Mrs. G. O. Smith Bridge Tea Hostess

One of the charming events of the week was the bridge tea given at the Elks temple by Mrs. Guy O. Smith Wednesday afternoon. The social room on the second floor of the temple had been beautifully arranged with large baskets of Oregon Grape and plump pussywillows, and with this decorative note crept in a whiff of spring and sunshine. Cards were in play at tea tables during the afternoon hours. Mrs. G. L. Newton and Mrs. Harry Belt held winning scores at the close of playing.

At the tea hour the guests went to the dining room of the temple and were served from tables delightfully centered with graceful arrangements of red carnations. Mrs. Smith was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. W. E. Hanson and Mrs. W. I. Needham.

The invited guest list included Mrs. F. H. Brock, Mrs. Ray Hartman, Mrs. W. J. Liljequist, Mrs. R. C. Hunter, Mrs. E. N. Elmon, Mrs. Herbert Stiff, Mrs. E. A. Pruitt, Mrs. T. D. McClain, Mrs. W. B. Anderson, Mrs. Frank Neer, Mrs. S. Brettenstein, Mrs. H. V. Compton, Mrs. W. J. Busick, Mrs. G. L. Forge, Mrs. Harry Belt, Mrs. Max Page, Mrs. Willard Wirtz, Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mrs. Roy Mills, Mrs. F. G. Bowersox, Mrs. W. I. Staley, Mrs. Paul W. Johnson, Mrs. Sarah Butler, Mrs. W. I. Needham, Mrs. U. S. Page, Mrs. G. L. Newton of Albany, Mrs. W. D. Clarke, Mrs. Lee Unruh, Mrs. A. A. Siewert, Mrs. George Roseman, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. Dave Caplin, Mrs. Elmer Orcutt, Mrs. H. G. Malson, Mrs. James E. Hoeman, Mrs. W. H. Dray, Mrs. Roy Hewitt, Mrs. E. Bates, Mrs. E. A. Colony, Dr. Fanny Brown Tibbets, Mrs. Ralph Cooley, Mrs. F. L. Utter, Mrs. William Huggins.

Additional guests for tea were Mrs. F. H. Thompson, Mrs. M. Endicott, and Mrs. Henry J. Bean.

Mrs. Nellie Smith Installed in Star

The Masonic temple lodge rooms were attractively decorated in compliment to the pretty and impressive ceremony which installed Mrs. Nellie Smith as worthy matron and James O. Russell as worthy patron of the Order of the Eastern Star Tuesday night. Mrs. Pearl Pratt, outgoing worthy matron was the installing officer.

Mrs. Ida Babcock, who for the past 30 years has been secretary of the order, resigned her position as district secretary. Mrs. Bernardi who for the past nine years has been treasurer. Mrs. Babcock was given the honorary title of secretary emerita and both Mrs. Babcock and Mrs. Bernardi were presented with life memberships to the order. Mrs. Babcock also presented Mrs. Bernardi with a gift. Mrs. Pratt was presented with a past matron's jewel by Mrs. Monnie Hauser. Mrs. Jessie Crawford was elected as treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Bernardi's resignation and was installed with the other officers.

Mrs. Watkins Will Address Convention

Mrs. William Watkins, president of the local American legion auxiliary will be a speaker upon the subject of welfare work as it has been done by the local organization at the January 16 convention to be held in Dallas. Both the legion and the auxiliary will participate in this convention which will include representatives from all the posts of the surrounding counties.

One of the main activities to be supported within the auxiliary this year will be the glee club which is practicing in the studio of its leader and director, Lena Belle Tartar. The glee club will compete in the state convention to be held in Corvallis this August.

Plans for Reception and Ball For Governor Grow in Size And Magnificence

With the development of plans for Salem's social bow to Governor-elect and Mrs. Julius L. Meier there can be no doubt but that the affair will be one of the historic social events of the state, perhaps at no time ever has there been an event which can be compared in brilliance and formality with that which will mark the social part of the inauguration of the governor January 12.

The committee appointed by T. A. Livesley, then mayor of Salem, which is headed by Col T. E. Rilea, has harked back to the days of the coronation of kings and to the present precedents set by the inauguration of presidents at the national capitol for the pattern for the present inaugural reception and ball.

