

COUNCIL WOULD PROVIDE JOBS

Ways and Means Committee to Study Problem of Municipal Work

The following citizen appointments were made by the aldermen, Aldermen Vandevort, Hendricks and Johnson being absent and submitting no names to the city recorder.

Alderman Hughes, W. F. Buckner, Chris Kowitz, P. M. Gregory, W. E. Kuhn, A. W. Silliker, David O'Hara, Fred H. Paulus, O. A. Olson, F. L. Utter; Hal D. Patton, Harry M. Levy; Ellis Purvine, U. G. Holt; Watson Townsend, E. E. Millard; F. L. Wilkinson, Arthur G. Gland; Mayor T. A. Livesley, F. E. Needham.

Hal D. Patton called the council's attention to the fact that November 5, 1930, marked the end of the seventh year since he first introduced an ordinance to have the "cinder nuisance" of Salem abolished.

"I think we should have a holiday and repeal the ordinance," said Patton. He declared that property owners in South Salem were losing heavily because tenants would not live in places where cinders were so obnoxious. "Let's get the paper company to start right away on the installation of the cinder cone," said Patton.

Alderman Purvine pointed to the bond the company had furnished for the cone's installation within four months and said he thought the company had taken steps very soon to have the cone constructed.

The council adopted City Attorney Trindle's report in which he advised the citizens, who claim damages for the overflow last spring of North Mill creek because of the Summer street bridge construction, appear before the bridge committee this month and show wherein they were damaged.

Property owners said to be damaged by the overflow of the creek include F. Etheri Lau, W. F. Poorman, N. A. Eiker, Mrs. L. C. Farmer, N. C. Kafoury and H. C. Eppley.

A report made by C. P. Bishop of the city park commission showed that an average of 250 children had used the city park playground from the first of the summer. Five members of the employed staff received a total of $966 for their work and supplies furnished for the season's activities cost $227.

Bids from three local laundrymen for doing work for the fire and police departments were opened and referred to the fire and police committees.

BELLEQUE SERVICE TO BE WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for Louis Belleque, 52, who died at a local hospital Sunday afternoon, will be held Wednesday, November 5, at 9 a. m., from the St. Louis Catholic church, St. Louis.

Better known as "Gus" Belleque, the deceased, a resident of Clear Lake district, north of Salem on the River road, died as a result of a fractured skull received when he was thrown from the rear of a truck. He was assisting a move some furniture into the city.

Mr. Belleque is survived by the widow, Amelia, and the following children: Edward, Louis, Josephine, Louise and Justine, all of the Clear Lake district. The remains are in care of W. T. Rigdon and Son.

Postal Receipts Again Show Gain

Postal receipts for the month just closed at the Salem post office show a substantial gain over the same month for a year ago. With the October, 1930, figures totaling $20,391.58. A year ago the books showed but $18,292.86, which means a gain of $2,098.72 for the month of October, this year.

McNarys to Vote Then Start East

Senator and Mrs. Charles A. McNary will cast their votes at Chemawa today and with this duty done they will free to return to Washington, D. C., and the congressional sessions.

Plans as they are now will find Senator and Mrs. McNary on their way east November 6.

GUESTS AT AURORA AURORA, Nov. 3 — Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pierce and family, Mr. and Mrs. Beck and small daughter, of Salem; Robert Powers, a student of Oregon State college and Robert Leneu, a class mate, attended a family dinner Sunday at the home of Mrs. Charles Beck in observance of her birthday anniversary. Robert and his guest came up Friday to the their Mt for Oregon State, at the midnight matinee and rally and also the football game at Portland.

GUESTS AT SPRING VALLEY SPRING VALLEY, Nov. 3 — Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bates and daughters, Tressa and Edith and son Lyle of Woodburn were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKinney. The Bates are former residents of Iowa and enjoyed reviving their acquaintance with the McKinneys' mother, Mrs. M. J. Wilkinson, who came here from Woodburn, Iowa a few years ago.

"THE DOVE" EMULATES OSTRICH

Louis Taube, otherwise known as "The Dove," insists upon remaining "in the dark" when it comes to such things as "court rackets" and "vice rings," concerning which Isadore J. Kresel is doing some questioning with New York expose.

He refused to show his face to the cameraman. A court probe is now under way to determine the extent to which the alleged ring is said to carry on its extortion with unfortunate women as its victims and court officials as its allies.

MARY GARDEN AND HOWE NOW FRIENDS

AMARILLO, Tex., Nov. 3. — (AP)—Mary Garden, the operatic star, won an Amarillo audience of 3,000 tonight, an audience that included Gene Howe, newspaperman, with whom she has snatched the public prints at intervals during the past year.

At the conclusion of her concert, Howe wrote that he never said Miss Garden "couldn't sing," but merely that "she didn't sing" on the occasion of a previous visit with an operatic company, after which he scathingly criticized her.

"I also never stated that she was so old she tottered," Howe continued. "But said that either she was so fatigued or indifferent that she appeared like an old woman instead of a prima donna who ruled the operatic world."

Recently Howe invited Miss Garden to enjoy "Texas supper" at his residence, and she replied she would have "tea at his villa." Yesterday she did drink tea at the Howe residence, while most of the other guests had coffee. She termed Howe the "quickest" person she ever had met.

Mrs. Rachel Lee Called Beyond

SILVERTON, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Rachel Lee died at her home east of Woodburn Sunday after an illness of two weeks. She was 47 at the time of her death. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but are in charge of Jack and Ekman of Silvertown.

