Coming to Portland to celebrate New Year's Eve were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carson and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. McEllan.

Pattern

There's something unusually appealing about this simple little model for a dainty little miss. Perhaps it is the clever styling of the cape collar, or it may be the addition of the narrow ruffling around collar and pocket. Whatever it is, your small girl will adore it, and it is very easy to make, too.

Pattern 1945 is most attractive made of lawn, voile, crepe de chine or tulle. A white or pastel ground, printed with small colorful motifs, might be trimmed with ruffling of the same fabric, with ribbon, or with dainty lace.

May be obtained only in sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 requires 2 1/2 yards of 16-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model. Our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given. Send five cents in coin (no stamps) or stamps for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

Our new fall and winter fashion book containing stylish models for adults and children and an excellent assortment of transfer patterns and stamped novelties is now ready. Price fifteen cents. Book with pattern 55 cents. Address all mail and orders to Statesman Printing Department, Room 1718 street, New York City.

Englewood Girls Honor Mothers

The Englewood Girl Reserves had an enjoyable afternoon on Tuesday of this week, when they entertained with an informal tea in the club rooms of the Y. W. C. A. In compliment to their mothers.

Miss Elizabeth Galleher, Y. W. C. A. secretary, and Miss Florence Marshall, group advisor, received the guests.

An interesting program was given which included a short talk on "Girl Reserve Work," by Mrs. Galleher, after which a group of musical and dramatic numbers were given by the following members of the organization: The Misses Mable Maquire, Phyllis Gardner, Phyllis Ackerman, Ellen Ackerman, Dorothy Jayes, Ruth Alice Grant, and Dorothy Dunkin. Girl Reserve songs and Christmas carols were sung at the close of the afternoon.

Smart Dinner at Jones' Rural Home

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Jones were interesting hosts and New Year's eve, in their attractive suburban home, when they entertained a group of their friends with a cleverly appointed dinner. An artistic centerpiece of red apples in red celophane surrounded by holly, flanked by tall red tapas, gave a most pleasing effect, where covers were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Linn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bonesteele, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Poorman, Dr. and Mrs. William B. Mott, Mrs. Velma Farmer, Albert Egan, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Jones.

Wisteria Club Dances At New Year's Party

One of the interesting dancing groups of the city, the Wisteria club, held its annual New Year's party dance Wednesday evening, with a large number of members and specially invited guests attending. Novel features were presented each guest which added to the fun late in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ellis were in charge of the event, which was preceded by several informal dinners and followed by some interesting late suppers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stimpson, accompanied by Mrs. Stimpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Ross, motored to Portland Wednesday evening to celebrate the New Year's holiday with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Sellars motored to Portland Wednesday evening to spend New Year's day in Portland with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy V. Smith motored to Albany to spend New Year's eve with friends.

Smart Dinner at Pierce Home for Mrs. Powers

In compliment to her sister, Mrs. Aureol Powers of Astoria, Mrs. Edgar Pierce entertained with a smart dinner in her home Tuesday evening. Christmas decorations of holly, greens and mistletoe, combined with an attractive and colorful centerpiece of red carnations flanked by red tapas in great silver holders, made an attractive setting. Covers were marked for the honor guest, Mrs. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sadler and Walter Grimm, all of Astoria, Mr. and Mrs. Blund Spear of Astoria, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Poorman, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Becke, Dr. and Mrs. William Mott, Mrs. Velma Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendricks, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Edwards and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pierce.

Five tables of bridge were in play during the evening with high score awards being presented to Mrs. Kirk and Mrs. Spear, while Mrs. Sadler and Dr. Mott took the second prizes. A guest prize was given to Mrs. Powers by the hostess.

Wilma Ruby Bride of Howard Richards

Woodburn—The wedding of Miss Wilma Ruby Trullinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Trullinger, and Mr. Howard Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Richards, both of Woodburn, was held Friday, at four o'clock at the home of the groom's aunt, Mrs. I. W. Boye, of Woodburn.

The bride wore a simple afternoon dress of celestial blue and eggplant, with a white and carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums with maiden-hair fern. Miss Evelyn Hadsell, of Portland, the bridesmaid, wore blue crepe de chine, and also carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. Ralph Richards, brother of the groom acted as best man. Miss Alma Trullinger, sister of the bride, played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the bride party entered the room and proceeded to the altar where the happy ceremony was read by Rev. W. N. Coffey of St. Helens, Oregon.

Immediately preceding the ceremony, Miss Laura Boye, cousin of the groom, sang, "Oh Promise Me." During the reception given by the bride's parents, which followed, Miss Lois Trullinger, cousin of the bride sang, "I Love You Truly." Assisting at the reception were the groom's sisters, the Misses Edith and Agnes Richards, and Mrs. Matilda Richards, also Miss Alma Trullinger.

