

McCann and Jensen Wrestle to Draw but Thrill Crowds

WILDCAT GETS FIRST TUMBLE

Olympian Trims Claws Close; Vangler Holds Axman Even Terms

The fans of wrestling were treated to two good fast matches at the armory last night. So far it seems impossible to cage "Wildcat" McCann of Salem, but Thor Jensen showed them how it was possible to trim a wildcat's claws. Jensen is from Olympia, Washington.

The bout was characterized by fast and great holds, kicks and bars. A great deal of time was hanging on to the canvas amused the crowd.

McCann won the first fall with a straight arm scissors in one hour and nine and one-half minutes, Jensen having shown him what educated foot work could do. Jensen took the second fall in 30 minutes with a series of short arm scissors that paralyzed McCann for the remainder of the match.

The fray ended with both men flat on the mat only too glad to shake hands, even though they be enemies.

In the preliminary match Sammy Vangler, well known to fight fans, held Pete Axman of Portland to a draw. Vangler seemed in poor shape or else this boy from the big town had a bag of new tricks to show him.

CAPITAL BEDDING FURNISHES UPSET

Capital Bedding company bowlers put feathers in their caps last night by winning two games from the strong McKay Chevrolet pin team, 885,894,922 to 857, 945, 912. Bake Rite Bakery won three straight from Elks club, 386, 887, 987 to 839, 849, 869 and Willamette Valley Transfer took two out of three from Winter Garden, 822, 922, 908 to 805, 770, 921.

Winter Garden did much better than this outfit has done for several weeks. In the first game the house men gave the Transfer a run for its money and in the last the Garden rolled up a 921 game, a high game for any team. It was needed to beat Willamette Valley's 908.

Henry Barr stole the spotlight from his team captain, George Allen, by pouncing out two 236 games and a series of 454 pins. Kantola, who plays every day, was the only man to beat Barr's games and that by only two points, and in only one game.

Elks Pinmen Get Sweet Revenge On Oregon City

Bolling over with revenge for a past defeat, Elks No. 336, Salem bowling team, mowed down enough pins and 26 to spare to beat the Oregon City Elks here in a total pins match here Monday night.

Score by games was Salem 882, 934, 831, total 2673; Oregon City 870, 914, 889, total 2673. This defeat of the out-of-towners in a measure makes up for a loss which the locals

Two Masterly Macs

By HARDIN BURNLEY

TWO more of the vast "Mac" clan loom high indeed in sport realms as the current year nears its conclusion. Joseph V. McCarthy, newly appointed manager of the New York Yankees, is busily engaged in planning for the 1931 baseball season; while Capt. John McEwan is still being congratulated for the marked success of his Holy Cross football team.

"Joe" McCarthy was named to succeed "Bob" Shawkey as pilot of the Yanks soon after the Chicago Cubs appointed Rogers Hornsby to succeed "Mac." The latter took charge of "Wrigley's Wrecks" in the Fall of 1927 after they'd finished last in the National League. In 1928 and 1929, the Cubs were fourth; in 1928, they were third, and in 1929 they won the pennant but lost the World Series to the Athletics when a combination of the sun, "Hack" Wilson's eyes, and pitching blow-ups ruined their efforts. Last year, the Cubs finished second. Then "Mac" was dropped because, as Owner Wrigley expressed it, "we want to win a World Series." Soon afterwards, the Yankees secured "Joe" and he's now tackling the problem of rebuilding a great team that seemed to be disintegrating last season.

Capt. McEwan won his title at West Point where he was a star gridster. Later he helped coach the Army and finally followed the same pursuit on the Pacific Coast. This year, he took charge at Holy Cross. The Purple lost to Fordham, 6-0, and Brown, 13-0; they beat Rutgers, 32-20; Harvard, 27-0, and wound up with a win over Boston College, 7-0.

Of course, that decisive Harvard victory was the season's high spot. McEwan's men clicked that day like Notre Dame did against Southern California. Before the season ended, Capt. McEwan was offered, and accepted, a three-year contract from Holy Cross.

The Crusaders, by the way, seem to be about the only formidable team in the East that does not even pretend to use the so-called "Notre Dame system." Incidentally, the only noteworthy team that does employ that system well is Notre Dame.

San Francisco, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Barton Koch, ex Baylor, and Tom Beckson, ex California, guards selected on many all-American teams, were elected today as co-captains of the all-star west eleven which meets the east team in the annual charity game here Saturday.

The workmen went through a long workout at Berkeley under the direction of Coach Dana X. Bible, of Nebraska, and Percy Loefer, of the San Francisco Olympic club. Both coaches said they were pleased with the performance of the squad and named tentative starting line-up: Tom Beckson, California; and Van Bibber, Northwestern, ends; Van Bibber, Wisconsin, tackles; Woodworth, Northwestern, and Doyle, Colgate, guards; Silano, Fordham, center; Hart, Colgate, and Bruce, Northwestern, halves; and Macaluso, Colgate, fullback.

At Palo Alto, where the eastern eleven went through the paces, co-coaches Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, and Andy Kerr, of Colgate, expressed concern over the condition of Van Bibber, star Purdue tackle. Van Bibber suffered a leg injury, and was not in uniform today.