Mrs. Lee is survived by her widower, John C. Lee, one daughter, Miss Hedvige Lee, two brothers, Sven Lima and R. H. Lima, both east of Silvertown and Mrs. K. Gregerson also east of Silvertown.

Tiny Tot Has Serious Fall

HUBBARD, Nov. 3 — Walter Wilmes, one of the three-year-old twin boys of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilmes, fell the full length of the stairs, about 18 feet in the hop house near his home east of Hubbard Saturday evening.

His mother found him lying unconscious at the foot of the stairs about 10 minutes after he fell. Dr. E. P. Ebner of Hubbard was called. The little fellow was revived and what at first appeared to be a fractured skull proved not to be so serious.

Norblad to Cast Vote at Astoria

Governor Norblad left here Monday night for Portland, from where he will go to Astoria to cast his vote at today's election. He was accompanied by Mrs. Norblad.

ACCIDENT VICTIM

BROOKS, Nov. 3.—C. R. Cutlinger, who was seriously injured two weeks ago when his horse ran away, is reported to be improving slowly. Mr. Cutlinger was unloading cord wood at his home near Brooks when part of the wood rolled down upon the horse, frightening him so they ran out through the field back of his house, dragging Cutlinger several hundred yards. He suffered a broken leg, several ribs were broken, his lungs were punctured, and his back injured. He was rushed to a hospital in Salem where he has been receiving treatment.

Mr. Cutlinger has a wife and three small children, and has made his home near Brooks for several years.

Consideration would be contingent upon the approval of a proposed enabling act at tomorrow's election authorizing the legislature to provide machinery for legislative vacancies.

The special legislative session, if called, probably will be held late in November or during the first week in December.

NEW DOG LAW NOW CLAIMED BENEFIT

EUGENE. — (AP) — Fewer sheep have been killed in Oregon, and damage claims paid to owners of sheep so killed have been reduced considerably by enforcement of the 1929 dog tax law, in the opinion of W. D. Dillard, county clerk, who has completed a survey of 13 counties in the state.

The 1929 law provided for establishment of dog control districts and employment of enforcement officers. Lane county has paid $1,114 in sheep claims this year, a decrease from 1929 and 1928 when claims allowed were $2,995 and $2,002 respectively.

Douglas county has not enforced the new law, it was said, but has found that penalties provided by it have spurred more owners to seek licenses for their dogs. The county has collected $3,587 from dog licenses as compared to $256 in 1929.

Mining Company Must Pay $500, Jury's Decision

Verdict of $500 for the plaintiff was returned late yesterday by the jury which Monday heard the case of Knox against Amalgamated Mining company, tried before Judge McMahan in department one of the circuit court here. The verdict also carried interest at six per cent since June 1, 1930, until paid. The action was for money due for surveying services.

The Call Board

HOLLYWOOD Today—Lon Chaney in his picture, "The Unholy Three." Wednesday—Joseph Schildkraut in "Cock O' the Walk." Friday—Charles Bickford in "The Sea Bat." THE GRAND Today—Winnie Lightner in "Hold Everything." Wednesday—Alice Joyce in "He Knew Women." Friday—Warner Baxter in "Arizona Kid." ELSINORE Today—Amos and Andy in "Check and Double Check." Bligh's Capitol Today—Winnie Lightner in "The Life of the Party." Wednesday—Bessie Love in "Good News."

There seems to be a "comedy" entrance for the week so far as the theatre bills are concerned in Salem.

"Personally speaking" there have been far funnier and more clever shows in Salem by several laughs than Winnie Lightner in "The Life of the Party" at Bligh's Capitol and "Check and Double Check" at the Elsinore, but the audiences at both theatres were getting plenty of fun Monday afternoon.

Winnie riding a horse in a lively horse race in an attempt to save her last $200 was a riot as well as several other scenes; Charles Butterworth as Colonel Day is a character worth meeting. He does a new "character" part and it is truly amusing in a quiet sort of way—leaves one chuckling and makes one chuckle to recall him.

The plot is wound about two adventurous maid who seek fortune on borrowed finery. The complications make for some very foolish comedy.

Amos 'n' Andy drew a laugh with the first sound of their voices Monday afternoon. The picture opens with a traffic jam and upon investigation Amos and Andy are found stalled in the one and only cab of the Fresh Air taxi company. From then on the fun begins and it does

DESCHUTES JAIL'S INMATES PROTEST

Inmates of the Deschutes county jail at Bend have sent a letter to Governor Norblad urging him to conduct an investigation of the condition of the institution. It was alleged that pleadings to the sheriff, deputy sheriff and other officials in charge of the jail fell on deaf ears.

The inmates charged that the bed clothing is inadequate, that the heat and ventilation is not sufficient, and that the men are housed in a small cage without the privilege of a bath for periods ranging from a week to three months. The charge also was made that inmates of the jail were not given sufficient exercise and that medical attention is lacking.

Norblad indicated that he would refer the letter to the district attorney of Deschutes county.

Hungry, Jobless Man Hurls Rocks In Hope of Meal

ASTORIA, Ore., Nov. 3.—(AP)—An Astoria longshoreman, who gave his name as Roy E. Berg, started out with a pocketful of stones tonight to get a meal. Berg began operations in the downtown district, hurling rocks through plate glass windows of stores. By the time Captain Thorburn and Officer Skyles arrived Berg had a following of about a hundred persons who were watching his marksmanship.
