The Beauty FOLLETT Box

Don't let anybody tell you not to overdo. Don't let anybody stuff you into the easy chair before your time. Life is activity. Middle-aged women who are on the shelves have always been there. Time is nothing but the ticking of the clock, and a healthy woman of 50 who has exercised and taken proper care of her health should have many interests. She should not be idle. When work ceases and there are no enthusiasms, that old debilitating comes along and marks up the face.

Many women who are keen about vinegar rinses believe that they brighten the color of the hair. They don't. But lemon juice in the water (with a teaspoonful of salts of tartar added) will brighten golden wool. Vinegar has a way of chasing out soap scum that the spray may not have removed. Also, it leaves the hair soft with an attractive glister.

There is no such thing as using too much oil on the complexion, except when the skin is excessively oily. The human phis is constantly subjected to the ravages of atmospheric dust, to wind and sunlight, all of which take their toll. It laps up oil with gratitude, because oil interferes with excessive desquamation and gives the epidermis a delicate, fresh, satiny feel.

The guest rooms were beautifully arranged with autumn flowers and leaves, and a lovely fruit arrangement centered the tea table to give accent to the Halloween time and approaching Thanksgiving.

Guests were received by Mrs. C. S. McElhinney, Mrs. Frederick Deckebach, Mrs. George King, Mrs. A. C. Gragg, Mrs. George Rossman, Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. David Wright and Mrs. J. W. Orr, officers and trustees of the chapter.

Musical numbers were given in the course of the afternoon by Dalbert Jepsen, violinist; Miss Helen Benner and Miss Vivian Benner, Miss Josephine Albert, Miss Elizabeth Clement.

During the first hour Mrs. Russell Catlin and Mrs. Hugh Latham of Silverton presided at the tea table and during the second hour Mrs. C. K. Spaulding and Mrs. E. C. Cross poured. Mrs. James G. Heitzel, Mrs. Ralph Cook and Mrs. L. L. Nelson assisted about the rooms. Mrs. Oscar Lapham, Mrs. W. G. Stacy, Mrs. G. S. Paxon, and Mrs. Leon Polka assisted in the serving.

G. B. S. Rolls on Floor; Demands Action in Fight

ELSTREE, Eng., Oct. 28 — (AP)—When George Bernard Shaw calls for a fight in the script of one of his plays, he wants action.

He demonstrated this personally today during the filming of his play "How S/he Lied to Her Husband." The 74-year-old Irish dramatist literally rolled about on the floors with the leading man of the film in an effort to show him how a Shavian fight should be constructed.
