

"Nothing Barred" Wrestling Shows Here are Ruled Out

WILDCAT GETS PURSE FINALLY

McCann Claims he was not Accountable When he Used Choke Hold

Strong indications that Wednesday night's so-called wrestling bout which wound up with police and civilians rushing into the arena to prevent what looked like a first class murder, would be the last of the "nothing barred" affairs in this city, were seen Thursday.

Members of the boxing and wrestling commission were pretty well convinced that Salem had seen enough of such hybrid entertainment, and that it was time to call a halt before something really serious occurred to ruin the wrestling game for good.

At the same time the commission, which had held up Wildcat McCann's purse when he fought Wildcat Pete repeatedly with strange holds, decided to pay McCann for his evening's services, and his check was turned over to him accordingly.

The ruling barring McCann from further participation in wrestling shows here will stand. McCann said Thursday in explanation of his use of the strange hold that he didn't know what he was doing having been paralyzed from Pete's punishing headlocks so that he could neither hear nor think clearly.

McCann said Thursday in explanation of his use of the strange hold that he didn't know what he was doing having been paralyzed from Pete's punishing headlocks so that he could neither hear nor think clearly.

That fellow doesn't understand the English language," was Plant's reply when told of McCann's charges. "I certainly didn't tell him to go in there and commit murder. It was plainly printed on the cards that the strange hold was barred."

The next show at the armory will be a boxing card next Thursday night featuring Pat Dundee of Salem and Chuck Borden of Eugene. Thursday was selected instead of Wednesday because of the proximity of Armistice day.

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Eugene will have an active football week end. Friday afternoon the Freshman teams of Oregon and Washington meet in their annual battle. The Husky Babes are favored to avenge the 19 to 9 trouncing handed them by Oregon last year.

The Webfoots are expected to have all they can do in turning back U. C. L. A. Saturday. The Bruins have developed so rapidly recently that Eugene fans believe Oregon will have but slight advantage.

HAWLEY EXPRESSES THANKS FOR VOTES

In a statement issued yesterday, Congressman W. C. Hawley thanked the people of his district for their support which gave him victory in the election Tuesday. Mr. Hawley's statement follows:

"With grateful appreciation for the renewed expression of their confidence at the recent election, I wish to express to the voters of the first congressional district my sincere thanks for their support by which I am re-elected to congress. I will continue to give the interests of the people of the district and state my diligent attention—that we may continue to obtain legislation and appropriations needful for our relief and development."

Relative Seeks Information as To Ichabod Ross

Any information available about Ichabod Ross, said to have been a resident of Salem at one time, is being sought by C. E. Ross, 2913 Jackson street, Wichita, Kansas. In a letter to the Salem chamber of commerce, Ross says the whereabouts of Ichabod Ross gives him some concern.

A. N. Moores, local citizen, believes Ichabod Ross was a carpenter and shopkeeper who lived here many years ago and died in Salem.

Collegiate Sports Now Somewhat Purified Says Carnegie Survey Leader

By TED VOSBURGH

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The year that has elapsed since publication of the Carnegie foundation's famous "Bulletin 23" on college athletics has seen considerable progress in remedying abuses, particularly the recruiting and subsidizing of athletes, Dr. Howard J. Savage, principal author of the bulletin, said today.

At the same time Dr. Savage stated emphatically the foundation did not claim credit for the changes but merely noted them. While little has been heard from Dr. Savage and his associates on the subject of college athletics since the sensational results of their study were made public on October 24, 1929, they have been far from idle.

By means of letters to the presidents of institutions all over the country and personal visits to Dr. Savage to a few located in the middle west and in New England, the Carnegie foundation has been and is now engaged following up its original investigation and evaluating progress made, it was revealed.

Dr. Savage was unable to say when the results of this check up would be made public, but indicated it would not be for several months.

Nod Goes to Levinsky but Boos Chorus

By C. W. DUNKLEY

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—King Levinsky, the terrific punching Maxwell street fish peddler, whose right hand blasts have brought him into prominence as a light heavyweight in the last six months, finished up his ten round decision over Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, in the Chicago stadium tonight. The verdict was decidedly unpopular, however, with the crowd of 17,000 who paid $52,000 to witness the bout.

The fight was a slashing affair with the speedy and clever Buffalo boxer, once world's light heavyweight champion smashing a marvelous exhibition of boxing. The decision provoked the most violent demonstration of disapproval seen in Chicago since boxing was revived.

R. E. Kittredge, formerly with the Reid Murdoch plant at Salem, has been transferred to Chicago where he will act as manager of the company warehouse. The warehouse is a very large one and the transfer is in the nature of a promotion for Mr. Kittredge.

Mr. Kittredge and Mrs. Kittredge came to Salem from Boston and have made many friends during their residence here. Mrs. Kittredge and the two children, John and Mary Alice, plan to join Mr. Kittredge in Chicago about January 1.