Hanley and Kerr selected the following tentative starting line-up: Tom Beckson, California; and Van Bibber, Northwestern, ends; Van Bibber, Wisconsin, tackles; Woodworth, Northwestern, and Doyle, Colgate, guards; Silano, Fordham, center; Hart, Colgate, and Bruce, Northwestern, halves; and Macaluso, Colgate, fullback.

The manager of McEwan's team felt fine and did not realize he was 68. "I don't feel that old," he said. "I get tired earlier than I used to, but that is all."

Youngsters No Match for The Alumni in Initial Tilt

Salem high dropped its opening basketball game of the season to the alumni by a 24 to 16 score at the high school gymnasium last night.

The Salem high offense could not get started the first half and only one field goal and three foul shots were made. Meanwhile the alumni scored 12 points with Olinger and Drager each potting long shots and Adams working in crimples. The alumni displayed remarkable ability at guarding and the high school found it difficult to penetrate the defense.

The second half was closer with the high school team working better but with both sides missing many short shots. Adams, Ashby and Heenan have been playing all season on other teams and were in good shape and capable of carrying the attack while Drager and Olinger played the center of the floor and passed to them.

In the second half Sanford did some nice guarding, keeping many short shots from materializing as well as doing some nice offensive work. Sigmond showed well on offense and led the high school scoring with five points. Several chances to score in the second half were lost when hook passes went astray.

Adams was high point man of the game with seven points. Ashby played a nice game for the alumni showing speed and good passing ability. Drager sank another long snout in the second half and scored a short shot. Lyons, Kelly and Shaffer each played long enough to score.

MONMOUTH TAKES CHEMAWA IN EASY

The Chemawa Indians basketball five struck a snag last night when their second start of the season they were humbled by Monmouth, 35 to 22.

The Redskins were unable to get away with their usual fast breaking game and were held to a 22-to-7 score at the half. Monmouth had little difficulty in finding the basket and looped them in from anywhere near the center of the court.

In the second half the Redmen became a little more accustomed to the small court and fared better in passing and hitting the basket.

Vivette, with 10 points to his credit, led the Indians, while Hockema of Monmouth led his team with 10 points. Chemawa, though defeated, held the Monmouth team to the best score so far this season. Out of half a dozen starts, and with a veteran team, Monmouth has come out on top with overwhelming scores.

Lineups:
Chemawa	Monmouth
Vivette 10.....F.....13	Hockema
Dog Eagle 4.....F.....5	Johnson
Hillfield 4.....C.....6	Santos
Miller 4.....G.....9	Good

Ingram Says He Won't Take Post Vacated by Price

BALTIMORE, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Bill Ingram plans to remain as coach of the Navy football team.

The Sun today received a telegram from the service school head football coach, sent from his home at Jeffersonville, Ind., in which he denied he was negotiating with the University of California to replace Coach "Nibs" Price.

Eddie Loos Leads Field Of Golfers

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Eddie Loos, professional of Pasadena and Chicago, led the field for the first 18 holes of the qualifying round in the second annual Agua Caliente $25,000 open golf championship here today. Loos had a 71, just even par for the course from the first tee.

The score was par and away a standout in the field of 87 professionals and amateurs who teed off in the first half of the qualifying round. Not another golfer equalled par or even came near it except Dewey Longworth of Oakland. Starting late and avoiding the high wind which wrecked scores of the early starters, Longworth came in with a 72, one stroke over par, for second place just about dusk.

Loos played under the early morning conditions which were the worst of the day, a high wind sweeping down from the upper reaches of the Tia Juana river valley to stem the efforts of most of the field. The wind and the mental hazard of the new ball combined to send most of the scores skyrocketing, indicating that a total of about 165 for the 96 holes would make the cherished circle of 50 which was admitted to the Agua Caliente $25,000 open tournament January 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Stayton Defeats Jefferson High In Opening Game

Stayton high defeated Jefferson high 43 to 16 in the opening game of the Santiam valley league played at Stayton Monday night.

Engelston of Stayton was high point man and with Thomas, Shay and Leslie to help him, a good scoring machine was formed. Accurate passing and fast breaking featured the game. Jefferson showed possibilities of developing a strong team, but suffered from a lack of practice. The game was fast and clean and a large crowd attended. George E. Cadwell of Salem was referee.

YULE SPIRIT CALLS BATTLE

Wordy Encounter Over Sharkey Postponed Until After Holidays

By EDWARD J. NEIL
NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The big show down among the New York State Athletic commission and wits was scheduled by accident or design until the mellowing influences of the Christmas season have gotten in their deadly work.

Peace and good will toward man ruled the offices of the New York State Athletic commission where the duel of words and wits was scheduled by doughty old William Muldoon, James A. Farley and General John Phelan on one side and Joseph Russell, Jacob manager of Joe Schmeling, on the other. But the battle that involves the Teuton's standing as heavy-weight champion, and his naive attitude toward a commission lays for a title defense against Jack Sharkey never took place.

