

'DAMA PLAYERS WELCOME HOME

Tuscaloosa Busts Self to Greet Victorious "Crimson Tide"

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Alabama's Crimson Tide rolled home today to the cheers of 6,000 admirers and the blare of four bands.

Citizens, students, college professors, locomotive and factory whistles made the welcome ring for the Tide that subjugated Washington State's Cougars 24 to 6 in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Cal., New Year's day. It was Alabama's third invasion of the Pacific coast and its second victory. The other game ended in a tie.

The Tide, riding on wagons drawn by students and citizens, headed a procession to Memorial flagpole in the center of the city for a formal welcome, then out University avenue to the campus where at the historic "mound" the ceremonies closed.

Seldom has Tuscaloosa turned loose with such utter abandon as today when venerable professional and business men screamed themselves hoarse in adding to the din that even a drizzle of rain could not temper.

At the "mound," the team members had their way and Fredlin Singleton, all-American tackle, told how it was done. "We saw 65,000 people and a group of big red devils and just gave them the works," he said.

The crowd sang "Alma Mater" and class bells rang—the football season was over.

HANDICAPS DEFEAT FOOD SHOP ROLLERS

Opponents' handicaps again spelled downfall for Senator Food Shop bowlers, leading team in Business league, when Cunocar Service pinmen won two out of three games from the Senators last night. In the last and deciding game, however, Cunocar rolled out a higher score than the Food Shoppers by the handicap 34 plus one to go, 820 to 775.

Raymond Machine shop beat Salem Retail Bakers two out of three and McKay Chevrolet Cubs did the same in the Salem Sanitary Dairy. The pin total of the third-place Cubs was much lower than usual.

C. Roth, playing for the Bakers, rolled high game of 219 and the only 200 game of the evening. Eisenbrandt, Senator Food Shop, made high individual series, 549.

Local Man is 10th Best in 210 Bowlers

Winning 10th prize when but 11 are offered sounds not so good but L. V. Hall and his six companions of the maple alley who participated in the big northwest individual bowling tournament at Seattle, Wash., Sunday, feel he did well and good. In eight games he knocked down 1609 pins for an average game of 201. For competition he had to vie with 210 of the best pinmen the northwest can boast. That is why the Salem septette is happy.

One other prize, that for high game in playing squad, Harvey Page won with a 243. These squads were chosen at random merely to facilitate the individual rolling.

Eugene produced the high game scorer of the whole tournament. M. W. E. who has several times this season been seen in action on the Winter Garden alleys here, is only about 20 years old but he made fun of the old hands and chalked up a 278, which went unbeaten.

Athletic Leaders Are Divided on Clean-up Of Football Evils

By CHARLES GRUMICH Associated Press Sport Writer KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Increased interest and vigilance of college officials, in the opinion of several middle western sports authorities, have diminished subsidization and recruiting, the twin evils charged against college athletics in the Carnegie report more than a year ago.

Some leaders in the big six conference, which recently was in turmoil over accusations against the "Simon Purity" of athletics at the member university of Kansas, held to the belief that publication of the Carnegie reports had incited in professors and presidents consciousness of the ills arising from a policy of "win at any cost."

Others say there has been little or no effect from the expose of the investigators, who concluded every seventh college athlete in the nation was subsidized and coaches "went shopping" for their talent.

The general belief expressed was that the exhaustive Carnegie survey, a year later, seems to have brought more to university and college officials a necessity for careful scrutiny of their own athletic personnel or of others.

A concrete example was seen in the charges brought by Prof. W. A. Tarr of the University of Missouri that the University of Kansas was guilty of proselyting and professionalism, in the degree labeled subsidization.

able for legislators during the 1931 session here, is being mailed out from the chamber of commerce today. The chamber does this service principally as a convenience to the incomers to Salem.

In his letter to legislators the manager points out that only listing is done, the securing of the rooms being a matter to take up directly with the owner. The service is maintained without any fee.

Dr. Tarr, a new representative in the ruling big six council of professors, conducted a one-man sleuthing expedition into Kansas last fall and prosecuted the charges before his colleagues.