Soon after the reception the happy couple left for Seattle where Mr. Richards is in business. Mr. and Mrs. Richards are both graduates of Woodburn high school and both attend the Pacific college for a short time. They are both well known and liked in Woodburn and will be missed by their many friends.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Trullinger and family; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Richards and family; Mr. and Mrs. W. Boye and daughter, Laura, and Rev. and Mrs. E. I. Harrington of Woodburn. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richards of Bridgeport, Wash., Miss Evelyn Hadsell, Portland; Rev. and Mrs. W. N. Coffey, St. Helens; Oregon; and Mrs. Frank Trullinger of McMinnville, Mrs. Ada Rainey and son, Leroy and Mrs. Ethel Payne and son Robert of Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Trullinger, Lois and James Thulinger of Oregon, and Mr. Charles Gould of Ballston.

The wedding was held at Mrs. Boye's home because of the serious illness of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Olive Lewis.

Golden Hour Club Dines at Siewert Home

"The Golden Hour club" was enjoyably entertained New Year's eve by Mrs. A. Siewert with a delightful dinner, followed by an evening of cards and a "watch night party." Christmas decorations of holly, poinsettias and mistletoe were combined prettily throughout the Siewert home. Those bidden to enjoy the evening were, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sisson, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abrams, Professor and Mrs. Roy Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sprague and their house guest, Mrs. A. L. Graham of Portland, sister of Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Helsey and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Siewert.

A guest of distinction during the evening was Miss Hammer, house guest at the home of Dr. J. Ray and Mrs. Pemberton, who is a first cousin of President Hoover.

Evening of Bridge at Standish Home

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Standish were interesting hosts when they entertained with three tables of bridge in their home last Tuesday evening. Potted plants were effectively used for the decorations, which added to the pleasure of the guests. Those enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Froelichsen, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Scott, Mrs. E. A. Donnelly, Mrs. Bert Smith, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Standish. Honors at cards were given to Mrs. William Ross and Joe Williams.

Bishop Home Scene of Luncheon Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bishop was the scene of a prettily appointed one o'clock luncheon Wednesday when they entertained honoring relatives in Salem for the holidays. The table was attractively decorated in poinsettias, holly and mistletoe, in keeping with the Yuletide season. Covers were marked for Mrs. Carl Roberts and daughter Miss Imogene Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts, Miss Elizabeth Roberts, all of Portland, Mrs. L. W. Starr of Brownsville, Charles Kay home for the Christmas season from Culver Military school, Culver, Indiana, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bishop. The Portland visitors returned to their homes Wednesday evening.

1000 Farmers Attend; Creamery Reports Record Year

MT. ANGEL, Dec. 31.—From three counties, patron of the Mt. Angel creamery gathered here Tuesday for the largest patrons' meeting in its history. Approximately 1000 farmers were fed at the big banquet held in the basement of the St. Mary's school building. Mt. Angel business men acted as waiters.

The butter production this year was 1,667,010 pounds, according to the annual business summary made by the manager, Frank Hettwer. This is the first time in the history of the creamery that butter production passed the million pound mark. Besides this 218,200 pounds were manufactured.

Speakers included O. M. Plummer, manager of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition; J. D. Mickle, state dairy and food commissioner; R. J. Berning, president of the creamery, and Frank Hettwer, manager.

TEARING DOWN OLD WAREHOUSE

TURNER, Dec. 31.—The Oregon Great and Flour company of Turner are having an old warehouse torn down that they have owned for some time at Shaw. Plans had been made before destruction of their mill by fire, three weeks ago, that the building would be razed and brought to their Turner property.

Willett Jesse of Eugene Bible school returned the last of the year to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jesse, who are supervisor and matron of the Turner boys' home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bear and sons, Kenneth and Willard, and their daughter, Mrs. R. E. Stewart, and son, Quentin who are on a visit from Minnesota to Crawfordville Sunday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bear.

Turner school opened Monday morning with about the usual attendance. Miss Louisa Skipper, high school student of the Pleasant Point district, will be unable to re-enter school for some time, having had an appendix operation last week.

A watch night service is planned for Wednesday evening, to be held at the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. M. A. Groves of Ford Memorial church of West Salem, who is preaching the evening sermon each night during the week, will preach at the usual hour with a social service following. Rev. W. S. Burgoyne, will have charge of the midnight service. All welcome.

CANCER IS FATAL TO WOODBURN MAN

WOODBURN, Dec. 31.—William Johnson, a farmer who has lived a few miles west of Woodburn for many years, died of a cancer operation in the Salem general hospital early Tuesday morning. The death of Mr. Johnson comes as the culmination of a long spell of ill health he has suffered for about five years. He was born on a farm about two and a half miles west of Woodburn 59 years ago and has lived in that district practically ever since.

