Mrs. N. Williams Entertains Club Members

MRS. NEWELL WILLIAMS entertained for an attractive party for the members of the G. K. P. club at her home Friday night. The first part of the evening was taken up with plans for the Christmas dinner and social evening given in compliment to the husband of the members December 22. A social evening followed the business session and the evening closed with a late supper.

Mrs. Thomas Roen assisted Mrs. Williams in serving. The table was arranged with flowers and attractive Colonial favors and place cards.

Covers were placed for Mrs. A. Mathews of Roseburg, a special guest, and Mrs. Will Foster, Mrs. Harry Harms, Mrs. Katherine Middleton, Mrs. K. H. Picketts, Mrs. B. E. Sisson, Mrs. W. C. Picketts, Mrs. J. F. Elliott, Mrs. J. B. Taylor, Mrs. Thomas Roen, Mrs. T. A. Rafferty, Mrs. Walter Nelson, and Mrs. Williams.

Y. W. C. A. Board Members to be Voted Upon

As has been the custom for the past several years there will be a membership tea given in the afternoon hours of December 8 at the Y. W. C. A. social rooms during the time that the poles are open and voting is being conducted for the election of the seven board members which come up for consideration each year.

There are 27 prominent Salem women on the Y. W. C. A. board and out of this number each year seven either have to be re-elected or vacancies filled by ballot. The poles will be open until 8 o'clock.

Those who are up for reelection are Mrs. C. S. Hamilton, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. T. A. McBride, Miss Dorothea Steuflor, Mrs. J. H. Lauterman and Mrs. L. H. McMahon. It is to be expected that in addition to these Mrs. Claude Glen, Mrs. George Hug, Mrs. Ray L. Farmer, and Dr. Mary Purvine.

Kingwood — Mrs. Charles Adams entertained Thursday with a dinner which honored both the Thanksgiving season and the birthday of her husband. Circling the table which was graced by a lighted birthday cake were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarke, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilcox and children, Bernice, Margaret and Raymond of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grabenhorst and sons, Charles, Junior and Henry, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, all of Pringles; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams and children, Ammon and Shirley Rose and Mrs. Margaret Adams, all of Mountain View. The only absent members of the Adams family were Mrs. Nathan Sumpter of Marshfield, and Clarence Adams, who is in Indianapolis. During the day a round robin letter was written to Clarence by all present.

Silverton — Mrs. Theodore Opund of Portland was a recent hostess at a bridge luncheon when she entertained for her former Silverton bridge club. Silverton guests were Mrs. W. L. McGinnis, Mrs. Earl J. Adams, Mrs. H. R. Irish, Mrs. H. B. Latham, Mrs. R. B. Duncan, Mrs. L. H. Fischer, Mrs. E. R. Ekman and Mrs. J. C. Currie.

Camp Fire Girls Begin Year's Activities

The year for the Salem Camp Fire Girls will be begun with a grand party given by the guardians Friday evening at the Presbyterian church on Chemeketa street. In addition to the girls who are already members of the Camp Fire any other girl who wishes to join is invited to this party.

Mrs. Dione Smith has become the guardian for the Lomestakin group which will meet at her home on 1245 North Commercial street, each Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Klahanes group have re-organized for the year work and meet at the home of Mrs. W. J. Minkiewicz, 1420 Court street. This group are working on a play which they expect to give soon and the proceeds from which they hope to pay their Camp Fire dues. Doris Hiday is president; Peggy Minkiewicz, vice president; Jean Annunen, treasurer; Phyllis Kerth, secretary; Sadonia Kerth, scribe; Marlon Hultenberg, song leader; and Ila Mills chairman of social committee.

The Otakuye Camp Fire girls held a business meeting at the home of their guardian, Mrs. L. Stout, Monday. They elected the following officers; Eleanor Chadwick, president; Maxine Stout, vice president; Louise Brown, secretary and scribe; Maxine Schomaker, herald; Helen Moullet treasurer.

The group made plans for a Christmas party and for gifts. The party will be at the home of Louise Brown.

Helen Moullet, who is assistant guardian for the Englewood Camp Fire group, lead the council meeting here Monday night. Three new members were initiated, Betty Lou Burdette, Marjorie DeWalker, and Elizabeth Grant. Mrs. John E. Douglas has been made guardian of this group.

Next MacDowell Concert Promises to be Lovely Musical

ONE of the most interesting programs of the year for music lovers of Salem will be the presentation of the Portland string quartet which will make its appearance under the sponsorship of the Salem MacDowell club as its December program in connection with the MacDowell chorus, December 9 in Waller hall, 8:30 o'clock.

