Comeback of Hansen Gets Bad Setback

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Joe Sharkey, Abilene, Mich., middleweight, spoiled Haakon Hansen's comeback in the ring tonight by winning a decision over the Norwegian after eight fast rounds.

Spotting his opponent almost ten pounds, Sharkey scored repeatedly with a sharp left hook and captured five of the eight rounds. Hansen, back in the ring after a six months' rest, weighed 155 1/2, Sharkey scaled 149 3/4.

In a scheduled eight-round semi-final, Harry Dillon, Winnipeg light heavyweight, won a technical knockout over Al Wilkins of Michigan in the sixth round. Wilkins suffered a badly bruised eye in the fifth round and the referee refused to let him continue in the next. Both fighters weighed 175 pounds.

L. Hemenway Is Champ on Alleys Here

Scoring 59 pins more than her opponent, Mrs. Merton C. Hemenway struck and spared her way to win the title of Salem's champion woman bowler, in a five game total pins match with Mrs. Don Poulin on the local alleys Saturday night. As champion, she will have possession of the Hartman trophy, a silver loving cup, for the next year.

Mrs. Hemenway and Mrs. Poulin won the right to play against each other for the championship by winning over all comers in a doubles match last year. They had held the trophy jointly.

Scores were Mrs. Hemenway, 856; Mrs. Poulin, 796.

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 19. (AP)—Ernest Lombardi, heaviest hitting catcher in the Pacific coast league for the last three years, was sold today by Oakland to the Brooklyn Nationals. The deal involved "not less than $50,000," according to Oakland officials, and two players—Henry De Berry, veteran catcher, and Eddie Moore, who played both at second base and in the outfield for Brooklyn last season.

55 From Salem High Attending Willamette U.

Salem high school has 55 graduates registered in Willamette this year, and had 48 last year, Dean Frank M. Erickson informed Supt. George Hug and Principal Fred Wolf yesterday. Erickson also said there would be no attempt to limit the registration from Salem high for next fall to 30, despite word of H. M. Tenen, registrar, to Principal Wolf that such a step was contemplated.

Guard Quint Facing Hard Week's Sked

DALLAS, Jan. 19. — Company L basketball team of Dallas has a hard schedule outlined for this week with two contests to be played. Tuesday night the National Guard team plays the Perrydale town team on the local floor. Company L defeated Perrydale earlier in the season at Perrydale but the boys expect a hard game. The second string will probably play a great deal of this game in order to save the regulars for Wednesday night. There will be a preliminary game between two Boy Scout teams.

On Wednesday night the Company L boys will play the Sheridan town team here in Dallas. This Sheridan team has won 10 out of 11 contests played so far. There will be a preliminary game Wednesday night between the Dallas Police and the Jason Lee Methodist church team of Salem. This will be the first game for the Police this year but they expect to give Jason Lee a battle. Jason Lee won the game last year by a 16 to 8 score.

Cunocar Pin Five Winner

Business league bowling last night saw Cunocar Service win two out of three games from Salem Retail Bakers and the other four teams not playing. Cunocar scored high series and game.

Since Business and Statesman league have not been playing as regularly as might be desired, it is planned to reorganize them. The present proposition is to make of them one big eight team league.

A number of good players are being sought to fill up this new league which is expected to get started next week. It will probably be called the Statesman league.

CURT COMMENTS

A certain soup company which advertises nationally has always included a picture of a Kewpie in its page ads—but just last week the ad appeared without the Kewpie—and now we discover that the company and its officials are being sued for eight million dollars—maybe they've suddenly lost faith in those childish fairy tales.

Those cheese-shirted boys from Tillamook demonstrated Saturday night that if they get into the state tournament this year they'll make somebody worry. Russ Rarey always did bring a colorful crew up from the land of tresses and breezes, with always one outstanding star. So far they've never gotten to the finals in the tournament but apparently Russ has built them up for this year and it may be different. Heretofore he's never had five basketball players—real ones—all the same year.

Down in Georgia a Wildcat got all riled up and attacked a locomotive. But just like our own Wildcat, he found he was giving away too much weight.

The boxing and wrestling commission wants to see some of the big shots in the ring game perform in its own squared circle—and so do we. Those boys demand big guarantees and Harry Plant hasn't been able to see them. Furthermore, he has always contended the fans wanted to see the local boys in action.

Now, apparently, we're going to see some of the big fellows—for a time, anyway. After the first fight or so, repetition of that sort of thing will draw on what the first ones draw. We hope they draw.

Steinbock's Lead Grows To 249 Pins

Keeping up his steady, accurate pin-smashing, Sam Steinbock raised his 154 pin lead to 249 at Portland Saturday night in the third round of his 50-game series with J. W. Blaney of Eugene. Both men were in much better form in this match than in the one the previous Sunday here, their totals were each some 300 pins higher.