The official party composed of Governor elect and Mrs. Meier, and the receiving line, which will be headed by the new governor and Mrs. Julius L. Meier, will include Chief Justice and Mrs. H. J. Bean, the Hon. and Mrs. E. Kay, Major-General and Mrs. George A. White, the American Minister to Finland and Mrs. E. E. Brodie, the Hon. and Mrs. Hal E. Hoss, Brigadier-General and Mrs. Paul A. Wolf of Vancouver Barracks, the Hon. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley, the newly elected president of the senate and his wife, and the newly elected speaker of the house and his wife will enter heralded by trumpets, followed by an announcement by Robert Boardman, master of ceremonies, that his excellency and party are arriving.

As the official party enter the armory there will be a salute of four trumpet blasts followed by four ruffles from the drums, the regular army salute to the governor.

As the honored party takes its place and forms the receiving line the orchestra will play a special orchestration of "Oregon, My Oregon." Following this the line will receive the guests and as the guests greet the governor and his party they may pass on in to the Marion ball room through the bridge which will connect the armory and the Marion hotel, and here dance until the reception has been completed. Then a second orchestra will play in the armory and dancing will be enjoyed in both the Marion and the armory.

There will be two orchestras. Mills orchestra of Salem which will play in the armory and the Shrine Temple orchestra of Portland which will play in the Marion hotel. Special attention and care has been expended upon the music to be played for dancing so that pleasure from dancing to good music has been insured.

Attractive Wedding is Wednesday Event

A simple but impressive wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening in the parsonage of Jason Lee Memorial church when Miss Ruth Marie Hasselton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hasselton, became the bride of Donald H. Lian of Longview, Washington. Rev. S. Darlow Johnson read the ceremony before only immediate members of the family.

Proceeding the ceremony, Miss Lillian Garsjohet sang "I Love You Truly" and "My Golden Promise," accompanied by Mrs. S. Darlow Johnson. The wedding party took its place to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. The bride and groom were unattended.

The bride was lovely in a King's blue chiffon gown made in princess style with full ankle length skirt, cape collar of the same material fastened low in the back with a velvet bow. A showery bouquet of Easter lilies, bride's roses and freesias completed the bride's dress.

The bride is a graduate of the class of 1927 from Salem high school and has since that time been a member of the long distance staff of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. Mrs. Lian graduated from Silverton high school in 1925 and is now associated with the Columbia theatre in Longview, Washington. After a brief wedding trip the young people will make their home in Longview.

Mrs. Paul Hendricks to Be Club Hostess

Mrs. Paul Hendricks will entertain with a luncheon and bridge for members of her club in her parlors at 1015 1/2 Division street. The club has had a very successful season during the holiday season and this meeting marks one of the first of the many to follow this week and next as the various city clubs get back into regular meeting days.

Club members who will be present at the Hendricks home are Mrs. Homer Egan, Mrs. Clifford Farmer, Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. P. D. Quisenberry, Mrs. Lawrence Hofer, Mrs. Karl Becke, Mrs. Lawrence Woodworth, Mrs. Allan Carson and Mrs. Hendricks.

GLASS OFFICERS AT WILLAMETTE NAMED

Officers for the second semester of the Willamette university school year of 1930 to 1931 were made when all four undergraduate classes met Wednesday in class meetings. Further nominations and the elections will be next Wednesday.

Officers nominated in the various classes are: Freshman: president, Ray Waddell; vice president, Mildred Emmons; secretary, Virginia Edwards; treasurer, John Gilhousen, Howard Miller, and Art Hollenberg. Sophomores: president, Robert Houck, Melvin Crow; vice president, Alvis Love; secretary, Louis Stowell; treasurer, Harold Rose. Freshmen elected Percy Sweet basketball manager and postponed other nominations till the election next week.

SNIKPON PLAY TO BE CLEVER AFFAIR

14 in Cast at High School Tomorrow Night; Plot Has Mystery

The dramatic production of the Snikpon drama by the society of the senior high school will be held in the school auditorium Friday night, January 8, at 8 o'clock. A carefully chosen cast of 14 students will present "It Won't Be Long Now," sparkling comedy by Milton Gropper, and just released for amateur showing. Miss Lella Johnson, advisor to the club, is coaching the play.

