BUILDINGS BLOWN DOWN BY WIND

OAK GROVE, Jan. 8.—The high wind Monday morning that came as an aftermath of the heavy rainstorm of Sunday did quite a lot of damage over the valley.

Ernest Brunk of Brunk corner had his large chicken house moved off the foundation about 15 feet. The cupola was blown off the hop house belonging to Hugh Hana. Nearly every hop house in the Independence district suffered some damage. Shingles were blown off of roofs and some few small outbuildings were blown down.

Trees were uprooted and limbs broken out in many places.

Rabbitry and Stock Swept By Bad Fire

WEST SALEM, Jan. 8.—Three hundred and fifty rabbits burned to death Tuesday night when the rabbitry of Ed R. Price in the northeastern outskirts of West Salem went up in smoke.

The fire occurred between the hours of 7 and 8 while Price was at the home of a neighbor several blocks away. Price raised fancy breeding stock for which he found a ready sale, as well as rabbits for market.

His plant which was the result of five years work was equipped with burglar alarms and lighted by electricity. He carried only $300 insurance. Price, who is a bachelor lives alone and his rabbits and his little dog constituted his sole interests in life. He is all broken up over the disaster and says that he will dispose of the few remaining rabbits which were in outside hutches and so escaped the conflagration, and will not rebuild the plant. He believes the fire was of incendiary origin.

WHOLESALE CORN DOWN

Sugar Goes up 15c on Refineries Urging; Butter Weak

PORTLAND, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Wholesale egg market remained weak at today's opening. Quotations were unchanged but price shading was in evidence on which basis retailer demand was fair. Receipts were more than sufficient.

Some of the wholesale butter market was also weak. Produce exchange quotations were unchanged, demand was limited and receipts ample.

Wholesale sugar quotations were advanced 15 cents a hundred today by Portland wholesale grocers, to be in line with like price advances announced by refiners.

Government market news service reported conditions in California fruit and vegetable trade as follows:

Roeburg Cauliflower Good
An outstanding innovation of the winter vegetable season appeared on the Portland wholesale market today, in the form of 19-carat shipment of Roeburg, Oregon, cauliflower. Quality was good, sizes were medium to large, and the entire lot moved promptly to jobbers. Additional shipments are promised in the immediate future, weather permitting. Quality is comparable to California "over" and superior to current local production.

Apples are in good demand, with cheap cooker stock continuing their monopoly of the market. Portland distributors are probably priced in not attempting to maintain the present satisfactory volume of distribution.

Celery Supply Low
Local celery supplies in storage will be cleaned up within the next week or so. In anticipation of this cleanup, California celery will be received here within the next few days.

Potatoes continue dull, with trading confined almost exclusively to local Burbanks, and an occasional sale of Deschutes Gems. Prices have remained unchanged for three weeks.

Weather Favorable to Economize With Winter Feed

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Lessened buying in corn led to lower prices for all grains today. Heavy receipts of wheat acted as an additional damper. Traders said an eight-cent corn advance since last week made a reaction natural, and that weather conditions were favorable both for corn movement and for economies in feeding.

Corn closed unsettled, 1/4 to 1/2 cents lower than yesterday, wheat at 1 cent decline to 1/2 cent advance, oats 1/2 cent off to 1/2 cent up.

Steels Higher In Late Rally; Selling Small
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—An indolent and indifferent stock market squeezed higher today, thanks largely to a last-minute rally in the steels and utilities.

Turnover, however, was the smallest since December 24, for neither the intermittent declines or advances attracted much of a following, sales totaled 1,708,992 shares. Small early recessions were recovered around noon when the results of the Berlin sugar conference were announced. The agreement, of course, made shorts in the sugar issues cover cover quickly and gains of 1 to 7 points, mostly in the preferred members of the group, ensued.

Library Board Elects Officers
WOODBURN, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Corliss B. Gill and Mrs. Alice Bingham Powell were again selected as members of the Woodburn library board at a meeting of the Woodburn council, held in the city hall Tuesday night.

Assessments were ordered for the residents of Bradley street which was improved this fall. H. Wilson requested the use of city lots on Second street for garden. The matter was left in the hands of the city property committee.

Plans for the marquee being built in front of Landou's furniture store were approved by the council. The street commission rendered an incomplete report on an estimate for the amount of dirt necessary to improve fills on Hardcastle and Young streets.

The various regular bills were ordered paid and the city order for $1500 was approved and filed by Mayor Broyles.

County C E. Group to Meet
WOODBURN, Jan. 8.—The regular monthly meeting of the Marion county Christian Endeavor union will be held in the Presbyterian church in Woodburn Thursday evening. The meeting will start at about 7:45.

An interesting program has been arranged by the committee in charge. Stereopticon slides of interest will be shown and Paul Brown, western states secretary of the Christian Endeavor union, will speak. Mr. Brown is quite an entertainer and it has been promised that he will bring his ukulele along and sing some of his songs.

TURNER LIBRARY IS NEARLY COMPLETED

TURNER, Jan. 8.—Turner's new library building is nearing completion. The plasterers have just completed their work. Mrs. Cornelia Davis is the donor of the property which is to be for the use of her townpeople. A museum will occupy a part of the building.

The high school glee club has received its music for the Forest Drive tournament, and is busy practicing.

Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Cox entertained with a New Year's day dinner. Covers were laid for Mr. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox of Jefferson, Miss Lena Cox of Salem, Miss Edna McClain and George Cox of Albany.

The annual meeting of the Turner telephone stockholders was called for Tuesday. Less than a quorum was present, necessitating the old officers holding over until an election is called.

Kenneth Hickock drove one of the school buses to Salem Tuesday evening, carrying the basketball boys, who played with Parrish. The score resulted in a 30-7 win for Parrish.

Mrs. L. J. Rowley returned the first of the week from Amity, where she was the honor guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Thomas. Rowley also attended a meeting of the American Legion and auxiliary at Sheridan.

Mrs. C. L. Stanley, who was stricken with paralysis a few weeks ago, has improved enough to be glad to receive her friends when they call.

CLUB ORGANIZED
SWEIGLE, Jan. 8.—The upper grades of Sweigle school have organized a Civics club with Rabon Imig, president; Edward Schmidt vice president and Otto Fulk, secretary. Grounds committee, Evelyn and Kenneth Swingle and Dwight Hanson.

SAFETY IS STUDIED
AURORA, Jan. 8.—Traffic Officer Johnson visited the school Monday, and presented each child with a copy of Safety Rules for school children. This safety program is a splendid thing, and parents are cooperating splendidly. During 1930 ten people were killed on the Pacific highway, within a radius of three miles of Aurora. If this could even be cut in half for 1931, the campaign and effort would be very worth while.

CHURCH GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS
SILVERTON, Jan. 8.—The Loyal Brethren of the Christian church held their annual meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of the out-going president, Mrs. S. A. Gay. New officers were elected and installed as follows: Mrs. Joe Kircher, president; Mrs. L. L. Stewart, vice president; Mrs. Marjorie Hannan, secretary; Mrs. E. J. McCall, treasurer.

Over 50 members and guests were present and Mrs. Gay was presented with a lovely water set for her services during the past year.

The next meeting of the class will be held at the home of Mrs. Hanson on the first Tuesday in February.
