

MUCH WEALTH IN POLK CO.

Radio Listeners Hear of Diversity in Program of Dallas Chamber

DALLAS, Dec. 17.—The following article was part of the radio program of the Dallas station KOAC, Wednesday evening, December 17, describing the various resources and products of Polk county. It was given by Mrs. Charles N. Bilyeu, secretary of the chamber of commerce in Dallas.

"In the past 25 years 46,000 acres of timber has been cut over in Polk county. There now remains of virgin and second growth timber, 185,000 acres with an assessed valuation of $1,200,000. Many small mills are operated, but the largest single plant at the present time is that of the Willamette Valley Lumber company, in Dallas, with an annual payroll of $750,000 and 430 men employed. Pulp chips, pulp cans, lath, shingles and hog fuel are shipped in addition to lumber.

"If you have ever had occasion to observe a tall four legged machine dodging around a mill yard, picking up and quickly transporting a huge pile of lumber, it is a hydraulic lumber carrier, invented and manufactured by Carl Gerlinger of the Dallas Machine and Locomotive works, having a world market. All types of work is turned out by this plant, having a payroll of $90,000 annually.

Prune Industry Important

"Another important industry results from the 10,000 acres of bearing prune trees in Polk county which normally produce 15,000,000 pounds of fruit. The dried prunes are processed in the three packing plants located in Dallas, giving employment for some three months of the year to many persons at a cost of $60,000. Much of the fruit is exported to foreign markets, while some for the domestic trade is put up in boxes of several sizes and cellophane wrapped packages.

"Dallas has become known as the little city with the big payroll, averaging $1,250,000 annually. This has not been affected by conditions during the past year."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kurre and at a late hour the guests departed, wishing Miss Myrtle many happy returns.

COME INTO THE KITCHEN

By ELLA M. LEHR

Come, now—don't you wish you were a kid again—back in the days when Santa Claus was your incentive to wash your neck and ears; and Christmas meant the front parlor closed up for a week, mysterious whisperings among the grown-ups, sly vain peeks into the keyhole; discipline relaxed, bedtime hours extended? And at last—Christmas morning! You hadn't meant to go to sleep—but you did! And sneaking downstairs in warm flannel "unmentionables," you found—well—a new world!

After all, isn't Christmas based on memories still tucked away in a corner of your heart, so near asbestos coated?—Christmas—the new red freight train, a doll with blondish curly hair. (She said "Mama" when punched gingerly in the solar plexus).—Christmas dinner at grandmother's when you tried to taste everything even to the last bite, and finally gave in, defeated and groaning, but happy?

Try Christmas at home this year if you have to rent a home for the day! For a souring heart we give you the old-fashioned Christmas!

Now after we're relieved our minds of that grievance against unintelligible menus of French-
