Many Enrolled—The University of Oregon extension classes in Salem enrolled 32 persons during the present term and recorded the second best record in any term since the classes were started here, according to W. G. Beattie, director, who was in Salem Thursday. Attendance this fall has kept up remarkably well. The courses now given will continue during the winter term, beginning January 5, and an additional course in current economic problems will be given in demand is sufficient. The classes meet in the senior high school building.

Buy Stamps Early—Postmaster John Farrar is sending out advice to persons to purchase stamps now, before the Christmas mail rush begins. In another week or 10 days business at the stamp window will be so heavy that persons wishing just a few stamps will be required to stand in line along with those who are mailing out packages. However, if the few-stamp purchaser will buy early, much time will be saved.

STATED MEETING: Friday night, Dec. 5, 1939. Election of officers, 7:30 p. m.; homecoming program and banquet, 9 p. m. Salem lodge No. 4, A. F. & A. M.

Car's Crash—The car driven by Herman Struts, route 4, crashed into the rear of that driven by Mrs. Warren B. Baker, Salem, near the intersection of Liberty and Chemeketa streets, Thursday at 2:45 o'clock, as Mrs. Baker was backing out from the curb. Mrs. Baker claims that the other driver didn't stop until he had gone over 50 feet; Struts says that he wasn't going over 15 miles an hour. The fire carrier and parts of the body frame of the Baker car were bent. The accident was reported by Struts and Warren B. Baker to police department records.

Answer Amended—Amended answer and cross complaint has been filed by Anna and Bertha Luthy, defendants in suit brought by Claude A. Johnson over an alleyway in block 29 of the Yew Park addition to Salem. The defendants inherited the south half of the block from Margarita and Peter Luthy, and they claim the present suit is holding up administration of the estate and depreciated value of the premises. Johnson claims that the alley is not in the proper location according to the plat, and the defendants claim it is in the center of the block designated in the plat.

Bradfield-Nelson Injured—Agnes Bradfield, 340 South 14th street, and Darrol Nelson, an employee of the Schaefer Drug store, suffer from broken bones and lacerations as a result of the car in which they were riding crashing into a pole along the Silverton highway, about nine miles east of Salem, Wednesday night. Cuts about the face and forehead as well as a fracture in the bone in the upper forearm are sustained by Miss Bradfield. Nelson's collarbone was broken and he was cut about the face. A giving way of the steering apparatus of their car caused the crash.
