

HIGH OFFICERS JOFFRE RITES

Million Line Paris Streets; Marshal's Body now in Invalides Spot

PARIS, Jan. 7.—(AP)—France, in a final tribute of love and respect to the "savior" of Paris, today gave Marshal Joffre a national funeral which in its grandeur recalled that "day of ashes" when the body of Napoleon Bonaparte was brought back from St. Helena.

Tonight the body of the valiant victor of the Marne lay, like that of Napoleon, under the great dome of the Invalides, in a disused sacristy of the chapel of St. Louis, dedicated to the old crusader king. It was placed there that Madame Joffre might pray beside her soldier husband in silence.

Some months from now the body will be transferred to "Chestnut Grove" the marshal's country home, where it will be entombed in a mausoleum like that of Washington at Mt. Vernon.

Church and state united today to make the last rites of France's loved soldier a full expression of the republic's gratitude and respect. The thousands of French people who filled the gray old cathedral of Notre Dame and the million or more who lined the route of the cortege from the cathedral to the Invalides testified abundantly the love that Paris bore for "Papa" Joffre.

No Standing Room Left There was not a foot of standing room at Notre Dame when the arrival of President Doumergue signalled the beginning of the requiem mass, shortened at Joffre's own request. The highest officials of the government were there in sombre garb and representatives of many nations, many of them attending as the personal representatives of rulers and sovereigns.

Monignor Joseph Marie Tessier, bishop of Chalonsur-Marne, read the absolution and gave the final blessing. Outside in the square in front of the cathedral the republican guardsmen in the head, on either side of the coffin marched a company of infantry and behind, after the marshal's immediate family, marched the president, members of the government, and the diplomatic corps, among the latter Walter E. Edge, American ambassador.

24 U. S. Officers There Then there were military detachments from all the allied and associated powers, including one of 24 United States officers, active and reserve, who represented the American army.

FUNERAL RITES ON FRIDAY FOR JUDGE

(Continued from page 1) also justice of the state supreme court while a resident of Eugene in 1890 and continued to serve in that capacity until 1909. He resigned on May 7 of the latter year when he was appointed federal judge by President Taft. Other members of the state supreme court at the time Judge Bean came to Salem were R. S. Strand and William P. Lord, the latter of whom later served as governor.

All Dead Save One Who Recommended Him

Records in the state supreme court show that Judge Bean was recommended for appointment as federal judge by Frank W. Benson, then serving as governor; George A. Steel, ex-state treasurer; J. H. Ackerman, at one time state superintendent of public instruction; O. P. Hoff, ex-state labor commissioner; G. W. "Pat" Lord, who was private secretary to Governor Benson, and Sam A. Koser, then serving as state insurance commissioner. All of these men are dead with the exception of Mr. Koser, who is now serving as state budget director.

NUTT SAYS METHOD OF LUCAS WAS BAD

By HAROLD D. OLIVER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Emphatic disapproval of the actions of Robert H. Lucas, in opposing the re-election of Senator Norris and in pledging a republican national committee bank account as security for a personal loan to pay for publicity used by the national organization, had a right to "fight" Norris, a republican independent leader, but "made a mistake" in the methods used.

He, too, believed Norris should have been opposed by the regular republicans because of his support of Alfred E. Smith in 1928 and his opposition to Coolidge and

LATE, YET JUST IN TIME

While hungry New Yorkers continue to line up for bread, this line-up of gold was dumped out of the S. S. El Salvador, arriving from Cuba with $1,650,000 worth of $20 gold coins for the Chase National Bank. Each box contains 50,000 coins, and the entire consignment is being loaded into armored cars preparatory to being escorted through the streets by a police guard.

HOOVER PROGRAMS. Like Lucas, he held Norris was a democrat.

Hoover programs. Like Lucas, he held Norris was a democrat. While Lucas sat close by, apparently unperturbed by the examination and volunteered statements of his brother officer, Nutt said the executive director had no right to send a letter to the Commercial National bank pledging a $25,000 special campaign account of the national committee as collateral for his $5000 loan.