The leading roles are taken by Melvin Travis as Robert Preston and Lavonne Watkins as Ann Winston. The other parts are taken as follows: Thomas, a butler, Don Soderman; Beany Blake, officer Boy; Jack McCullough; William Meek, a clerk; Paul Hauser; Miss Wilkes, a stenographer; Meda Harlow; Charles Dobson, a political word-healer; Wayne Fehler; Dr. Walter Talley, a physician; Richard Smart; Vivian Darrell, a flapper who flaps; Gretta Scofield; Rev. Dr. Loring of the neighborhood; Everett Ramo; a policeman, Howard Cross; Frank Cullen, of the People's party; Frank Cross; Olga, a Swedish cook; Jean Eastridge; Frances, a maid, Dorothy Keaton.

The stage setting for the play promises to be something new. It was designed by Maurice Hudkins and worked out by Miss Ruth Brauti's stage craft class. A brief account of the play follows: Robert Preston, a young millionaire accidentally takes poison. His motto has always been "Never mix business with sentiment" until he learns that he is about to die. In the last 24 hours of his life, he uses his knowledge of the underworld in politics to make his colleagues restore various amounts stolen and traps them into donating to charitable institutions. He outwits all, except a little fortune hunter, whom he believes he marries. Of course it ends happily.

SILVERTON CITY DADS INSTALLED

SILVERTON, Jan. 7.—City officers were installed at the Monday night meeting of the common council, the first of the new year. Mayor L. G. Bassman, recorder, George Hubbs, and Treasurer M. G. Gunderson were all re-elected at the last election and duly installed Monday night. Three new councilmen were also installed. These were E. W. Garger, W. L. McGinnis, and Otto Legard.

Latin, Greek Chiefs of Curricular Subjects in Early Days of College

By ELMER DENNING
Early days in Willamette university were recalled by Professor James T. Mathews, faculty member, in chapel, this week, when he told of some of his early experiences at the time he first matriculated in the university in 1882.

At that time, the only university building was Waller hall and it contained the chapel and college of liberal arts. The requirements for entrance were much the same as they are now in English and mathematics, but they were added to in requiring an amount of Greek and Latin that made the listening students gasp with astonishment. The total of the two included several of the classics of those two languages.

In those days, people did not ask of what use was a college education of the subjects taught, but they thought of an educated man as one who could reel off line upon line of the dead language poetry or other divisions of literature.

The university in the early days had a high board fence about the campus. The women of the college went to what was known as "Women's college" which was located north of Court street northwest of the capitol building.

There were but 22 students in the university but the academy and those 22 totalled over 350 students who nearly filled the chapel in the seats of that time. Chapel services were always the same unless an extraordinary person, such as a missionary from India or China came and then he or she was persuaded to make a few remarks. Otherwise chapel services consisted of perhaps a hymn, a prayer, another hymn, a chapter from the Bible read by the president and un-

Arbuthnot and C. G. Rue. Committee appointments for the council were: Judiciary, E. W. Garger, Dr. C. R. Wilson, C. A. Reynolds; finance committee, J. F. Conrad, E. W. Garger and Dr. Wilson; health, fire and water, Garger, Conrad and Legard; park, Wilson, Reynolds and McGinnis. The street committee's recommendation that E. Yates be appointed as street commissioner for the ensuing two-year term was accepted. The question of establishing a public rest room was placed in the hands of the health, fire and water committee.

Pool hall licenses were granted to Porter and Foster for 201 North Water street and to John Alquire on East Oak street.

400 Coming for
Ball on Special
Train Monday

About 400 persons are expected here by special train from Portland Monday night to attend the inaugural ball in honor of Governor-elect and Mrs. Julius L. Meier, it was announced last night by K. A. DeMarais, district freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific.

AIR TRAFFIC CHIEF SEES LEADERS HERE

Cooperation Salem Urged To aid Bennett Line in Pioneer Route

Seeking more cooperation from Salem commercial organizations and local business firms, D. M. Rohrer, traffic manager of the Bennett Air Transport, Inc., is in Salem this week making local contacts and acquainting leaders here with the program of his company.

According to Rohrer, the Bennett line has been giving regularly daily air service between Tacoma, Portland and Coos Bay since November and will continue the service uninterrupted throughout the year.

Not only are passengers carried but express service is available. Rohrer says the Bennett line is quite confident that at the end of six months of continuous service, it can secure a government mail contract for carrying federal mail on this route.

Under the regulations of the postal department, no mail contracts are given lines until they have operated successfully for six full months.

The establishment of the service through Salem, says Bennett, offers excellent opportunity for business men as well as all individuals interested in speedy transportation for themselves or their goods, to utilize the service regularly. Costs are said to be but slightly higher than on competing transportation facilities.