The fourth 10-game match is scheduled for next Saturday night at Albany. Steinbock: 194, 185, 180, 226, 192, 197, 226, 189, 226, 200—1916. Blaney: 178, 196, 172, 199, 191, 233, 170, 182, 200, 201—1920.

OTHER TEAM WON

Wendling is Last Victim Of Salem 'Y'

The Salem "Y" team won its 12th victory, with no defeats to mar the record, by defeating the Wendling "Y" team, 48 to 28, at Wendling Saturday night.

The local players reported that the gymnasium was small and the game fast and a bit rough with close checking. In fact it appears that it was bad policy to hold the ball very long for someone would be right there on you. Two games with the Astoria "Y" team still remain, and one with the Eugene "Y." The boys are looking for other teams which will play.

SENATE PRESIDENT IS SPEAKER HERE

Willard Marks Takes Well With Chamber of Commerce Audience

Senator Willard Marks of Albany, president of the 1931 senate, made a well-received talk to the chamber of commerce Monday noon, cleverly interspersing his serious remarks with a running fire of witty stories which held the attention of the 100 members at the meeting.

Marks said the 1931 session of the senate, while comparatively free of "organization," could not be considered weak. He praised the freedom from logrolling, and machine domination and said legislation could not be as readily considered on its merits.

Touching on the subject of economic depression, Marks said conditions in Oregon were far more satisfactory than in the east and held that people here had comparatively little cause for complaint.

Citizens of Oregon need not expect marked reduction of taxes from the legislature, he said. Only four cents of every tax dollar spent in Oregon is for the administrative cost of the statehouse, with roads taxing 17 cents of each dollar and schools 43 cents. The largest taxes, said Marks, are those imposed by the voters themselves.

The senate reconcluded his address by an admonition for each person to value each day of his life, and quoted the Sankrit, "Salutation to the Dawn."

LEGION AUXILIARY TO BACK RECITAL

One of the biggest meetings in recent months was held last night by the American Legion auxiliary at McCornack hall, with more than 50 women attending the business meeting and bridge party which followed. Special guests at the meeting last night were: Mrs. Audrey K. Kuhn, department of Washington, Frank E. Bauer unit 42; Mrs. Fred Kiddle of La Grande unit; and Dorothy McCullough Lee of Rose City unit.

Committee chairman of the event last night consisted of: Mrs. Walter Zosel, Mrs. Charles Dural, Mrs. D. J. Bowe, Mrs. J. T. Delaney and Mrs. H. R. White.

At the business session, plans were laid for the recital to be given at Waller hall Thursday evening, January 29, by Lena Belle Taiter. The auxiliary is sponsoring the recital here, with Mrs. Walter Zosel in charge of the ticket sale.

The auxiliary also planned for an all day sewing meeting Friday, January 23, at the home of Mrs. M. J. Melchior, 2155 S. Church. A potluck luncheon will be served.

BARTON MEETS JENSEN FRIDAY

Grapplers Well Known in Salem are Matched For Next Show

"Roughhouse" Billy Barton, of New York, who lost a match to "Wildcat" McCann here several weeks ago by committing an accidental foul after each wrestler had taken one fall, is now going to get his chance to show his wares against Thor Jensen of Olympia, when they meet here Friday night at the Armory.

Billy and Wildcat were putting on a great show when the unfortunate accident occurred and the match was awarded to McCann. Barton is clever, speedy and aggressive, and will put on as good a show as most any wrestler in the country.

That he is meeting a tough opponent, is well known by all who saw Thor Jensen when he wrestled McCann here about Christmas time. Jensen and McCann worked with each other for two hours and only one fall apiece could be obtained in that time. Jensen seemed to hold a slight edge in the bout though, and is big boned and strong. His educated feet helped him a great deal in his wrestling and he gained many an advantage by this method. Jensen has been dragging them in up at Olympia, Washington which is his home town and the fans up there are proud of their mat wizard.

Fist Moguls From Outside Now Invited

Decision to let down the bars to other promoters in addition to its own matchmaker, Harry Plant, provided the said promoters can furnish proof they are able to stage high class shows, was made by the Salem boxing and wrestling commission at its meeting Monday.

The matchmaker stated following the commission's meeting that this decision coincided with his own wishes. He expects to continue matching local boys against outsiders in the shows he produces, and to offer them at popular prices. He expects that outside promoters will bring in the more noted scrappers, probably on alternate Wednesdays.

The commission formulated the following set of rules for promotion of bouts by outsiders:
1. Complete boxing cards must be approved by the Salem boxing and wrestling commission at least 24 hours prior to starting time of the opening bout.