Robert E. Shinn, formerly farm advisor for the United States National bank, who has been associated with the Reid Murdoch company since early in the summer is now in charge of the research department for the company. Although Mr. Shinn will maintain his residence in Salem his work will include research for the various plants in the northwest district.

IRON MAN WILL GO TO CHICAGO

Hornsby, Once too Busy to Look at Beacht, Pays Big for him now

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Officials of the Los Angeles baseball club said tonight the monetary consideration in the sale of Ed Beacht to the Chicago Cubs was $20,000. The team will be strengthened by seven players under the terms of the sale.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Four years ago, Rogers Hornsby all but chased Ed Beacht out of Sportsman's Park in St. Louis, when the youngster boldly announced he was a good pitcher looking for work. Today, the Cubs managed by the "Rajah" were happy to obtain him in one of the biggest deals of baseball.

Seven players and a large but unnamed amount of cash were sent to the Los Angeles club of the Pacific coast league for Beacht, now one of the stars of the minors.

Los Angeles to Get Good Men

In the deal, Catcher Johnny Schulte, infielder Eddie Farrell, Pitcher Al Shealy, and another pitcher to be announced later, will be turned over to the Angels at once while three more will be sent on option.

Beacht pitched 49 games for the Angels during his "iron man" season this year and won 26 while losing but 13. He pitched 326 innings and struck out 187 batsmen. His addition to the Cubs pitching staff is expected to make it one of the strongest in the national league as the Hornsby-managed Cubs have picked up Bob Smith of the Boston Braves, Lester Sweetland of the Phillies and Jackie May of the Cincinnati Reds since the 1930 campaign ended.

Hollywood's 2 Pin Teams Battle Again

Hollywood bowling league's promises of six teams again failed to materialize Wednesday at 9 o'clock, but the faithful Star Market and McClary's stores teams represented the community group as of the week before.

The butchers turned tables on the grocers to win three games and put both teams on the 500 mark. McClary's had won the first night of play, a week ago.

The two teams split high scoring honors, Star taking high series with 2009 and McClary's, high game with 874. Recha, playing for Star, was high individual game and series man.

Two Are Fined For Failure to Correct Lights

Use of improper lights on their cars and failure to correct them cost Ben Jones and M. E. Morley each $10 in justice court yesterday. Both men were notified about the improper lights ten days ago when a "light raid" was conducted by state traffic officers.

Candidates View SPEAKER OUTLOOK

Speaks in the election of legislators are forcing the candidate for speaker to look over their lines and see how they stand. The race has been recognized to lie between Frank Lonergan and Herbert Gordon, both from Multnomah, with the edge in favor of Lonergan. Just what the effect is going to be from the legislators losing out in the finals were Childs of Linn county, Weatherspoon of Union, Brodie of Wasco.

Local legislators who are keeping close tab on the situation do not know just how the situation will clear, but they admit that it is still a race. Marion county delegation is reported as dividing three for Lonergan and one for Gordon.

Top Quintet Blanked by Cellar Five

"Beware of the underdog" will no doubt be the motto of Oakland-Pontiac bowlers in Commercial league since Floener Electric, holder of cellar position, walked all over the first-position motorists for a win of three straight games at Winter Garden last night.

The Floener boys went one, two, three. The scores were not high, but high enough and they repeated a similar performance they put on once before this season. Whether the electricians were just "on" or the motorists were only "off" is a dangerous question to discuss. If Floener's develop a little more consistency, however, they should be leaving the cellar for someone else one of these days.

Statesman league teams play tonight, after a Halloween lay-off.

HEALTH WORK HERE IS KNOWN IN EAST

Although many of the doctors gathered at the annual convention of the American Public Health association in Fort Worth, Texas, the latter part of October, had little idea where Marion county, Oregon, is located, they know that Marion county is doing an outstanding piece of public health work. That is the word brought back by Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, county health officer, who attended the meeting, the trip being made possible through courtesy of the Commonwealth Fund of New York.

Dr. Douglas said he heard health work in Marion county mentioned favorably a number of times.

Standard milk ordinance, the inter-chamber of commerce health conservation contest, school physicians and their problems, infant and maternal hygiene, relation of private physician to public health work and scores of other subjects were discussed in the 44 sessions of the convention. The next meeting will be in Montreal.

While in Fort Worth, Dr. Douglas visited with two former heads of the public health work here: Dr. W. H. Brown, now professor of hygiene at Stanford and who read a paper at the convention; and Dr. William DeKleine, with the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C.

Quartet of Leading Grid Scorers

These pictures explain why the stars of the football profession (pictured) are the leading scorers in the country. They have been termed veritable locomotives when charging down the field towards their opponents' lines. They are Roberts, of Oregon; Macaluso, of Colgate; Baker, of North Western; and Duffield, of South Carolina.