JOE KING GOING TO STANFORD ANYWAY

Joe King, who finished high school last June but whose credits were withheld until late in the summer months because he criticized school officials before the student body, will leave Salem today to enter Stanford university. He has been attending the University of Oregon.

King, as president of the student body, has been accused by school heads of undue participation in secret society affairs, and resenting the accusation he had several things to say on the matter.

As a result, Principal Fred Wolf denied him participation in luncheon Wednesday when they entertained honoring relatives in Salem for the holidays. The table was attractively decorated in poinsettias, holly and mistletoe, in keeping with the Yuletide season. Covers were marked for Mrs. Carl Roberts and daughter Miss Imogene Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roberts, Miss Elizabeth Roberts, all of Portland, Mrs. L. W. Starr of Brownsville, Charles Kay home for the Christmas season from Culver Military school, Culver, Indiana, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bishop. The Portland visitors returned to their homes Wednesday evening.

1,500,000 Boy Scouts Now Active; 3-Point Oath is Basis for Training

Extensive Course of Training, Indoor and Outdoor, Prepares Lad to Assume His Full Duties as a Crown Man

Some of the citizens of Salem are considering the advisability of interesting the boys of the community in the Boy Scout movement. In the past nine years thousands of towns and cities in all parts of the United States have used the boy scout program as a means of developing their boys into manly men, and the success of their efforts is shown by the fact that today there are over 1,500,000 Boy Scouts in this country.

The movement has been endorsed by educators, by churches of every denomination, by civic and philanthropic organizations, by the press and by the public generally. It is broad enough to take in every boy who is interested in his own development; and no matter what his social status, creed and education may be, he will find in it a means of attaining his proper ideals.

A boy scout begins by joining a troop. The troop may be organized in connection with a church, a neighborhood center, a boys' club, a Y. M. C. A. or independently. Three things are necessary—it must have a troop committee or three or more representative men to guide its policies, a scoutmaster who will direct and supervise its activities, and from eight to 32 boys, in exceptional cases there may be less than eight or more than 32. The average number is 25.

Eight scouts make a patrol. One of them being the patrol leader. The patrol is the unit of training. The patrol leader, commencement exercises and declared he would withhold his credits. He also recorded recommendations to Stanford that King be permitted entrance to that university.

Joe received word during the holidays that his renewed application to enter Stanford had been accepted. He sent his application and credits through the state university, and with them a letter from a Salem business man giving a neutral statement of the trouble which developed last spring.

S. S. CONVENTION AT HAYESVILLE

HAZEL GREEN, Dec. 31.—The 150th Sunday school convention of the Hayesville district held at Keizer Sunday was unusually well attended for the midyear. An exceptionally good program was rendered.

A piano solo by Miss Erna Keifer and a quartet sung by Carrol Pool and Willard Savage, all of Keizer, and special music in afternoon by Pratum Mennonite Sunday school added to the inspiration of the meeting.

The morning message was brought by Rev. Hayes Beall. In address in afternoon Rev. Robbins of First Baptist church, Salem, urged the teachers to teach the Book. No history as interesting as that could be, but the great truths, that should be an anchor when temptations are met.

Mrs. W. H. Buck of Salem, sounded the trumpet call for Christian workers to awake that the eighteenth amendment be enforced. A few facts given are, in the 29th years that we had saloons, there was a law enacted almost every year to curtail their activities. The first saloon in what is now, the United States of America, was opened in the Massachusetts colony in 1625. The following year a law was passed forbidding the sale of intoxicants to the Indians.

The octopus grew, in 1913 there was in this country 209,000 saloons, selling enough of various liquors that every man, woman and child in "the land of the free" could have 2 1/2 gallons of drink. We should not be discouraged but work.

The convention banners were awarded as follows: highest average attendance at Sunday school and spiritual to Brooks; largest delegation at the convention, Pratum M. E.; junior to the Salem Japanese Sunday school, Hayesville. The next convention will be the last Sunday of March at Brooks.

Miss Alice Massy and Miss Lois Keifer in charge of the junior program were assisted by Mrs. H. F. Shanks, superintendent of primary Sunday school work for county, and Mrs. Clifford Madd of Salem.

YOUNG PEOPLE PLAN SERVICE

ELDRIDGE, Dec. 31.—The young people of the Eldridge Sunday school will hold a meeting Sunday evening, Jan. 1, at 7:15. Following the meeting Rev. H. R. Schauman of Clatsop will speak. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

code for signaling; how to follow human or animal tracks at the rate of at least half a mile in 25 minutes; how to cover a mile in exactly 12 minutes at scout's pace; by alternately running and walking 50 paces; how to use a knife or hatchet without cutting himself or anybody else or damaging the tool or anything else; how to build a fire in the open, using but two matches at the most and no kerosene or anything which he could not pick up in a virgin wilderness; how to cook over an open fire without kitchen utensils; how to earn and give money; at least one dollar; and how to read a compass, and to "box" it, or name the points.

