Proposed Bill to Compel Grading Declared of No Value

SILVERTON HILLS, Jan. 19.—The Silvertown Hills grange went on record at its Friday night meeting as favoring the Monitor resolution.

The Monitor Grange resolution follows: Whereas, there is a movement on foot to have enacted at the coming session of the legislature a compulsory cream grading law, and whereas: we believe that the enactment of such legislation would not be of any benefit to the dairymen of the state, but would only place upon the dairy industry additional burdens and unequalled restrictions, therefore: Be it resolved, that we are opposed to the enactment of such legislation, and ask that the members representing us in the legislature use all their influence toward its defeat. Adopted by the Monitor Grange No. 716, November 6, 1930 and signed by C. C. Pomroy master, and Carrie Tyler, secretary.

Also a resolution drawn up by the Silvertown Hills grange as follows was adopted: Whereas: there is being imported into our country a substitute for butter that is of no value to the public compared with the real article, and whereas: some merchants are refusing to handle the foreign product Grange No. 743 in regular session assembled, that we heartily commend the action of those merchants who are loyal to their own interests as well as

$5,000 in cash prizes for the best letters

on "How advertising has increased my happiness"

HERE is your opportunity to turn a personal experience into money, simply by writing a letter. This prize contest is sponsored by Foster and Kleiser Company, outdoor advertising, and a group of the leading newspapers of the Pacific Coast.

The purpose of the contest is to secure first hand information, written out of personal experience, as to the contribution which advertising is making to our everyday lives.

Nearly everyone is influenced, consciously or otherwise, by advertising. The sponsors of this contest believe that your letter on how advertising has increased happiness will be a valuable contribution to advertisers and business men generally.

To win one of these generous prizes...

You have only to describe a way in which advertising has come into your life and changed it. Perhaps you have learned through advertising to abandon a tiresome method in your household, and so have increased your leisure, and your freedom to follow your own pursuits and pleasures. Through advertising you may have learned of a book or a play or a bit of music that has opened to you new avenues of enjoyment and improvement. Or a travel advertisement may have set your wandering foot on the paths of delight that lead nowhere—and everywhere.

Or you may have learned of a new food product, or a soap, or a tooth paste which has given you pleasure and satisfaction.

Write about your experience...

These are but a few of the many kinds of experiences which you may have had with advertising. There is no limitation upon the experience of which you may write—we are interested in any kind of an experience providing that it was brought to you by advertising of some form.

Although the sponsors of this contest are engaged in outdoor advertising and newspaper advertising, a most important rule of the contest is that you must not mention the name of the publication or the advertising medium where you saw the advertisement which influenced your life. The judges are not interested in knowing whether the advertisement appeared outdoors or in a newspaper or a magazine or if you received it through the mail, or over the air.

Their only interest is: A clear description of an experience you have had through advertising of any kind without any mention of what kind of advertising it was. They are interested in the experience and not in the advertisement.

It is only necessary...

To relate the effect that the advertisement had upon you—how it sent you off to buy the article or service that you saw advertised, and the effect of that purchase upon the comfort and pleasure of your everyday life.

To do this it is not necessary to be a trained writer. A simple story of an event, filled with deep, personal, human interest is of more value than a more pretentious literary effort with less meaning.

How to enter the contest...

To enter the prize letter contest is a simple matter. The contest is open to everyone except—

An employee of Foster and Kleiser Company.

An employee of this newspaper.

Or any persons professionally engaged in advertising.

All other persons are eligible.

The rules are simplicity itself.

Letters must not exceed 500 words.

They must be written on one side of the paper only—preferably typewritten—otherwise in clear legible handwriting and signed with your full name and address.

They must be addressed to Department of Education, Foster and Kleiser Company, Eddy and Pierce Streets, San Francisco.

They must be mailed before midnight of February 28, 1931.

One person may not claim two prizes, but may enter as many letters as he pleases.

Foster and Kleiser Company reserves the right to reprint any or all letters received in the contest. No letters will be returned.

As soon as the judges have made their decisions, announcement will be made in this newspaper and by personal letters to the fortunate prize winners.

Begin now to win your prize...

Remember—you do not have to be a skilled writer in order to send in a prize winning letter.

You must not mention where you saw the advertisement or whether it was in a magazine, a newspaper, or on an outdoor poster or in a letter or folder. It is the personal experience that counts.

Advertising—at one time or another—has opened the way to a fuller life and greater happiness for every one of us. Tell us in your own words—not more than 500 of them—how advertising has increased your happiness.

- FIRST PRIZE $1000.00