PURPLE ELEVEN IS FAGED NEXT

Salem High Gridsters Being Hopped for Game set Armistice day

The annual steam releasing contest will be held between the Eugene and Salem high schools when the football teams from these schools meet here, November 11 on Sweetland field in a special double event football program.

Every high school has some rival school that surpasses all the others in interest and that must be defeated to make the season complete. Salem finds such a school up the river 75 miles in the capital city school. Regardless of the kind of material one team may have, just match the schools in any athletic contest and a real battle follows.

Coach "Holly" Huntington will match the red and black warriors against the purple gridsters who are coached by his older brother, Shy Huntington. Bert Kerns called the head coach and Shy Huntington and Skeet Manerud are his assistants. Some objection to Shy Huntington as a coach has been heard from various parts of the valley, but Salem fans believe that "Holly" is as good a coach as his brother Shy.

Eugene has played five games already this season and won four of them. The other went to the strong Marshfield team that swamped Medford high 28 to 6 early in October. Eugene's loss to Marshfield was a heart breaker as the score was 13 to 12 and on one try for point Eugene fans saw the ball hit the cross bar and drop back on the short side to deny them of victory.

The aggregation from the University town is expecting its hardest game when Salem is met and expects to be at full strength. In fact Eugene daily states that the E. H. S. team will be stronger for the Salem game than at any time previous this season.

Columbia to Meet O. N. S. Eleven Today

MONMOUTH, Nov. 6.—(Special)—Football team of the Monmouth Normal school will clash on Butler field here tomorrow with Columbia university (Portland) in a game which is expected to be well-contested.

Each team has been defeated but once. Columbia, however, won from Pacific university, while Pacific beat the normal school. It is claimed the teachers did not use all of the regular team in the game. Columbia's one loss was to College of Idaho.

The beginning whistle will find a number of the normal school regulars on the bench as a result of injuries received in the Chico, Calif., game there last week.

After this game O. N. S. men will be pointing for the one other game scheduled, that with Eastern Oregon normal here November 22. The easterners defeated Monmouth last year.

Ingleston Gives Word Picture of Champagne Fight

Word picture of the battle in Champagne on July 14, 1918, was given to the Lions club members yesterday noon by Corporal Robert Ingleston, signal corps photographer and member of the Rainbow division who participated in the battle. He used the story to urge recognition of the preparedness program sponsored by those who "went over."

Sergeant Walter Lansing of the state traffic force spoke briefly, urging the Lions club to join in line with other civic and service clubs, both as individuals and group, to prevent motor vehicle accidents.

Service Tilt For Charity Still Talked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—New demands sprang up today for the army to meet the navy in a post-season renewal of the service football classic for the benefit of charity.

Secretary Adams, questioned regarding the proposals, said the navy was ready to play a charity game at the end of its regular schedule if a safe field could be secured.

Speaking for the army, Major General William R. Smith, superintendent of the military academy, said it could not participate in a post season game because of the climatic conditions which might result in injury to an army player and consequent loss of time from his studies.

Adams agreed that a safe field would be needed because "frozen ground in December is not a fit surface for any game."

He explained the navy could not play until the middle of December because its regular schedule does not end until its game with the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia December 6.

Court Street in Darkness Early Thursday Night

Postoffice, county courthouse, Y. M. C. A. and other buildings along Court street between Cottage and High streets were thrown into darkness about 5:30 yesterday afternoon, when a primary fuse blew out at the power station.

For some 15 minutes occupants scrambled for matches, flashlights and candles to dispel the dark. About the time the emergency lights were blown out the power company trouble shooters replaced the fuse making it light once more.

STRIBLING OUT TO GRAB TITLE

Challenge to Schmeling is Presented to Illinois Boxing Commission

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Young Stribling, Atlanta, Ga., heavyweight, filed a challenge with the Illinois State Athletic commission today for a championship match with Max Schmeling, recognized as heavyweight champion of the world.

Stribling, through his father, "Pa" Stribling, who acts as his manager, posted a check for $2,500 and indicated his willingness to have the fight staged anywhere in the country.

Answering the report from Boston that Jack Sharkey had offered to fight Stribling, without compensation, with the receipts going to charity, "Pa" Stribling said he could not consider the offer as W. L. had signed to fight in the Chicago stadium December 12. Either Paulino Uzcudun or Tuffy Griffiths probably will be Stribling's opponent for the stadium engagement.

MUSIC FEDERATION ADMITS W. U. CLUB

Being admitted to the Oregon Federation of Music is the honor recently conferred on Willamette university Treble Clef club, women's glee group. Officers of the organization think that this group is the first collegiate glee club in Oregon to be admitted.

This move makes it possible for the organization to compete in the Federation's inter-state and intra-state contests.

Future plans for the club are headed by try-outs for the comic opera "El Bandito," to be presented December 5. The try-outs will be next week after the presentation of Willamette Minstrels, Friday night, November 7.