HUGE PROGRAM FOR GOV'T WORK READY

MacDonald said this year program for federal aid roadwork called for the expenditure of $437,500,000 of which the national government would give $293,500,000 and the state governments $144,000,000.

He added that conditions were more favorable this season than usual for speeding work and said the bureau has stipulated in its regulations that none of the federal funds be spent on highways where convict labor is used.

Woods described his organization as a non-partisan body "with its single purpose to be of service." He said the committee regarded its first duty to get men jobs and felt that relief was secondary.

Milk Production Needs Reduction Says Farm Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—A curtailment by one-tenth of the number of milking cows on the nation's farms was recommended today by the dairy advisory committee on the farm board.

The number of cows has shown such increases, the committee said, that the oversupply of milk has resulted in "excessive inventories of all dairy products for the past year."

No War Clouds in Europe Claim of Frank B. Kellogg

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state and now a judge of the world court, said at the White House today he saw "no war clouds hanging over Europe."

There is some unrest in Europe, he said, "but its foundation is an economic one. The people of Europe do not want and will not tolerate war."

HISTORIC HALL BURNS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Historic Smith hall on the Ripon college campus, recruiting station during the civil war and recently occupied by Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, was destroyed today by fire.

GUATEMALA RECOGNIZED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—The state department extended recognition today to provisional President Andrade of Guatemala, the fourth chief executive that country has had in three weeks.

ROBINSON SAYS SUFFERING BAD

Demo Hits Back at Belle Arkansas is not Hurt As First Related

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Disputing the accuracy of President Hoover's information regarding distress in drought areas, Senator Robinson of Arkansas told the senate today that if Secretary Hyde had made a personal survey congress would not now be in conflict over relief legislation.

The democratic leader described the suffering in his state and placed emphasis on the outbreak at England, Arkansas, last Saturday.

Meanwhile, the $45,000,000 drought relief appropriation became deadlocked in the controversy over the additional $15,000,000 for food loans which Senators Robinson and Caraway, of Arkansas, are demanding.

Efforts of Representative Garner, of Texas, the minority leader, to have the senate food loan amendment considered by the house were blocked by Speaker Longworth's chairman Wood of the house appropriations committee, then failed to gain unanimous consent to send the measure to conference to untangle the knot.

Communist Move Seen

In another quarter, Chairman Fish of the house committee investigating communists attributed the England incident to what he described as a communist organization—the united farmers league.

From Little Rock, however, there came an immediate statement by T. Roy Reid, the Arkansas agriculture extension director, that he had never heard of any members of the united farmers league in that state.

Robinson said that the incident at England, was not the first of its kind in the drought area.

"President Hoover does not know, the secretary of agriculture doesn't know and the head of the Red Cross doesn't know" Robinson asserted "the conditions which I am about to disclose."

After reading telegrams from Governor Parnell and descriptive stories, Robinson contended that the emergency fund of $4,500,000 held by the Red Cross for meeting the situation could not be adequate despite the contrary testimony of Chairman Payne.

Stamping his feet Robinson shouted: "If the federal government will loan funds to these honorable men whose credit may be regarded as good in spite of their misfortune the Red Cross will not have to supply the food."

"Forty-five million dollars for seed and fertilizer and only $4,000,000 for food and clothes for charity," he added.

On the house side Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the majority leader, Chairman Snell of the house rules committee and Chairman Wood each charged the democrats with "playing politics" with the drought relief legislation.

Tilson declared that unless the democrats were willing to permit the measure to go to conference in regular order no effort would be made by the republicans to have further consideration.

The administration followers oppose the senate provision on the ground that it constitutes a dol.

Suitor, Jilted, Shoots; Woman Near Life's End

SEATTLE, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Bonnie Davis, mother of two children, was near death here tonight from a bullet wound inflicted, police said, by Oscar Davis, whom Mrs. Davis refused to marry. Mrs. Davis was held on an open charge.

Davis told police he showered gifts on the woman including cash, some of which she used to purchase necessities for her two children, living with relatives at Kelso.

