

Pat Dundee and Chuck Borden Head Armory Card Tonight

LOCAL BATTLE ADDS PRESTIGE

Brings Record of Victory Over Tough Boys; was Corbett Partner

FIGHT CARD TONIGHT
Main Event—Pat Dundee, 150, Salem, vs. Chuck Borden, 150, Eugene—ten rounds.
Semi Final—Bobby Ambrose, 118, Salem, vs. Jack Young, 118, Siletz—six rounds.
Buddy Ambrose, 118, Salem, vs. Guy Hickman, 118, Salem—four rounds.
Del Russell, 135, Salem, vs. Jack Jones, 125, Salem—four rounds.
Siletz Chief, 135, Siletz, vs. Norman Parks, 125, Tillamook—four rounds.
Time, 8:30 sharp. Place, Armory. Referee, Tom Louttit.

The fatted calf has returned—kill the prodigal son? Or maybe it's the other way about. Anyway Pat Dundee doesn't qualify as a prodigal son, judging from the record he brings back with him from the populous southland, and he doesn't appear to have been living on husks.

Tonight Pat will demonstrate what he has learned since leaving here a year ago, against a worthy adversary in the person of Chuck Borden, pride of Eugene.

Practically all the time he was away Dundee was sparring partner for young Corbett, and his record in battles of his own indicates that he learned things from that master of the ring art. Pat won two decisions over Tony Azevedo, who was rated good enough to meet Corbett by a decision. Jack Dempsey raised Pat's arm in token of a victory over Jack Silva, who had been saved by the bell from a knockout.

Gets Second Spot At San Francisco
 It took Dundee seven rounds to stop Joe Jordana, whereas Jack Thompson, welterweight champion, had done the job in three. One of Pat's best spots was a semi-final in a San Francisco card headed by Corbett and Alfross, the Frenchman. Pat fought Charlie White at that time. He also fought a draw with Orris Smith in Los Angeles. He defeated Lefty Cooper, who had fought Mickey Walker when he was champion.

The remainder of Pat's card holds up well in quality with the main event. Bobby Ambrose and Jack Young, who stole the last show but didn't settle their argument, are rematched in the second fight. The other Ambrose twin will meet Guy Hickman, who won local plaudits when he met Jackie Wattenberger at the Oregon theatre here a couple of years ago, and later beat Kid Savage from Albany. Del Russell will stage a comeback against Jack Jones, a southpaw. Both are National guardsmen who showed summer camp plans at camp last summer that they had the spirit and the possibilities. Siletz Chief, a new recruit from the reservation that produced Jack Young, will meet a likely lad from Tillamook, Norman Parks.

JACOB SIEGMUND ENJOYS BIRTHDAY

STAYTON, Nov. 12.—Jacob Siegmund celebrated his 98th birthday at his home on Fern Ridge, November 11 in the presence of his children and grandchildren, namely, E. G. Siegmund, wife and daughter, Garth and Judge John Siegmund, wife and son Floyd and his wife and son, Salem; William Siegmund and daughters, Salem; Andy Siegmund and wife, Gervais; L. K. Siegmund and wife, Salem; John English, wife and son, Stayton; Charles Rossiter and wife, Stayton; Henry Siegmund and family, Frank Siegmund and family, Stayton, and a grandson, J. L. Siegmund and wife also of Stayton.

All the children with the exception of Mrs. Mathilda Jones, who is in eastern Oregon were present. Mrs. Siegmund died several years ago and since that time Frank Siegmund and family have been living with the old man on the home place. Mr. Siegmund was born and married in Germany, came to the United States and lived for a time in Portland, later moving to the Fern Ridge country. He established a postoffice in his home, for the convenience of himself and neighbors. This office was named Klumb, which was Mrs. Siegmund's maiden name. He conducted this office until about 25 years ago, when the patrons were taken care of by a rural carrier. He had resided on the same farm for more than 50 years. While his health has been none too good the past few years, he enjoys visiting with relatives and old friends and is able to be up and about the house.

