Mrs. Mike Panek Is Evening Hostess

A charming event of Saturday night was the surprise bridge party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Panek in compliment to Mrs. J. E. Blinckhorn honoring her birthday.

Full flowers in dainty arrangement gave a pretty background for the card tables where bridge was in play at three tables. Winning scores were held by J. E. Blinckhorn and Mrs. Harry Scott. Just before the supper hour Mrs. Blinckhorn was presented with remembrances of the day. Following this Mrs. Panek was assisted in serving by Mrs. Glen Hoeman.

Guests in compliment to Mrs. Blinckhorn were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blinckhorn, Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Douglas, Dr. and Mrs. Estil Brunk, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hoeman and J. E. Blinckhorn.

W. B. A. Plan for Homecoming Meet

The Salem unit of Woman's Benefit association will celebrate the thirty-ninth annual homecoming of the organization of the association in the Woman's clubhouse Thursday night with a "homecoming" banquet at 6 o'clock with Mrs. Elizabeth Waters as toastmistress and Mrs. Norma Terwilliger, president presiding. Mrs. Terwilliger will give the address of welcome and Mrs. Julia V. Ward will respond. Guests of honor will be Mrs. Julia V. Ward, state field director, and Mrs. Beatrice Little, field department director, both of Portland.

The birthdays of those folk who celebrate in September, October, and November will be observed with special ceremony. Every member is asked to be present for this banquet and if unable to attend they are asked to send special messages.

It is expected that there will be at least 50 covers placed for this banquet followed with a special program. There is being made a request that all members bring or send some article of clothing or food that may be given to a needy family at Thanksgiving time. A thank offering on the part of the members of the organization.

Sigma Nu Delphian Group Meets

An interesting meeting was that for which the Sigma Nu chapter of the Delphian society met Monday afternoon at the city library and discussed and heard papers on the general topic of "Helenizing the Ancient World." Mrs. George Roseman gave a comprehensive resume of the work of the last meeting and then the topics of the day were given.

Those presenting topics were Mrs. Ralph Cooley, Mrs. Ed Wood, Mrs. Charles McElhinney who read a paper for Mrs. Ray Hartman, Mrs. E. T. Pierce, Mrs. F. D. Breckenridge, and Mrs. L. L. Nelson. Mrs. James Heltzel contributed interest to the program with a review of the recent book, "The Immortal Marriage."

Hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. F. A. Erickson, Mrs. J. E. Tryon and Mrs. A. J. Busick. Miss Rose Adelman was given a surprise party Wednesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adelman, on the occasion of her birthday.

The evening was spent in playing games and cards. At a late hour refreshments were served. Prizes for "500" were won by Florence and Fred Porschweiler, and consolations went to Clara Eder and Hugh Cutforth. The invited guests were Misses Florence Porschweiler, Genevieve Smith, Monica Crecentis and Yvette Berning, Marie Ann Schaefer, Maxine Phillips, Dorothy Welsh, Clara Eder and Mary Adelman; Messrs. Hugh Cutforth, Albert Prantl, Fred Porschweiler, Lester and Stanley Delardis, Lyman Eder, John, Frank, Anton and Lawrence Adelman, and the honor guest, Miss Rose Adelman.

Woodburn—A delightful surprise party was given to Mrs. Alfred Ashland at her home on Young street Friday afternoon. A pink and blue color scheme prevailed. Dainty refreshments were served at five o'clock.

Those present were Mrs. Allen Slabaugh of Molalla; Mrs. Joe Weaver and Mrs. Ivan Emmert of Hubbard; Mrs. Stanley Brown, Mrs. J. N. Haughey, Mrs. Henry Mathelson, Mrs. Jim Faulkner, Mrs. Earl Mathelson, Mrs. Gus Block, Mrs. H. Ashland, Mrs. Hans Mathelson, Mrs. Neis Ashland, Miss Myrtle Ashland, Gladys Haughey, Alice Block and Lilla Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen of Salem were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boomer at Cutler City. Others in the party at the Boomer cottage were Miss Vivian Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. George Levy and daughter, and Roy Downins, all of Portland. The men of the party enjoyed duck hunting and the women golfed and played cards.