Having earned his second class badge, he finds that his troubles—or pleasures, all according to the point of view—have just begun. A first class scout must be able to swim 50 yards; earn and deposit in a public bank at least two dollars; send and receive a message at the rate of 16 letters per minute; make a trip alone or with another scout to a point at least seven miles away and write an account of the trip; render first aid; cook a variety of nourishing and palatable dishes over an open fire; draw and read maps; use an axe properly; judge distance, size, number, height, and weight within 25 per cent; describe trees and plants fully from observation, particularly those which are especially useful and especially harmful; furnish satisfactory evidence that he has put into practice in his daily life the principles of the scout oath and law; and enlist a boy trained by himself as a tenderfoot.

And that is not all, having become a first class scout, he is eligible to earn merit badges, and there are enough of these to keep him busy until he has grandchildren enough to make a troop by themselves. Each merit badge represents a considerable start in some trade, profession or vocation, among them electricity, forestry, poultry-keeping, and surveying.

After one month's service as a tenderfoot he may be promoted to second class scout as soon as he has learned elementary first aid and bandaging; the semaphore or International Morse the study classes and other educational or recreational activities of the club. The social committee frequently makes a trip to the regular meetings. The outstanding event of all the year is the mid-winter conference held at Centralia for all clubs in the northwest district. Last year 14 members from Salem attended this week-end conference and more are planning to go this year.

The service committee has been busy this fall. At Thanksgiving they gathered and delivered to a needy family a full-fledged Thanksgiving dinner and Christmas they furnished another family with a Christmas tree, gifts and food. This committee was responsible, too, for all the arrangements when the club went to two of the hospitals and the Old People's home to sing Christmas carols.

The Encinitis club is a group of local business and professional girls organized for social, educational and community service purposes. Every member serves either as an officer or on some committee so that the following gives the club membership as well as the organization:

President, Alice Falk; vice-president, Mildred Judson; secretary, Helen Richardson; treasurer, Mabel Currie; advisor, Mrs. W. M. Hamilton.

Committees: program—Mildred Judson, Helen Richardson, Elizabeth Welch, Alleen Gilson and Erna Batterman; social—Esther Hilmer, Mildred Wynkoop, Mabel Currie, Dorothy Franks, LaVada Carter and Clara Gault; membership—Betty Elofson, Lolla Park, Marie Pillette, Ruth Waterman, and Jewell Cox; service—Bessie Tucker, Lulu Eastridge, Anona Welch, Bertha Vincent; publicity—Gertrude Chamberlin, Marguerite Farmer, Evelyn Poulsen and Genevieve Anderson.

This club is one of many similar clubs in the United States and is a member of the National Business and Professional Women's assembly of the Young Women's Christian associations of the United States. The national organization is divided into districts, Oregon, Washington, and Idaho comprising the northwest district of the national assembly. The club keeps in very close touch with all national movements through its representatives.

Members of the club pay annual dues to the district council and the club in turn receives reports and personal visits from them—all of which keeps it vitally interested in the world-wide movement of organized business girls' clubs.

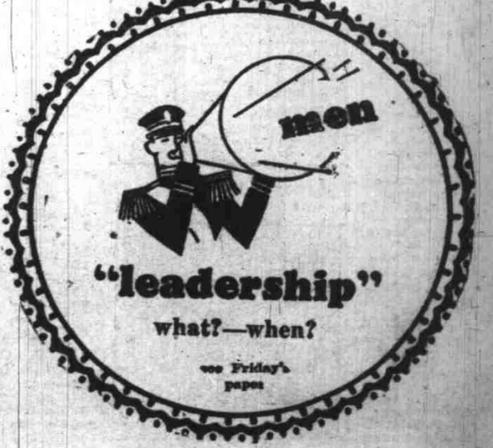

The club takes an active interest in the work of the local Y. W. C. A., having two representatives, Miss Bessie Tucker and Miss Betty Elofson on the board. The members attend the membership dinners of the board and last year pledged over one hundred dollars to its budget.

Conference outstanding. The program committee plans

Robert Givens Kills Self; Ill Health is Cause

TURNER, Dec. 31.—Robert Givens of Turner shot himself at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of his father, Tracy Givens, three miles east of Turner. The act is attributed to despondency and continued poor health. He was 29 years old.

Givens is survived by his father, a brother Gerald and two sisters, May and Ruth. The family has lived near Turner for about 20 years. No funeral arrangements have been made.

"leadership" what?—when?