Each man in the quartet occupies the first chair in his section in the Portland symphony orchestra. Edouard Hurliman, violinist, is also concert master of the symphony. Other members of the quartet are Ted Bacon, Helmer Huse, and Ferenze Steiner.

A brief history of each will be of interest: Edouard Hurliman was an honor graduate of the master violin class in the State conservatory at Prague in 1925. He coached Chamber music with the symphony orchestra of Bern, Switzerland; Josef Hoffman, of the Bohemian quartet, at Prague; and Bram Ederling, of the Gursenich quartet, Cologne. He played solo concerts in Europe and the United States, and is entering his fourth year as concert master of the Portland symphony orchestra.

Mr. Bacon began playing in concerts when he was eight years old, and his experience includes the various phases of theatre, radio, opera, symphony and Chamber music concerts. He joined the Portland symphony orchestra in 1916, and is now the solo violinist of that organization. The rare old viola which belonged to the late Mose Christensen of Portland will be used by Mr. Bacon.

Ferenze Steiner acquired his musical foundation in his native city of Budapest, Hungary. He has traveled extensively in Europe and America as concert artist, and is known as a composer and organizer of musical groups.

Mr. Steiner was one of the founders of the Detroit Chamber Music society. He has been connected with the Detroit and Los Angeles Symphony orchestras; as instructor with the New York Conservatory of Music, and as director of the cello department with the Detroit Institute of Musical Art. Mr. Steiner is solo cellist with the Portland symphony orchestra for the 1929-31 season.

One of the numbers to be played by the quartet will be Beethoven's quartet in C minor with four movements, Allegro; Scherzo; Minuetto; and Allegro. This magnificent piece of music will be heard to its best advantage with the grace and beauty of chamber music instruments, one of the choirs this year will be the largest it has been for years. Its groups of numbers will include such composers as Bach, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Grieg; one special number will be the "Lift Thine Eyes" from the oratorio "Elijah."

Christmas music will be outstanding in the numbers given by the chorus which is being directed this year by Lena Belle Tartar. One song in particular, "Chorus of Angel Voices" is one of the loveliest things to be presented in any chorus work in Salem for some time. This will be sung by a double quartet and is sung in four parts. Part of the chorus numbers will have pipe organ accompaniments. Miss Ruth Bedford was the accompanist for the chorus numbers.

Michael Penick, cellist, who so completely won the hearts of Salem with his first appearance with the Nea Kah Nel quartet here in November, and who is artist cellist with the Portland symphony orchestra, will draw a group of interested Salem folk to Portland Wednesday when he appears in individual concert in the Studio Theatre.

Several Salem folk are planning on attending the first concert of the season for the Junior symphony orchestra in Portland Saturday night. The program is being given in the auditorium. In view of the fact that Salem has its own junior symphony now there is increased interest in just what such an organization can accomplish. Portland and Salem are the only two Oregon cities having such an organization. There will also be a Salem group attending the Monday night concert of the Portland symphony in its third concert of the year.

Aumsville — Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Alzman and Leonard Lee attended the wedding of E. Warren Empey and Anna Mae Alzman at Junction City Thursday. The ceremony was read at the home of Mr. Empey's parents by Rev. W. B. Empey, father of the groom.

Alta Duerest was bridesmaid and Wilson Empey was best man. Lamerne Empey a sister, played the wedding march. A wedding dinner was served immediately after the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Empey left for a short trip. They will return to Aumsville Monday.

Mr. Empey is a member of the high school faculty and athletic coach.

Rickreall — Miss Bulah Burch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Burch became the bride of Joseph L. West in a quiet wedding in Portland Wednesday at the home of Rev. Charles Deich who read the simple wedding service. Both Mr. and Mrs. West have made their home in Rickreall for the past several years. Mrs. West graduated from the Rickreall high school. The marriage came as a complete surprise to the friends of the young people.

Rickreall — Mrs. A. R. Cadie entertained 29 young friends of her small daughter's Tuesday afternoon at the Cadie home in compliment to the ninth birthday of the small girl, Miss Dorothy Cadie. Games were played until the tea hour. Mrs. Cadie was assisted in entertaining and serving by Mrs. Charles Ross, Mrs. J. O. Price and Mrs. Fred Auer.

Mrs. Bertha Junk Darby sponsored a recital in her residence studio Saturday night. The first number included a group of duets, and rhythm orchestra numbers. Then followed a group of solo numbers given by John Margensen, Fred Marussen, Alice Barkus, Jeanette Maxwell, Eleanor Wagner, Helen Nigler, and Irma Leach. Mrs. Charles Maxwell sang a group of numbers accompanied by Miss Jeanette Maxwell.

