted for and believed separated by the explosion which yesterday at dawn destroyed the shaft. The death toll stood tonight at 248, not including the 25 men still missing.
Four of the seven miners rescued had taken refuge in a small air gallery and were severely injured. One of the four died afterward from the effects of poisonous fumes.
At the 1,200-foot level nine others were found huddled together. Six were dead and three injured.
Cause of the disaster remains mysterious. Amon experts opinion is growing and is shared by many survivors, that coal damp at least was the primary cause of the explosion.

Young Lochinvar Must Hide Face On Speed Issue

Joe Hearin came up from the south and put Young Lochinvar —he hailed from the west, though—to shame with a record of 63 miles an hour. When the traffic officers overtook him, Hearin's car was opposite Woodburn on the Pacific highway and going strong.
"Twenty dollars, cash," said Justice Brazier Small on Wednesday and Hearin paid after a short hearing.

Scout Program Meeting Topic

Mass meeting of all parents and boys interested in the Boy Scout movement in Salem and this council area has been called by Justice H. H. Belt for Friday night at the chamber of commerce at 8 o'clock. Justice Belt is president of the council executive committee, and has called the meeting for a discussion of vital issues facing the scouting program.
"Golf club manufacturers have been unable to keep up with the demand for putters for miniature golf."

A. V. WHITE, HERE SINCE 1889, DIES

A. V. White, 55, resident of Salem and West Salem since boy-hood, died at the residence here yesterday. Head salesman for the J. F. Ulrich realty company, he leaves a great number of friends here. His employer, Mr. Ulrich, last night commented particularly on his being very well-liked.
White was born in Emmetsburg, Iowa, March 11, 1875. He came to Salem with his parents in 1889 and had lived in this vicinity since, except for a short residence in Washington. His youth was spent in West Salem.
About six and one half years ago he started the White's Auto Paint shop on 805 North Liberty street. After about four years he sold the shop and entered the real estate business, first under the employ of R. D. Gray, then, two years ago, he started to work for Ulrich, where he was employed up to the time of his passing.
Surviving White are his widow, Bertha; one daughter, Mrs. M.
White; two sisters, Mrs. H. Hendrickson and Mrs. J. B. Thomas of Salem; and three brothers, Ralph, Walter and Chester, also of this city.
Funeral services are to be held Thursday at 2 p. m. from the chapel of the Clough-Barrick company, with Rev. A. P. Layton, pastor of the First Evangelical church, officiating. Interment will be in the City View cemetery.

CACHE OF FLEAGLE TREASURE SOUGHT

HOLLISTER, Mo., Oct. 22.— (AP)—The stark hills country, its foliage touched by the reds of autumn, is not yet touched with the mystery in which Jake Fleagle cloaked himself to stave off the law for two years.
"Little Jake" is dead and buried in the plains of Kansas, but the banks of Lake Taneycomo echo the whispers that have stirred the countryside since the Lamar outlaw was wounded fast at Branson a week ago.
"Did Fleagle have a cache," ask residents here, "in which he might have stored his loot?" The possibility of a hideout, somewhere in the vicinity of the cottage in which Fleagle lived as Walter Cook, has warmed the blood of potential treasure hunters. Already the sheriff has been summoned to the cottage, where fortune seekers have attempted to find riches. A truck equipped with camping outfit and digging tools has moved upon the place where 500 White Leghorn chickens for months ostensibly set down Fleagle as a poultryman.
The region is thick with caves, several of which have been commercialized for the benefit of tourists and the operators. Possibility that Fleagle maintained a second residence in one of these caverns, perhaps not visited by any one else for months or years, is another element that confronts treasure seekers.

FORD AVERS HE'S MUCH MISQUOTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(AP)— Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford returned from a European trip today.
The automobile manufacturer would make no statement nor submit to an interview concerning conditions abroad or any other subject on the ground he had been misquoted in the press since he left this country.
He said he had been misquoted in newspaper articles cabled to this country from Europe, and in other dispatches which were cabled back to Europe on the basis of those received in this country.
A secretary told reporters if they felt they must talk to Ford they could write to Dearborn, Mich., for an appointment and their request would be considered.

Blackheads Go Quick
By This Simple Method
There is a simple method that makes blackheads go as if by magic. Get two ounces of Calo-nite power from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot wet cloth, rub briskly over the affected parts, and in two minutes you will find every black-head dissolved away entirely.

HOMECOMING WILL FEATURE CARNIVAL

Friday Night Event in Gym Opens Festivities of Busy Weekend

Carnival spirit will prevail in the gymnasium of Willamette university, Friday night, at 7:30 o'clock, in the spectacular country fair presented in connection with this year's homecoming program. It is the first in a series of festivities of this nature and the others are alumni banquets and get-togethers, the Puget Sound football game, and the presentation of "The Queen's Husband," a three act comedy.
According to those who lead in the carnival, there will be over 15 booths furnished by fraternities, sororities, and organizations of the college. All through the time of the carnival will run a continuous program of musical and comedy numbers.