2. Promoters must post small forfeit to insure completion of the contract in good faith.

3. Promoter's forfeit shall also guarantee payment of incidental expenses incurred, as advertising and other expense.

4. All participants must weigh in prior to their appearance at ringside.

5. The Salem boxing and wrestling commission shall continue supervision of all bouts and matches as in the past in accordance with state laws governing boxing and wrestling matches within the state.

6. Officials, such as timers, referees, etc., shall be named by the commission.

Tom Loutitt was named as official boxing referee, and Matthey, wrestling referee, was retained.

HOWARD ADDRESSES PARENT - TEACHERS

The character development program of today's school must be integrated with the entire educational process, and not made a mere 15 minute tacked on to the state. The manual was drawn up by a committee of prominent educators after the last legislative assembly passed a bill calling for the use of such a work in the schools.

The meeting last night, a fashion show was presented by the girls of the Leale sewing classes under direction of Anna Miles; and a kitchen symphony was presented by the "Kafeteria Yankers," girls who assist in the Leale school cafeteria. Mrs. Double Hatfield of the faculty directed the "symphony."

Apportionment Of Road Funds Made by Court

First apportionment of road funds for 1931 was made yesterday by the county court, with $110,995.01 of the 4.4 mill and levy apportioned to the road districts of the county on basis of valuation. The entire levy under the general road fund, as this is known, is $117,984.05. Last year the levy was 4.5 mills, the apportionment reaching $112,444.85. The Brooks road district, No. 17, received the largest sum under the apportionment, or $2,676.50. Next highest was district 19, north of Salem as far as Keizer, which received $1,449.10. District 58 near Silverton was given $329.67. The smallest sum went to district 43, which will have placed to its credit $162.67.

Bearcat Mat Men to Face Normal Soon

With the interclass wrestling matches successfully run off, Willamette wrestlers are rapidly getting into shape for the inter-scholastic matches which are to start in the near future.

Roy Mink, coach and team member, has announced the first matches here which will be with Monmouth Normal February 14. The Willamette team will probably wrestle there before that time. Matches both here and in Portland have been arranged with the Multnomah club, but these will not be held until the latter part of the season for the club men are clever mat artists.

At present none of the Northwest conference schools have wrestling teams but Willamette hopes to lead the way and interest other schools in that sport. Already some of the seeds of effort have struck fertile soil as Pacific has declared its intention of establishing a wrestling team.

Reports come from there that several of the Badgers are experienced wrestlers and although no team has been organized in the past, it is very likely that wrestling will be started at once and matches between the two schools be arranged for this season. Willamette has also shown some interest in organizing a team and such action may be taken there.

Practice matches with several high schools have been arranged for the near future. Chemawa, Benson, Polytechnic and Sandy high schools have already been scheduled and several more will be added to the list. Ten matches will be run off in five or six weeks. Sometimes good men are found on the high school level. Benson in particular having several clever men.

HOYT DAMAGE SUIT UP IN COURT HERE

Judge McMahon's department of circuit court was occupied yesterday with presentation of testimony in the case of Sylvester A. Hoyt vs. Joseph Lokin, in which Hoyt seeks $7,100 damages for an alleged shot in his leg.

All but one or two of the witnesses presented testimony yesterday, and it is expected the case will be concluded before noon today.

The event on which the trial is based occurred December 7, 1929, on the Lokinger farm near Mt. Angel. Lokinger alleged Hoyt entered his chicken yard about 10 o'clock that night with intent to steal and that he did not shoot until he had warned the man to cease. He says he did not shoot then with intent to hit or injure.

Hoyt says he was unable to work for a year after the injury and claims $5000 general damages, $300 for medical costs, $300 for hospital, and $1500 for loss of the year's work.

The signing of Mike Gonzales by the St. Louis Cardinals, brings the 38-year-old veteran catcher back for his fourth appearance in the majors.

Seek to Add Seat Room At W.U. Gym

A. E. Doyle, architect of the Willamette university gymnasium, is coming to Salem today to make a survey of the seating capacity of the gymnasium, in preparation for the state basketball tournament.

Coach "Spec" Keene is vitally interested in the question of seating capacity for the tournament, as an increase in seating space must be effected before this year's tournament if Oregon expects to retain it in future years. The teams assemble here March 18, 19, 20, and 21. This leaves but a short time for preparations and some plan of financing the project and building the addition must be formulated immediately.

Doyle will be able to figure out the seating arrangement to the utmost capacity of the building, as he was the architect and is familiar with the strength of the building. If a balcony is built in one end, as has been suggested by previous investigators, a glass backboard may be used so the crowd can see all of the floor.