Winter is in the Air

FURS are sneaked close these days even in balmy Oregon, and there is a sparkle and zest in the atmosphere that has its reaction in the social life of the city. Many a calculating eye is drawn down a wee bit on these frosty nights whenever a particularly good hill comes in view where a bit of snow and ice would transform indoor fun into wildly exhilarating sport of skating, coasting, and ice skating.

It was said by the wise old Indians encountered by summer excursionist this past season, that well might the Oregonians look to their fur ear pieces this winter and be prepared for more snow and ice than had been seen for many a long year. So again with the zest of the nipping, frosty air, the words come back and plans begin to take shadowy form for real outdoor life in not so many days from now.

But in the meantime there is plenty to occupy society for one of its popular mads will be wed within the fortnight when Miss Catherine Huxley becomes the bride of Gordon Hadley in an impressive and exclusive wedding at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hartley at 8 o'clock the night of December 11. Miss Rovena Eyre and Miss Charlotte Zieher will be her bridesmaids; wee Joan Adolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Adolph will be flower girl and Richard Stolts will be best man. Rev. Grover C. Birchett of the First Presbyterian church will read the service.

In compliment to Miss Hartley several dinners and social functions are being planned for this week. In addition to these there will be clubs, and Mrs. T. A. Roberts and Mrs. Curtis Gross will entertain with a smart luncheon Wednesday at the Cross home.

Then there is the vast amount of Christmas shopping that has to begin at once and which will require much time out from social activities. Yes, until the snow flies there is much to be done to keep the hours busy.

Christmas Plans Will Occupy Girl Reserves

There is a smell of the Christmas tree in the air that the Girl Reserves breathe these days for they are planning a number of gifts and parties and entertainments for that holiday of holidays.

The high school Reserves will entertain this year for the grade school Reserves. Plans for this party will be made at the Wednesday meeting at the high school. They are also working on Christmas blocks for the printing of holiday cards. Miss Ruth Braut assisted by Miss Win Gallagher is instructing in this work.

The supper table was attractively arranged with bronze chrysanthemums, rose tapers in silver candelabra.

At this time Mrs. Godfrey was presented with a beautiful birthday cake in compliment to her birthday anniversary. Miss Emma Godfrey presented the cake. The supper table was attractively arranged with bronze chrysanthemums, rose tapers in silver candelabra.

Guests for this affair were Lena Cherrington, Emma Murphy, Alice Koolidge, Ida Banzock, Jessie Darby, Ida B. Godfrey, Monnie Hauser, Fay Wright, Rosalie Linfoot, Marie McCall, Mabel Minto, Ida L. Niles, Addie Mae Petters, Florence Reeves, Estelle Smith, Lotta Smith, Eleanor Steiner, Josephine Vass, Elizabeth Laws, Alice Meyers, Jennie Emmons, and the Misses Minnie Moeller and Gusie Niles.

The Leslie Junior high school league of Jason Lee church had a bicycle picnic Saturday. Eighteen boys and girls enjoyed outdoor games and a bonfire lunch in the Whitehead woods. Those attending were Misses Loretta Pro, Betty Fonke, Lavina Deppen, Dorothy Miller, Betty Fargo, Ruth Yocom, Catherine Boyle, Clarabelle Burnside, Messrs. Gordon Black, Ithel Adlard, Jim Hill, Loyce Drake, Myron Foulke, Wm. Loppelie, Glen Luther, Ed Timmon and the group advisor, Mrs. Gordon Black.

Silverton — Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Heater were hosts for Thanksgiving dinner at their home in the Union Hill district Thursday. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Adlyott and children, Teddy and Betty, of Garibaldi; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Neal and Mr. James Neal of Silverton; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Heater, Douglas Heater, Maurice Heater, Rollin Heater and Patricia Heater of Union Hill, and Miss Clara Heater of Salem.

Liberty — Mrs. Kate Holder entertained with a family dinner, Thanksgiving. Those who enjoyed the day were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Holder, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Holder and children, Frank, Alvin and Katherine, Mrs. Helen Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Trask and children, Niel, Nancy Lee and Helen of Lyons, and Miss May Shaver and Mrs. Holder.

Miss Elizabeth Levy motored to Portland Saturday afternoon where she assisted Mrs. Winifred Wilson Quinlan who was hostess for a charming tea for Miss Hazel Ritchey, national president of the Sigma Alpha Iota musical sorority. Miss Levy is a member of this sorority, as is Miss Ruth Bedford of Salem.