"She accepted my gifts," he said, "but would never say definitely when we would be married. She came to my hotel today and we had a few drinks. I insisted we get a marriage license and when she refused I lost my head and shot her. I'm sorry and hope she lives."

Minnesota Men March to Tell Olson Problems

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 7.—(AP)—A crowd of several hundred, demonstrating against unemployment, greeted Governor Floyd B. Olson, Minnesota's first farmer-labor chief executive, on his initial day in office today, demanded immediate legislative relief and then marched away to return tomorrow for an answer.

Gathering on the capitol steps after a parade through the downtown section, the demonstrators heard a series of speeches by their leaders, including a woman, then sent a delegation to Governor Olson's office with a list of demands, including immediate appropriation of $25,000,000 for unemployment relief.

CREDIT MEN HAVE SUCCESSFUL MEET

American people, he said.

Ross spoke largely from the wholesale angle, and told of organization in 1924 of the Credit Merchants' Protective association, which now has 52 secret service men working for it, largely through the bankruptcy courts.

He lauded the Christmas savings made last year by the American people, and said these deposits helped stabilize business at the end of the year.

"Too much is said of depression by the people who are least affected by it," declared Stuart S. Bliss, vice-president of the Retail Credit association of Portland, in a short talk on "Credit in its Relation to Business."

He advised merchants to get lined up with a good reporting bureau and stay by it.

Federal Bankruptcy Act Held to Hurt Business

E. L. Lucas, past president of the Portland association, spoke concerning the national association, formed in Spokane 17 years ago. He decried the manner in which the individual use of the federal bankruptcy act is cutting into business.

Grant Braman, president of the Portland association, talked on the movement in Oregon, where 33 local credit bureaus have been organized in the last eight years. It is important that all accounts be cleared through the bureau, he said, in telling of some of the pieces of work done by the Portland bureau. Returns of merchandise and fraudulent buying are the two greatest problems confronting the business house now, he said. He advocated more "credit education."

The musical side of the entertainment was furnished by Bill Brasseur's trio; and features by V. P. "Tiny" McNamara and Oscar Lapham, members of the association.

Portland Solons Vote, 3 to 2, for Power Operation

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 7.—(AP)—By a vote of 3 to 2 the Portland city council today approved municipal ownership of light and power.

The resolution was introduced by Ralph C. Clyde, commissioner of public utilities, who was elected on a public ownership platform.

The resolution authorized the expenditure of $25,000 to make a survey to establish the cost of municipal development of light and power and to formulate a plan for such development.

Cheerio! Snakes Solve Job Quest

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Snake hunting is solving the unemployment problem for Australian farm hands out of work. The brightly marked skins are sold to tanners and the skeletons are made into necklaces. When bleached in the fierce Australian sunlight the skeletons resemble ivory. A good snake hunter can secure about 100 reptiles a day.

GARNER ON WAY TO U. S.

HAVRE, France, Jan. 7.—(AP)—Prime Garnea, Italian heavy-weight, sailed today for his second invasion of the United States. He returned to Europe to fight Paolino Uscudun in Spain after suffering suspensions in several states during his highly ballyhooed first visit.

TUNNEY APPLAUDED AT STATE CEREMONY

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Major James J. Tunney, ad on the staff of Governor Wilbur L. Cross, received a most enthusiastic reception at the inaugural ceremonies at the capitol today. The applause from those who saw him in his new uniform was far greater than that which greeted the new governor, hearty as it was at all times.

Popular interest was divided between Governor Cross, who is the third democrat in a half century to attain the high office, and Tunney, who is better known as the retired heavy-weight champion of the world.

In the inaugural parade and in the capitol the ripple of applause for Governor Cross was drowned by the roar for the former heavy-weight champion.

Major Tunney beamed and returned salute after salute.

POISON DEATHS PROBED

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 7.—(AP)—Deputy County Attorney John Marer, in charge of investigation into the liquor death of 12 men here recently, said today the deaths did not result from liquor sold by bootleggers, but from de-natured alcohol, rubbing alcohol and similar mixtures lawfully sold by drug stores.