Kirsch Held on Liquor Charge; Posts $1000 Bail

Frank Kirsch was released from justice court late yesterday afternoon after he furnished bail for $1000 on the charge of receiving and selling intoxicating liquor. He asked for a hearing and denied the charge prior to his temporary release.

Kirsch was brought in by officers from the St. Paul district.

Salem Seeks Turkey Day Game With Commerce to Settle State Supremacy

By JIM NUTTER
 On a basis of the power displayed by the Salem high football team against Eugene and the 38 to 0 score run up in that game, the Salem team is going to meet Commerce, Portland high school champion, in the Multnomah stadium in the Thanksgiving day contest.

Salem is still undefeated this season and has displayed brilliant ball in all of its games. One negative day resulted in a tie game at Medford with the locals suffering a loss of energy from the heat in the Rogue river valley. Silvertown, Columbia prep, Corvallis and Eugene have all been moved down by the fact of charging red and black warriors.

Commerce has made a continuous march through all Portland high competitors and clinched the championship by defeating Grant 8 to 0 in the Armistice day classic of Portland. More than 15,000 people saw the game which makes it apparent that much enthusiasm will be shown when Commerce meets an outside team on turkey day.

Thanksgiving Day Is Last Chance
 No games can be played after November 27 by a ruling of the state athletic board and since the undefeated teams can not all play, Portland fans will wish to see the best outside team in the state meet the green jerseyed steno-graphers in the closing day of Oregon high school's football season.

Marshfield, Ashland, La Grande, Oregon City and Commerce are the larger schools which have not been defeated yet this season. Woodburn and perhaps many other smaller schools still have clean slates and on account of lack of competition in their class will likely finish the season without being beaten.

Marshfield is undefeated, but aside from beating Medford at the start of the season when all teams were doing that, and losing Eugene out 13 to 12, nothing extraordinary has been shown. Ashland will have its hands full beating Medford on Thanksgiving day. Oregon City and La Grande doubtless have good teams and a game between these schools would be right in order.

However the Salem high team is the logical one to meet Commerce if that school really wants

SEATS FOR BIG TILT ALL GONE

$8000 Turned Back to Grid Fans; Washington and W. S. C. Work Hard

PULLMAN, Wash., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Looks as though there'll be tur-a-flying when Cougar meets Husky at Seattle Saturday.

Washington State is paying very little attention to reports from Coach Phelan's camp that the University of Washington football squad is practicing amid the fumes of lint and bandages.

Coach Hollinsberry is believed to cherish the suspicion that Washington has been pointing for W. S. C. since goodness knows how long, while the Cougars have been too busy to sluck up plays and ancient grudges against the Huskies until lately, but they are doing a lot of that now.

SEATTLE, Nov. 12.—(AP)—"It hurts us worse than it does them," said Jesse Jackson, assistant graduate manager at the University of Washington as he milled back $3000 in refunds today to persons in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia who sought tickets to the coming Washington State-Washington football game here Saturday.

Five thousand dollars were returned last Saturday making a total of $8000 that the university has been unable to accept because of a sell-out of the 38,000 seats, including bleachers and new boxes. Two thousand standing room will be sold ten minutes after the start of the contest which will make a gathering of 40,000, the largest football crowd in the history of the Pacific northwest.

RING GOSSIP

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Jimmy London, recognized in some states as the world's heavyweight wrestling champion, defeated Rudy Dusek of Omaha in a match here tonight.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Pat McGill, Omaha, defeated John Freberg, Minneapolis, two falls out of three in a wrestling match here tonight.

Junior Highs Revamp Grid Game Dates

After much shifting and juggling, the local junior high schools have finally arranged their football schedules for the remainder of the season. Each school will meet two outside teams and will meet each other the day before Thanksgiving.

Parrish is perched on top of its football world having a clean slate and a clean goal line. This week Hauk's men will engage the Dallas high second team at Dallas Friday and next week will bump up against the "Bull-pups" at Woodburn the morning of the 22nd. The game will be played in the morning so that no one will be kept away from the Whitman game which comes that afternoon.