The powerful faculty body voted to ostracize Kansas after this year, but a few weeks later rescinded its order after the Kansas athletic board banished James A. Bausch, all round athlete, under a clarifying interpretation of subsidization adopted by the big six faculty, state and college and university presidents.

Kansas promised to accept the rulings of the conference eligibility committee, which will meet on the Jayhawkers' home grounds January 9 to consider the cases of 10 to 20 other athletes accused of having been lured to or subsidized by the university directly or indirectly.

Wrestler Weds Portland Lady At Hillsboro

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Howard Cantonwine, heavy weight professional wrestler from Iowa, and Gertrude Meek, 22, Portland advertising woman, were married at Hillsboro, Ore., last Friday, it became known here today.

Cantonwine has been a professional wrestler since he left the University of Iowa where he played football under Howard Jones in 1925. He is about 25 years old.

Miss Meek is the granddaughter of the late Courtney Walker (Joe) Meek, famous northwest pioneer, who in 1848 made a trip to Washington, D. C., where in buckskin suit and fur cap he appeared before congress to tell directly with the needs of the Oregon country.

Mr. and Mrs. Cantonwine have not announced their plans.

Coach Frank Brown will march his Parrish Junior high basketball warriors against Turner high tonight at the Parrish gymnasium.

Turner has improved since a previous game taken by the local team. Parrish has dropped only one game this season losing to Rickreall 9 to 11 in a game played at Rickreall.

Brown gave his men one week to rest during vacation and then spent one week whipping them into shape for the tough games remaining on the schedule. No games were played last week but heavy scrimmages were held with both "A" and "B" teams of Salem high. Coach Brown reports that his men are in mid season condition and that the showing tonight will indicate how they will go the rest of the season.

The men who will start tonight's game are DeJardin and Perrine, forwards, DeJardin center and Hobbs and Ellis guards. DeJardin has been shifted from guard to forward and Hobbs has been returned to guard position. Wintermute and Witzel will likely be called upon to play some before the game is over.

The next game for Parrish will be against Mill City Saturday night.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 5.—(AP)—The simon pures of Florida winter golfers will trek across the links tomorrow to open the search for Miami mid-winter amateur tournament honors.

Jimmy West, formerly of Atlanta and now of Miami, will lead the crowd of non-professionals in qualifying to play as he defends his 1930 title. Match play will start Wednesday and continue through Saturday.

Tournament officials said today

PARRISH QUINTET PLAYS TURNER HERE

they expected more than 100 prospective qualifiers, and hoped to send six flights of 16 golfers from the tees Wednesday.

The Salem "Y" basketball team meets the Portland "Y" team at the local Y. M. C. A. tonight at 8:15 in a regular league game.

The Salem team is leading the Oregon "Y" team league and is undefeated so far. A tough game is expected tonight as the Portland team hold the locals to a 29-to-25 score in Portland a little more than a week ago, and has a fast, experienced bunch.

Rawley, at center for the Portland team, was outstanding both in getting the tip off and in leading the offense. Chafian played a brilliant game at guard and led his team in scoring. The Portland outfit is scrappy and it took all the punch Salem could muster to win the previous game.

"Scotty" Marr, the flashy forward of the Salem team, who played so pretty a game of passing, will not be with the locals any more this season, as he has entered the normal school at Monmouth. Melvin Flake will play in his place and jump center, while Benjamin will be shifted to forward. Flake has played with the team before and is a good scorer.

At 7:15 the Chemawa Indian "B" team will play one of the house teams of the "Y" as a preliminary to the main game.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Benny Bass, junior lightweight champion, defended his title successfully at the arena tonight by punching out a 10-round decision of Lew Massey, Philadelphia Italian. Bass weighed 128½ pounds, Massey 128.

work under the state highway commission's unemployment project. Smith was first elected in 1923, going in when the electors were agog over the county court's proposition to put over a big bond issue to improve county roads.

The Salem Presbyterian basketball team invaded Portland Saturday night and defeated the Evangelical church team of that city, 35 to 28.

The Salem team led in the second half but some nice long shots by the Portland players brought the score to 24 all at the end of the third quarter. In the last period Salem made good use of a fast breaking offense and worked the ball in for numerous short shots adding 11 points in the fourth quarter and holding the Evangelical team to only four points.
