

Healthiest 4-H Boy and Girl Come From Large Families

CHAMPS GIVEN CAREFUL TEST

9 Hours Sleep, Vegetables In Diet, Recommended By two Winners

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 2.—(AP)—Seven brought luck to Marian E. Syndergaard, 15, Grundy county, Iowa, and William Ross Bodenhamer, 20, Johnson county, Missouri, who today were pronounced the healthiest boy and girl competing in the national health contest sponsored by the Boys-Girls 4-H club congress.

Marian, blonde and blue-eyed, is the seventh child in a family of eight, and William, a ruddy-faced brown-haired lad, is the youngest of seven children.

Along with 15 boys and 20 girls, all state health champions, William and Marian were weighed, measured and said "Ah-h" to a corps of doctors, dentists and nurses. Out of a hundred possible points, Marian scored 99.7, the highest mark ever made in the nine years the club has held contests. William's points totaled 98.7.

Teeth Slightly Askew

A slight inflammation on one eyelid and a tiny defect in teeth alignment kept Marian from scoring perfect. William also had a dental defect and his legs were slightly bowed—otherwise the examiners could find nothing amiss.

Marian tipped the scales at 138 with a height of 5 feet 4 inches, and William weighed 151 pounds. He is 5 feet 6 1/2 inches tall.

Both said they followed fundamentals of health found in primer hygiene books—nine hours sleep, plenty of vegetables and at least a quart of milk daily. Tea and coffee are out. Nether smoke. Both eat spinach often and like it. Candy and desserts are all right in their place, they said—and that place is after meals.

Both are farm products. Marian still lives on a farm, where she takes a hand with the chores, but William's folks have recently moved into Warrensburg, where he is attending the Central Missouri State Teachers college. Next year Marian plans to enter a college and her interests lie in domestic science.

NEW LOCATION FOR COURT IS PROBABLE

Hayden may Take Adolph Building; Flat Salary Effective January

New offices for the justice court may be secured in the Adolph building on State street over the White House restaurant, Millard Hayden, justice to take office in January, indicated to the county court this week. The selection of the place where the court shall be held rests with the county court officials but they indicated, informally, that the new location would be suitable.

Adolph, owner of the building, has offered to provide a larger court room than the one now in use in the Gray building and also to provide a separate office for the justice. The rental allowed by the court will be $50 a month.

Hayden, discussing plans for the court, said Monday he would like $75 a month for the employment of a bookkeeper and secretary.

Heretofore the justice court fees have gone to the justice in criminal actions. When fees were not paid in the latter cases, the county court reimbursed the justice. Estimates of the moneys received annually by the justice have ranged from $550 to $900.

Under the new law effective in January, the justice is to receive a flat salary of $2400 together with the expenses of conducting the court. It is expected that the fees from the office will make it more than self-supporting.

GILBERT GUILD, 80, STRICKEN SUNDAY

Independence Citizen Born in Michigan; had Been Farmer for Years

INDEPENDENCE, Dec. 2.—Gilbert L. Guild, 80, died at the family home in this city on Sunday morning.

Mr. Guild was born in Ottaway county, Michigan, in 1850, and came to Oregon about 20 years ago.

He lived on a farm five miles south of here for 10 years. He moved to Independence in 1920, where he had lived since.

His wife died four years ago and since that time he has lived with his sons.

He is survived by two sons, Valere and Stewart, and a step-daughter, Mrs. Stella of Riddle; two sisters and several grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, December 2, at 2 P. M., from the Keeney funeral home, Dr. Charles Dunsmore officiating.

Interment will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

PAPER MILL GOES ON AT SURE PACE

No slowdown in production at the Oregon Pulp and Paper company has been experienced in recent months, reports Karl W. Heinlein, office manager, although Heinlein says orders have slowed up measurably and inventories are slightly on the increase.

Within the last few weeks a few more men have been taken on at the mill, principally for construction work as some repair jobs and remodeling are under way.

Heinlein was not sure yesterday whether there would be any Christmas shutdown. In some years several days have been taken on at the holiday season but the time has been made up later by Sunday work.

Football and Turkey Don't Mix, is Story

PERRYDALE, Dec. 2.—Chester Gilliam is going around on crutches these days as a result of a game of football played at home on Thanksgiving. Friends were visiting at the Gilliam home and with the Nedrow boys were having a game after dinner. In a wild scramble to get the ball, Chester became so entangled he ran into an old wire fence spraining his ankle and pulling some ligaments loose in his ankle also.

ON DISPLAY TODAY

The Ford Victoria

A NEW FORD BODY TYPE OF DISTINCTIVE BEAUTY

TODAY, a new Ford body type of distinctive beauty is on display by Ford dealers in this city and throughout the United States. It is called the Victoria and is distinguished by many features of design, comfort and convenience. It marks a new degree of value in a low-price car.

The striking lines of the Ford Victoria are especially apparent in the graceful sweep of the straighter, lower top, the slanting windshield and the curving bustle back, with the spare wheel set at a conforming angle. There is a suggestion of continental design also in the shape and size of the side windows and the intimate four-passenger seating arrangement.

As you open the door and step within the car you will be impressed by the dignity and richness of its appointments. Many details of finish reflect the mode and manner of a custom-built automobile.

The deeply cushioned seats are carefully tailored and upholstered in luxurious mohair or Bedford cord, optional with the purchaser. Both of the individual front seats have form-fitting backs and fold forward. The rear seat is low and comfortable, with side arm rests that contribute to easy riding. Satin-finish hardware gives a quiet touch of brightness.