Southbound planes come over Salem about 10:35 a. m. and 2:40 p. m. daily except Sunday. Northbound planes come over this city at 10:20 a. m. and 2:50 p. m. Signals given by the airport here bring each plane to a landing here to take on passengers or express.

Wind Damages Perrydale Area

PERRYDALE, Jan. 7.—This vicinity experienced quite a wind storm Sunday night. Telephone poles and limbs off trees were scattered where it was most noticeable. In the road, Salt Creek is out of its banks so surely these dry wells will be filled soon. A number of people have been hauling water and using what rain water could be caught for several months.

commented on by him. Notices of campus affairs were seldom read. This is a contrast to the modern condition when there are seldom fewer than a half dozen and sometimes more than a dozen notices.

Graduation exercises of that day consisted of an oration by each member of the class, some remarks by the president and perhaps a distinguished guest's speech. When Professor Mathews was graduated, there were five orations in the morning and four in the afternoon. During this time the graduating class had to sit on the platform.

One of the unique rules of the day was that of "no young men company except in the parlor". This rule was broken when a new dean of women appeared on the campus fresh from a foreign land. The young men of the university immediately took advantage of the new executive's ignorance of existing rules and applied for permission to take their lady friends to church the evening after graduation. Requests were granted and since then the rule has not been in effect. This was about 1890.

DEMOLAY TO PLACE NEW MEN THIS EVE

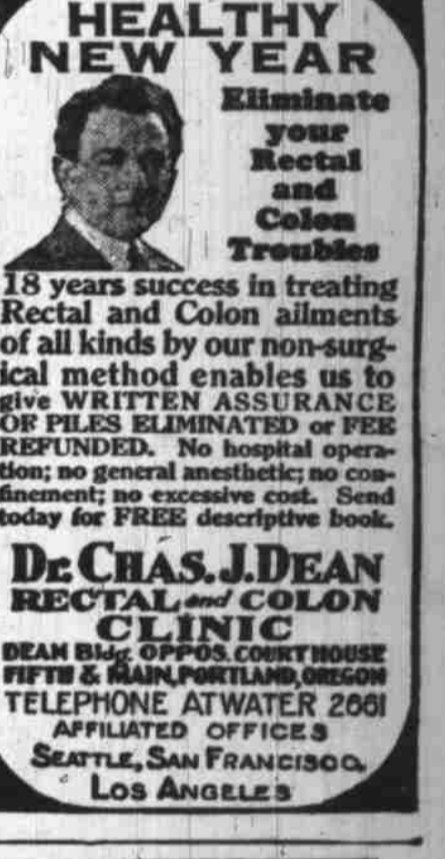

Chemeketa chapter of the order of De Molay will install its officers for the year 1931 in a public installation ceremony in the lodge rooms of the Mason Temple tonight beginning at 8 o'clock. The installation will be conducted by the Sunnyside chapter of Portland. In addition to the installation there will be majority degrees conferred upon Lars Nelson, Roy Harland, Lew Singer and Raymond Hoffman.

Officers to be installed are DeWitt K. Nelderhiser, master counselor; Philip Taylor, secretary; William Gahlesdorf, Jr., junior counselor; Olven Bowe, senior deacon; Larkin Williams, junior deacon; Reginald Rees, senior steward; Cleo Seely, junior steward; Stanley King, orator; Lewis Motson, scholar; Harold Pruitt, treasurer; Paul Hauser, sentinel; Alex Volchok, chaplain; Richard Smart, marshal; Vernon McQuaid, standard bearer; Richard Upjohn, almoner; preceptors, Delvin Durham, Dalbert Jensen, Abe Malzels, Fred Wolf, Ralph Stearns, Bill Dyer, Charles Emerick, Laurence Fletcher is retiring master counselor.

After the installation ceremonies and majority service there will be a social hour and refreshments. There has also been planned a short entertainment to follow the ceremonies.

DAUGHTER IS BORN
MONMOUTH, Jan. 7.—A daughter was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Harding (Una Winegar) of Portland, who has been named Marion Louise. The child's mother is a Monmouth young woman, a graduate of the local schools and of Oregon State college. This is their first baby, and the fifth grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. E. Winegar, parents of Mrs. Harding, who lives in Monmouth.

WORK IS SECURED
INDEPENDENCE, Jan. 6.—A number of men from here have been given work on the state highway. They will work only three days of the week. The men are picked up here by trucks and conveyed to the work, which is being done on the highway between Rickreall and Salem.