Mrs. G. W. Laffar will be hostess to Chapter G of the P. E. O. Sisterhood at her home 1190 South Liberty street, Thursday afternoon. A paper will be presented by Mrs. A. E. Robins concerning the Lewis and Clark expedition. This meeting will be a regular business and professional meeting.

Woodburn—Miss Gladys Haughey was honored by a group of friends Thursday when they met at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Haughey, to give her a delightful kitchen shower. Refreshments were served by the hostess late in the afternoon.

SOCIETY MEETS AT CORVALLIS

The Fall rally of the Evangelical Missionary Ladies Have Rally at Corvallis

The Fall rally of the Evangelical Missionary Ladies society, of the Salem district, was held in the Corvallis Evangelical church on Thursday, November 13. The meeting was called to order at 8:45 with Mrs. C. G. Gardner of Dallas, presiding. A short devotional was conducted by Mrs. George Corvair of Sweet Home. Then followed a pearl medal oratorical contest under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Fisher of Salem. Mrs. Vivian Miller Corbett of Willamette Boulevard church, Portland, was the winner.

Rev. Chester P. Gates, superintendent of the Salem district, then gave an informal talk on "My Trip to General Conference."

A luncheon was served by the ladies of the Corvallis society during the noon recess. The afternoon session was presided over by Mrs. Bonnie Smith of Lewisville. Mrs. G. N. Thompson of Salem opened with a devotional service in which she quoted John 3:16 and pointed out all the greatest things to be found in this well loved verse. Her principle thought was "God, the greatest lover the world has ever known."

An attendance contest was staged for this rally and a roll call was taken at this time. Eighty eight members responded to this call. Lewisville was awarded the banner for having the largest per cent of members present.

Each society president responded with a scripture verse, the initial letters of which spelled "Missionary Societies."

Mrs. W. A. Gellatly of Corvallis told of her recent trip to South Bend, Indiana, as a delegate from the Oregon societies where she attended the quadrennial convention of the Evangelical Woman's Missionary societies. She brought a most inspiring report of missionary conditions the world over, as well as the delights of the convention.

The next rally will be held in Salem during the first week in March.

Rev. Paul Petticoard, pastor of the Corvallis Episcopal church, led the singing, and delighted his hearer with "Open the Gates of the Temple" as a trombone solo. Other musical numbers were furnished by a ladies' quartet from Corvallis and Nonmouth.

Brush College Helpers meeting has been indefinitely postponed because of conflict with date of meeting of Polk county rural women's club conference in Balston Thursday.

Members of Hal Hibbard auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans will be the guests of Mrs. A. T. Woolpert for a social afternoon Friday.

Another case of diphtheria, that of Miss Lillian Scott, Leslie Junior high school teacher, was discovered Monday morning through cultures made at the county health unit laboratory. Immediately upon discovery of the case in the school room, Miss Elizabeth Freeman, county health nurse serving that school, started giving cultures to all children and teacher who had come in contact with Miss Scott.

The teacher's case is mild, but every precaution is being taken to prevent an epidemic in the school. Miss Scott has been isolated and given the anti-toxin treatment.

Immunization Begins As result of appearance of the case in the school, a concentrated immunization program which was scheduled to start after Thanksgiving may be started at Leslie school this week. This program, worked out last week, aimed not only to reduce number of potential diphtheria patients, but to give Salem a higher rating in the health conservation contest which ends January 1. It will be worked out through special clinic schedule in addition to those already being held in the schools and health centers.

At these special clinics to be held in the school buildings, preschool children as well as school children may attend. It is believed it will be much easier for mothers to take children to the school building in the neighborhood than to bring them downtown to the health center.

Dr. Douglas urges greater attendance at the regular Saturday morning immunization clinic.

ASHLAND REALTY IS ACTIVE SAYS VINING

Ashland has had more real estate activity in the last six weeks than at any one period in the four years preceding it, reported Irving T. Vining, active member of the Ashland chamber and one-time president of the state chamber, when a visitor at the Lions club meeting here yesterday.

Vining says that southern Oregon and northern California towns have taken as their special project the development of a harbor at Crescent City, Calif. When this is deepened and used in with the back country by an adequate road it will do much to reduce freight rates to the interior cities, Vining feels.
