Effective scenes, especially the scene of the battlefield, were an inestimable aid to the play's success. The actors showed that they had been well directed and all were equally good in their parts. The play was coached by Miss Pearl Emery, senior class adviser.

The cast was: Mr. Grey, Jack Guise; Mrs. Grey, Jessie Sims; Jack Grey, Harold Gustafson; Nellie Grey, Geita Mae Hunt; Jean, a soldier, Harold Scholer; Ruth Sherrod, a Red Cross nurse, Freda Nelson; Spirit of Liberty, Geraldine Bomany; Spirit of Chase, Melvin Watt; spirit of democracy, Norrine Hunt; spirit of peace, Mable Halvorson. BUTTER AND EGGS APPEAR WEAK STOCK MARKET HAS ARMISTICE

Oregon Potatoes now in Active Demand at Portland

PORTLAND, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Wholesale butter and egg prices remained unchanged today and continued weakness marked the trade zone for both commodities due to price shading activities on storage stock.

Conditions in the fresh fruit and vegetable trade were viewed by the government market news service as follows:

Cauliflower shipments continue liberal; however, Oregon's loadings were practically all sold last week, mostly to cash buyers temporarily located at Portland. Local shippers of the opinion that little or no price-reductions from the current 80-85c price level will be encountered.

Navel oranges declined about 50c per box, with desirable sizes now moving to retailers at about $6.25 per box.

Deschutes potatoes are in active demand here, with about 15 cars unloaded into distribution channels already this month. Yakima combination grade potatoes are in very slow demand.

Grapes are moving slowly, with a prevalence of poor to ordinary, cleanup offerings. Local lettuce is higher, and is outselling present arrivals of Walla Walla and Pasco lettuce. Seattle lettuce, usually an important factor here at this time, is absent this year.

Technical Recovery is Noted, but Part Doesn't Hold

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—An armistice today in the hammer-and-tongs selling of stocks gave the market a chance to recover its breath and part of its losses.

With a technical recovery, some of which failed to hold, prices closed 1 to 4 higher. The average advance of 2 points was the largest since October 24. It embraced virtually the entire list, with the exception of the amusement shares and some of the rails.

Although the market gave evidence that at least a temporary climax had been reached, in short selling a liquidation, its movement throughout the active session was erratic. Monday's rally carried through the opening but this advance was surrendered before noon under an attack against the motion picture stocks and two or three popular investment issues, notably American Telephone and National Biscuit.