The Bearcat grid squad will be on display, as it were, on the platform at intervals throughout the evening.

Surprises Are Promised
The booths of the carnival will contain anything from a chorus act of several lithesome fraternity lads and a miniature golf course to refreshments of ice cream and cookies and "pink lemonade."
Several surprises are scheduled throughout the program.
Serpentine tape, confetti and balloons will be given away free to those who attend the affair.
The carnival is open to the public. It is expected that a large crowd of students, faculty, and alumni will be present. The financial profits will go to the athletic fund.
Tickets for reserved seats for "The Queen's Husband" will be on sale at the carnival. They are also on sale at Vibbert and Todd's establishment on State street between Liberty and High streets from 2 to 5 o'clock and the rest of the time at the university.

MAYES ARRAIGNED ON CHECK CHARGE

W. E. Mayes was held on $2500 bail yesterday and committed to the county jail when he failed to furnish it, after a preliminary hearing in justice court on the charge of issuing a $100 check with no account in the bank.
Mayes is said to have written the check August 28, giving it to Joe Williams, local business man.
He told Williams, according to the court complaint, that he had funds in the First National bank of Tananook, when Williams sent the check through for collection, it came back marked "no account."

By this time Mayes was out of town. He was arrested at Dallas recently for driving a car with switched license plates. He is said to have been found guilty and fined for sale of liquor not long ago.
He asked Justice Small for time to consult an attorney.

'BUGS' LIKELY TO BE FREED TODAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—(AP)— The furor aroused by the chase and capture of George "Bugs" Moran, one of Chicago's most prominent public enemies, died down today as it developed the former gang chief probably would be free again tomorrow.
Ever since the slaying of Alfred Lingie, Tribune reporter, Moran has been sought with great determination, known as a foe of Al Capone, Moran was wanted for questioning regarding the reporter's death.
Moran was taken to detective headquarters and booked on a charge of vagrancy. Moran nonchalantly denied any fear of such a charge. He was arraigned before John H. Lyle today. The judge ordered him held until 5 p. m. tomorrow, to give prosecutors time to file other charges against him if possible. If not, Moran will gain his freedom on a $10,000 bond.

LINCOLN TEACHERS RECEPTION GUESTS

Reception for Lincoln school teachers will be given at the schoolhouse from 8 to 10 o'clock this evening by the Lincoln Parent-Teachers' association. This is the second Parent-Teachers' gathering of the week, the Leslie group having held an interesting session Tuesday night.
For the reception tonight, the following program has been arranged by Mrs. A. A. Schramm: mimic solo, Edith Flindley; welcome, Wayne Greenwood; response, Dorothy Taylor, principal; vocal selections, Aldene

BRYANT SENTENCE HELD TOO SEVERE

of the case indicated that Bryant was engaged to be married to a young woman who was employed as a waitress in a coffee shop in a Corvallis hotel. Bryant alleged that he had an appointment to meet the young woman at midnight and escort her to the home of her mother.
Witness of Fight
At 11 o'clock that night Bryant went to the coffee shop where he was advised by the young woman that she had accepted a date with Dickerson. The state's evidence tended to show that Bryant went to a restaurant and secured a butcher knife which he concealed upon his person and went to a position across the street from the house where the young woman lived.
A fight between Bryant and Dickerson followed, with the result that the latter was fatally wounded.
Attorneys for Bryant advised Governor Norblad that the young woman, who was the only eyewitness to the tragedy, could not state positively who struck the first blow. Neither did she see the knife. In requesting the commutation of sentence the attorneys said that the circuit court room was crowded with college students at the trial and there were numerous demonstrations prejudicial to Bryant.

"I have felt," read the attorney's letter to Governor Norblad, "that the unexpected verdict of murder in the first degree was reached because of the unusual demonstration at the trial. It must be remembered that young Bryant is an orphan youth, his mother earned her living by taking in washing and he has no influential friends.
"The reasons of which I complain, which caused the unexpected verdict, would prevent me from securing a long petition in his behalf."

2 DIVORCE CASES ARE FILED HERE

Complaints in two divorce actions were filed with the county clerk yesterday. Gertrude E.
Street seeking release from William H. Street and O. C. Wilson asking divorce from Marjorie V.
Wilson.
The Streets were married in Salem in December, 1910. A property settlement, including care and custody of two sons, has been made out of court. She alleges that he abandoned her in January, 1920, after telling her that he no longer loved her, and has since been keeping company with other Salem women.

Mrs. Wilson has treated him in a cruel and inhuman manner since shortly after their marriage in May, 1928, says Wilson in his complaint. She has frequently told him she did not care for him and did not want to live with him, and in September, 1930, separated from him, he sets forth.
