McCann Meets Washington Champion Wrestler at Armory Tues. Night

Salem fans will again see "Wildcat" McCann in action when he meets Thor Jensen, Washington state champion of the light heavyweight division at the Armory Tuesday night.

Matchmaker Harry Plant has set the match up one night so that it would not interfere with Christmas eve activities. After the holidays the regular schedule will be resumed alternating boxing and wrestling cards every Wednesday night. Plant has had none but the best of wrestlers here this fall and intends to continue arranging top notch cards. Heavyweight wrestlers may appear here occasionally during the winter to add variety. The light heavyweight grapplers are however faster and generally put on better matches.

Tuesday's main event will combine all the strength of the big wrestlers and all the speed of the small ones. McCann is one of the strongest light heavyweights in the northwest and depends on his strength and speed to carry him through his matches. Even more remarkable than his strength is his amazing recouperative power. In his ill starred match with "Wildcat" Pete here this fall he did the unheard of thing by coming out of the airplane spin and picking Pete up to hurl him down for a fall with a body slam.

Regardless of how tired Mc-Cann is at the end of one fall, he always comes back into the ring for the next session apparently as fresh as at the start of the match. When things look worst for Mc-Cann it is time for the opponent to be on guard for it is then that the sturdy "Wildcat" claws his Thor Jensen is one of the hardiest wrestlers in the northwest and has had hundreds of matchers all over the United States. Jensen is the only person who has taken two falls in succession from "Wildcat" Pete. A large portion of his matches have been against men who are 15 or 20 pounds heavier than himself. He never lays off but keeps meeting them constantly and will consider it all in a day's work to meet McCann. However he does not include "being defeated" with his plan of a day's work, as Mc-Cann will learn Tuesday night at the Armory.

By JIM NUTTER Paul Ackerman and Walt Erickson have brought fame to Salem and to Willamette university, being named by the all-American board of football as "deserving of special mention."

The all-American board of and Christy Walsh, voted to give Ackerman special mention with the centers and Erickson special mention with the halfbacks, at the annual meeting of the board. Cards of merit will be sent to Ackerman and Erickson by the 72-72, were the others. board. In line with a policy adopted at the last annual meeting, the board named 11 players for the All-American team without selecting a second or third eleven as do most selectors, but gave honorable mention to othtwo Willamette grid stars who brought national honor to their This is the first time such an honor has been bestowed on any Willamette man or any man in the northwest conference.

Ackerman and Erickson were two of the most dependable and outstanding players on the "Bearcat" squad. Paul Ackerman has completed four years of varsity service for Willamette and has played regular center during the four seasons. In high school his record was mediocre. He did not play football until his senior year and then was not any unusual star. Since he entered college he has worked hard at football and has so improved his game that he has become one of the most dependable players in the Coach "Spec" Keene is justly proud of Ackerman for he is an example of what can be accomplished by hard work. Ackerman not only snaps the ball to the backs perfectly, but is also a good man on opening holes in the opposing forward wall. Few yards were made through the center of the "Bearcat's" line while Ackerman held the center position, Of even more value to the team was his work at diagnosing opponents plays and playing roving center.