Leslie has lost only one game and that to the speedy Parrish men. Leslie will play Roosevelt junior high of Eugene here Saturday, November 15 and a return game here November 29. Roosevelt recently defeated Whitson's junior high school, also of Eugene, by a 26 to 7 score.

Leslie has been crippled somewhat by injuries but now things look brighter with some of the men getting back into action. Coach Gardner's player with his assistant "Buck" Winslow are working the players hard and smoothing the offense for these three important games.

CURT COMMENTS

Ralph Buerke, Oregon State quarterback, is just getting back into the game after an attack of influenza which has had him floored since the Washington State game.

Now we wonder — was it caused by the sudden draft when Ed Edwards went sailing by with that intercepted pass?

Wonder why some people go to football games. They'll watch the game ordinarily, but let a couple of midget kids start a fight, or act like they're going to, and half the crowd will go dashing for the scene. Out at Sweetland field Tuesday 80 youngsters were youngsters went dashing right across the gridiron in hopes of seeing a fight. Now the logical thing, it seems to us, is to stay away from football games and pool the money saved to hire a couple of lads to sock each other. We're for direct action.

There were 48 Willamette students at one Armistice day dance. That's 480 quality hours shot—enough to graduate three and a half borderline students who couldn't earn any for themselves. Such a waste!

And now for the annual mix between the university and the state college. Wonder if Schissler has resurrected the milking caps and the apple cores to hang on the goal posts Oregon defends?

It's a great old annual battle at that. All fight—seldom any football science.

Records indicate that the university has won 20 games, Oregon State only seven. There have been seven ties; three of them scoreless. Here's the history:

Lower Rates To Big Game November 22

Special rates of a fare and one-third have been granted by all the Pacific Greyhound stages on its lines leading into Salem from November 21 to November 22. The rates were announced yesterday by R. C. Macdonald, member of the local promotion committee for the game. Macdonald was instrumental in securing the rates from the Greyhound line officials.

Y. TO SPONSOR HOOP QUINTET

Strong Lineup is Foreseen; House League Supplants Industrial Circuit

The Salem Y. M. C. A. will enter a representative team in basketball circles this season according to a decision reached by Bob Boardman and several representative players who met at the Y last night.

The Anderson quintet which won the industrial league championship last season will form the nucleus for the team and will be known as the Anderson Y team. Anderson's Sporting Goods store will furnish suits for the team again this year and act as sponsors while the Y. M. C. A. will furnish a home floor for the team and will assist in scheduling games.

Some of the members of the team have been working out from time to time and a regular practice is slated for tonight, as the team wishes to start its games immediately. The team members have played together now for three or four years and have developed into a well organized outfit.

Emmet Kleinke, manager, announced that games are being arranged with Linfield, Albany college, Monmouth normal, Portland Y and the Multnomah club. "We're looking for games with good speedy teams," state Kleinke, and adds that all comers are challenged.

Last season the team played three or four games a week and is hoping to do the same again. The home games will be played on Tuesday as far as possible in order that the Willamette and high school games will not be in conflict with the Y team's plans.

The players who are lined up on the team now are: Marr, Nash, Heenan, Flake, Ward, Kleinke and Hageman. Others may break into the lineup later if ability warrants.

The industrial league will be supplanted by House league with some of the old league players working into the new one. Definite plans for that group will not be formed until Friday night, but Bob Boardman has indicated that four teams will be in the church league will be the next ball to start rolling and this will be done in a few weeks with perhaps 12 older teams and six teams composed of young boys.

Pin Quintets From Eugene Will be Met

Saturday at Eugene and Sunday here Salem's Bake Rite and McKay Chevrolet special inter-city competition bowling teams will begin and conclude the second of the season's home-and-home contests. The teams piling up highest pin totals in the two days of ivory-rolling will win the $100 purse.

In the first inter-city meet, here last Sunday, Capital Bedding company ended playing against G. G. Gerber, Inc., of Portland, and Bake Rite opposite Healthman Hotel, Portland, came out on the low end. Portland, 49 down, November 30 has been set as date for the second and last round of this tourney.

