Line bucks and two passes, one a 26-yard gain from Kitzmiller to Fletcher, and the other an 18-yard toss, Kitzmiller to Bailey, brought the ball to the Gaels' 23-yard line. St. Mary's was penalized five yards for offside and from the 18-yard mark, Kitzmiller passed to Fletcher who caught the ball over the goal line but dropped it before the play was officially ruled dead. Many observers thought Fletcher had held the ball sufficiently long but officials called the play back. The Gaels took possession on their own 20-yard line and pro-their own 20-yard line and proceeded to reel off a 76-yard thrust that ended four yards from Oregon's goal, where the visitors finally held for downs.

On the losing side, Kitzmiller, nevertheless stood out above the field, far outshining Mack Stennett, St. Mary's halfback star.
