

COURT UPHELDS GARBAGE DEAL

Eugene City all Right in Limiting Handling of Debris, Opinion

The state supreme court yesterday handed down an opinion affirming Judge G. F. Skipworth of the Lane county circuit court in a suit brought by H. M. Elliott and J. B. Johansen to restrain officials of the city of Eugene from arresting them for violation of what is known as the Eugene garbage ordinance. The lower court held for the municipality.

The records show that on April 8, 1928, the Eugene city council enacted an ordinance under which the garbage of the municipality was to be handled by a responsible contractor. Acting under authority of this ordinance, the contract for handling the city's garbage was awarded to Bray Brothers, for a period of three years.

Subsequent to the execution of the contract between the city of Eugene and Bray Brothers, and the posting of a bond by the contractors, Elliott and Johansen attempted to engage in the business of handling garbage in competition with the contractors named by the municipality. Threats to arrest Elliott and Johansen followed.

Other opinions handed down by the supreme court today follow:

Continental Guaranty corporation vs. Levi Christmas, respondent, and Victor Marden, et al, appellants; appeal from Wasco county; suit to recover money. Opinion by Justice Rossmann. Judge Fred W. Wilson reversed.

H. M. Elliott and J. B. Johansen, appellants, vs. City of Eugene; appeal from Lane county; suit to restrain defendants from arresting plaintiffs for violation of garbage ordinance. Opinion by Justice Rossmann. Judge G. F. Skipworth with the city.

N. Miller, appellant, vs. City of Woodburn; appeal from Marion county; suit to enjoin city from emptying sewerage into creek. Opinion by Justice Belt. Judge L. H. McMahan affirmed.

Etta May McCredie vs. W. W. McCredie and Hugh McCredie, appellants, and Peninsula National bank, defendant; appeal from Multnomah county; suit to recover possession of bonds. Opinion by Justice Kelly. Decree of Judge Louis P. Hewitt modified as to time of delivery. Otherwise affirmed.

Sophia Egli vs. R. L. Hutton, appellant, and America Sutherland and James Sutherland, defendants; appeal from Harney county; suit to recover damages. Opinion by Justice Kelly. Judge W. W. Wood affirmed.

R. B. Hollopeter vs. C. W. Palm, appellant; appeal from Jackson county; petition for rehearing denied. Opinion by Justice Kelly.

HEROIC BROTHERS

Scores of coast guardsmen, ranchers and fishermen last week were making an intensive search of the shores of Tomales bay and the adjacent Pacific for the bodies of nine persons drowned when their small fishing launch was stalled and capsized in a fast outgoing tide. Although signal fires had been displayed through the night along the shores near Dillon beach, none of the fatal accident, no trace of the five women nor four men could be found. Photo shows (left) Grant Gray and Armond Gray, who were injured in the rescue work.

Salvation Army Friends Of War-Time Will Never Forget Its Great Help

By ENSIGN WILLIAMS
'Twas the night before Christmas—somewhere in France. The furies of nature were aroused, and it was a miserable night. The wind howled and the rain came down in smashing torrents.

He Approaches Hesitantly
The line had now thinned down and hesitantly he approached. "What's the matter, soldier," one of the girls asked, "aren't you hungry?"

Arriving at his dugout he fell like a log, and as he fell he slept. Christmas morning! But there were no shepherds minding their flocks. Christmas morning and man, made in the likeness of God, was at each other's throat fighting the battles of war.

What's that! Was it imagination or did he really smell that breakfast?

Making his way out into the trench he saw his buddies lined up with happy, expectant faces, and right there "some where in France" the impossible had happened. Back of an old smoking oil stove stood two red-faced, bright eyed and helmeted girls—yes, honest-to-goodness girls, frying ham and eggs as fast as it was humanly possible.

WALTER LYNCH OUT ON NORBLAD PARDON

Governor Points out That Men he Robbed are Helping Convict

Governor Norblad yesterday issued a conditional pardon to Walter Lynch, who was serving a 20 year term in the Oregon state penitentiary for assault and robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon. Lynch held up and robbed the Charles Berg store in Portland on two occasions, and later attempted to rob the Troy Laundry. He was arrested in connection with the latter robbery. Lynch was received at the penitentiary January 18, 1928.

"In granting a conditional pardon to Lynch I have taken into consideration all of the extenuating circumstances," read a statement issued by Governor Norblad. "The records show that he robbed the C. F. Berg store twice and also the Charles Berg store in Portland on two occasions, and later attempted to rob the Troy Laundry. He was arrested in connection with the latter robbery. Lynch was received at the penitentiary January 18, 1928."

"I have talked with the young man personally, and I am convinced that he has learned a most valuable lesson. It is a mighty fine thing when such high type business men as Charles Berg, J. C. English, Percy Oliver, C. F. Wright, Alex. Mc Oliver and Charles Gram take a real interest in their fellow man who has met misfortune, and are willing to forgive and extend a helping hand."

Governor Norblad announced today that no Christmas pardons would be issued this year.

Children Get Gifts From G. R. Triangles

The 14 children and young people at the state tuberculosis hospital were made happy yesterday afternoon when Santa Claus, in the form of representative of the Girl Reserves of Salem, visited and left a package for each. The girls had previously ascertained names and ages of the children at the hospital, so every gift was recipient and bore the name of the recipient.

Each Girl Reserve triangle in the city took care of one of the patients. The presentation was made by Mrs. Elizabeth Gailher, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and president of four of the triangles: Mary Elizabeth Kells, Natalie Neer, Maxine Murphy and Ruth Myers.

The Girl Reserves have made an annual custom of sending cheer to the tuberculosis hospital young folk.

Elizabeth Scott is Given First Award in Ad Club's Illumination Competition

Grand prize in the annual outdoor Christmas decoration contest was this year awarded to the home of Elizabeth Scott at 1360 South High for its especially effective use of lighting effects and expression of the Christmas spirit. The illumination contest is sponsored here yearly by the Salem Ad club, and gathers more and more interest.

This year the judges, Dorothy Pearce, Dean F. W. Erickson and E. C. Bushnell, inspected 85 residences which had been entered in the contest. Competition was in two divisions: yard and entrance.

The prizes, of which there were two in each division, were electrical appliances.