Survey of the automotive trades in Salem to determine whether or not there is need for evening school work for adult mechanics will be made early next week by T. T. Mackenzie, director of vocational training here.

Mackenzie states that his department expects to build up a night school program for all types of work where there is interest and demand. Already plans are under way to start a paperhangers' and painters' class.

A questionnaire to be mailed shortly to all shops in the automotive trades here in connection with the survey seeks to know how many persons are employed as journeymen, foremen, full or part time helpers in payroll jobs, including the four branches of mechanics, electricians and battery workers, welders, spray-painters, the specialists and testers and service salesmen.

The questionnaire also asks the following questions: Are good men easy to find? Can we help obtain for these jobs? Are you interested in foremanship training?

Rumor Says Nibs Slated For Discard

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Unconfirmed but persistent rumors floated about the University of California campus today that two big ten coaches—Dick Hanley of Northwestern and Bob Zuppke of Illinois—have been or will be offered the berth as head football coach of the Bears.

Regardless of everything else, campus gossip had it that Coach C. M. "Nibs" Priebe would be replaced at the end of this season. The weekly meeting of the executive committee of associated students tonight was expected to make the coach problem its principal business.

 Giants . . . . .0 3 0 .000

The pass ball league sponsored by the inter-class rivalry committee at Willamette, ended in a tie between the Alpha Psi Delta team and the Sigma Tau team which tied each other in an early game. The championship will be determined by a best two out of three playoff between the top teams. Both have made equal scores against the same teams and it looks like an interesting situation.

If the Alpha Psi men array their full strength, they will probably have an edge in the games for Andy Peterson, "Hoot" Gibson, Dwight Adams, Gus Moore and numerous other athletes are in the lineup for that team and work well together.

The Sigma Tau team also has its stars and has many fast men to match against the Alpha Psi all star aggregation.

M'KALIP WILL LEAD STATERS

Canvas Cover Placed Upon Bell Field to Assure Dry Footing

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Bell field was put to bed today to assure its best condition for the Oregon-Oregon State football game here Saturday.

Tom Turner, president of the Portland baseball club, sent the athletic department the huge canvas cover used to keep the Portland baseball park dry. The canvas covers the entire field with the exceptions of a narrow strip around the edges.

The Orangemen are nearing the peak of condition and Coach Schissler will start "tapering off" tomorrow. Only a light workout will be taken Friday. "Wild Bill" McKalip, veteran end and Oregon State's leading contender for all-coast honors, will be field captain Saturday. He is playing his last season for the staters and Saturday will be his last game at home.

Asserts Spouse Abandoned Him During Illness

She abandoned him in Hood River when he was in a serious physical condition from heart trouble, says Walter J. O'Brien in divorce complaint filed yesterday against his wife, Isabell K. O'Brien. They were married in Portland October 8, 1929.

According to information received by the plaintiff, she has kept other male company and associated with other men both publicly and privately. Upon his remonstrance, she informed him that she no longer cared for him nor wanted anything to do with him, the complaint says.

An Old Master Passes

By HARDIN BURNLEY

PRINCETON—about as battered, tattered and moth-eaten as an old tiger rug—is being spread, it would seem, for its final 1936 game next Saturday; a jungle beast reduced to the frightened ferocity of a house cat by Yale's new arrival to play with! But don't be too sure that Old Nassau's Tiger will not do considerable clawing and chewing in his most historic annual battle. Princeton always plays best against Yale especially when rated as outclassed.

And this year, the Tiger will be aroused to even a higher pitch because the Yale classic will mark the passing of Yale's famous coach, Bill Roper after a checkered career in which he produced some of the most brilliant of all important grid teams and some of the weakest. Most Princetonians hold Roper in rapt affection and they would like nothing better than to crown his coaching career with another victory over Yale.

Roper's assistant, Al Wittmer, will succeed Bill. "Witt" was a great center starring especially with Princeton's immortal 1922 "Team of Destiny" which won every game on its schedule, some of them in most dramatic fashion. This year, the Tigers floundered badly, defeats by Brown and Navy stamping the team as