There seems to be a general softening of the flinty attitude of the commission toward Schmeling, and Schmeling toward the commission. The flinty fathers have agreed that Doc Maczie must fulfill next June the promise he made of a return match with Sharkey.

The commission has ruled that Sharkey does not need to qualify for the match by winning his way through a qualification tournament involving the sensational southerner, Young Stribling, and the gawky Gauch of the Argentine, Victorio Campolo, although promoters insist that without this "build up" a match between Sharkey and Schmeling would be about the only formidable event in the landing contentions in June.

It seems likely that compromises on both sides will bring the title duel to New York, however, Jacobs, under suspension by the commission as a result of the sabbotaging of Arthur Bue-low, Schmeling's original manager, will tell flinty fathers that his gladiator is willing to fight the title duel in California.

Before the season ended, Capt. McEwan was offered, and accepted, a three-year contract from Holy Cross. The Crusaders, by the way, seem to be about the only formidable team in the East that does not even pretend to use the so-called "Notre Dame system." Incidentally, the only noteworthy team that does employ that system well is Notre Dame.

CAPTAINS CHOSEN FOR CHARITY GAME

San Francisco, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Barton Koch, ex Baylor, and Tom Beckson, ex California, guards selected on many all-American teams, were elected today as co-captains of the all-star west eleven which meets the east team in the annual charity game here Saturday.

Connie Mack On Birthday Plays Santa

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Connie Mack, entering the 69th year of his colorful career, spent his birthday on the job.

Other baseball managers may be off taking life easy during the Yuletide season and players may be attending the meetings of the stove league, but Connie Mack is busy with the future.

Mack was discovered today all alone in his town office autographing baseballs—Christmas presents to crippled children.

On his desk was a pile of balls and scattered about were piles of telegrams and letters, all wishing him well. Frequently there was a ring of the telephone bell, and then: "Oh, fine, thank you very much—merry Christmas to you."

The manager of McEwan's team felt fine and did not realize he was 68. "I don't feel that old," he said. "I get tired earlier than I used to, but that is all."

Half Million to Relief in Army Navy Football

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Army-Navy football game at the Yankee Stadium December 13 earned upwards of half a million dollars for unemployment relief, an auditors report revealed today.

GRAMSON TO REACH CAL

Washington State Ready For big New Year Tournament at Pasadena

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Alabama's crimson tide poured into southern California late today and though darkness was fast setting in, Coach Wallace Wade whistles his football squad to Patterson field for a brief workout for the New Year game with Washington State.

These southern gentlemen and the accompanying party which departed at Alhambra, near here, were given a rousing reception both by Washington State officials and Washingtonians.

Fresh from a season of victorious grid struggles, but a bit weary of the long cross-country jaunt, the giant Alabama players radiated confidence. They are here for a third tournament of roses game and see no reason why the record of one victory and a tie should not be improved January 1.

Meanwhile, Coach Orin "Babe" Hollingbery dashed out early to get a workout for his Washington State squad at Tournament park, satisfied with the way his team was rounding into top form.

When appraised of the fact that Coach Wade is talking of using Freddie Sington as a guard both on the offense and defense Coach Hollingbery smiled in a quizzical sort of way.

"Let him," he said. "I'll wager he doesn't get away under punts like he did against Georgia. He'll stop him in the line."

As for ends, there are a quartet of Cougars, about on a par. John Hurley, brother of George, George Hill, Sam Hansen and guards, none of whom are under 175 pounds.

Mackell is a placement kicking artist. Since the northwesterners arrived yesterday, their Cougar mascot, "Butch" Mosker, has been in a goodly mood in his cage in the Huntington hotel. Washington State followers say this is an ill omen for the boys from Alabama, and efforts are being made to get a consignment of Alabama stock for the sleek coated mountain cat.

London's Fog Lifts; Shows Active City

LONDON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Old man weather crammed copious draughts of fresh air down upon London today, dissipating the fog which has caused thirteen deaths and played havoc with business and people generally throughout southern England for a week.

The climax of the dense, evil-smelling pall that mixed itself with swirling smoke and soot was reached yesterday at noon, and last night it began swishing away. By noon today transportation systems had snapped back on schedules twisted and halted by the fog.

The list of those dead directly attributed to the fog unofficially numbered 13, including four who drowned when they walked off the banks of streams hidden by the cloud.

The most telling blow delivered by the haze to the Christmas life of London was the almost complete paralysis of thousands of tons of overseas mail for Americans and others who are spending the holidays in England, as well as mail from foreign ports for residents. Heretofore measures are being resorted to by the postal authorities.

Creamery Heads To Gather Here

CORVALLIS, Ore., Dec. 23.—(AP)—F. M. Brandt, president, has called a meeting of the Oregon Creamery Operators' association to be held in Salem December 30. The report of the committee working on the proposed compulsory cream grading law will be heard and discussed.

Illinois Mentor Denies Rumors Of New Position

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Bob Zuppke, football coach at the University of Illinois for the past 18 years, today brushed aside rumors that he would resign to take up his work in other football fields by announcing he would not leave Illinois under any consideration.

Zuppke's name had been linked with reports that he had been planning to accept coaching jobs at either California or Pennsylvania.
