

Town and Gown Club Has Special Program

Members of the Town and Gown club are anticipating an interesting program this afternoon at Lausanne Hall at which time Supt. O. H. Lippe of the Chemawa Indian school will speak on the subject of "Work Among the Indians of the Northwest."

Musical numbers will be given by the Chemawa Sextette under the direction of Miss Judd. Those who make up the sextette are: first soprano—Alice Slater and Neiba Aramuz; second soprano—Marie LaFrance and Eleanor Sanderson; alto—Grace Marshall and Katherine Gartman. The sextette is directed by Mrs. Alice M. Judd.

The girls will sing a group of popular numbers. Two Indian songs, "Wi-Um" and "The Weaver" both composed by Leurance, will be given as a duet by Miss Slater and Miss LaFrance.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Almira Hale, Mrs. George Alden, Mrs. J. D. Foley and Mrs. F. G. Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Chambers were hostesses in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Phillips Tuesday night at the Chambers home. An evening of cards which were in play at four tables was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and children, William Jr., James and Don, will leave today for California where they will spend the next two weeks.

Miss Maude Covington, Miss Leila Johnson, and Mrs. Ralph Curtis were guests at the home of Mrs. Rodney Alden of Woodburn, Wednesday.

COME INTO THE KITCHEN

By ELLA M. LEHR

"Wife-Savers." Poor little Cinderella—huge blackened pots and pans, ashes and soot and back-breaking bending, singed eyebrows and parboiled hands—is it any wonder that it took a fairy godmother to transform her into a prince's prize?

There's been many a Cinderella since then—there still is! But the power beneath the pan is the godmother today, and the modern Cinderella, slipping off her wing of an apron, turns a button and with a click of her French heels shouts, "goodbye kitchen—home at six with the dinner cooked."—prince or no prince!

A 100% device for use by the gentler sex—the electric range has assumed a prominent part in happy home making—and has come to stay. It never tires, never gets a headache, never demands a day off to visit a grandmother, or fails to appear when you're entertaining rich Aunt Hetty. Clean, quick, convenient! And speaking of ranges—the modern gas range certainly isn't any slouch! Far be it! Decorative, colorful and practical—possessing the earmarks of quality which makes it cousin to the electric range! On either the oven heat regulator is the "open Sesame" to a woman's outside world and enables her to leisurely cook by mathematics instead of calisthenics!

The wages of these modern chefs are up to you! Never are they exorbitant if you recall the help problem and if you utilize their possibilities. As a very close relative we'd introduce the modern iceman, the mechanical refrigerator cooled by wire or cooled by the flame that also heats! Doesn't track mud in on your nice clean linoleum neither does he clog with the cook, and provides a veritable safe deposit vault for your foods.

For the beastly cleaning up—automatic water heaters—gas or electric—give forth steaming dispiriting at a twist of the wrist—while an electric dishwasher is the housewife's idea of a culinary Utopia, and a sure cure for the banes of husband's existence!

Then there are motors galore which do everything, it seems, but spank the baby—any woman who does anything by hand that an electric motor can do is valuing herself at three cents an hour or less! Think of it! Who said equal rights for women?!! Adequate light in the kitchen is all important—a central lighting fixture which casts no shadow—a light over the sink and one over the oven, and appliance outlets to conveniently take care of small electric appliances—beaters, and the like. Switcheboards in basement, back porch and garage should be in the kitchen.

Plumbing—ah, what sins are committed in thy name! Member the old soapstone sinks and drain boards? And the architect who consults the kitchen as to the height of the sink is as rare as the dodo! Look to this by all means. Aching backs do not make for domestic felicity.

There are scads of built-in fixtures—cabinets, work shelves, bins, cooler cupboards and the like. Some little-thought-of features are coat closet for wraps and galoshes, a built-in broom closet (have this about 3 feet wide, 18 inches deep, and six feet high so that it provides a shelf for cleaning supplies with hooks underneath to hang up broom, mop and so forth); a package receiver—merely a trap door, with a spring opening from the outside onto a shelf, a garbage incinerator or garbage receiver; cold clothes chest, dish warmer; a breakfast alcove; drawer and cupboard space galore. Was there ever a woman who couldn't fill every nook and cranny and then not beg for more room? Yet too much closet space encourages accumulation, while a dearth of space makes frequent elimination necessary and discourages quantity buying.

A work table of course, porcelain topped, is a necessity if the kitchen is large, and we prefer the kind on rollers—with an under shelf the table slides easily across between the cabinet and range and back to the sink. A drop-leaf serving table hinged to the wall near the dining room is most convenient for serving. By all means include a fire extinguisher, an electric fan, if possible, and sanitary trash and garbage cans. A step ladder stool saves needless stretching and risky climbing, providing a seat so that the worker can sit while ironing, paring vegetables, etc.; a memorandum pad, order list and clock; a cork-board—wound by wire—if you please! Now for putting out the est—! To the rescue you young inventors!

A hanging shelf or cupboard for cookbooks, a small desk for housing accounts, meal plans and planning a weekly note home to mother while the potatoes boil, a low rocker with a magazine rack close by—a gay little flower print on the wall, crispy curtains rustling in the breeze—ah! if we could make but one resolution and carry it out would not the (paraphrasing a bit) be most appropriate—"To build my own kitchen, to give it within and without the character of my own thought and taste, to live in it, to love it, and make of it a new, strong bond of affection between me and mine"—the HAPPY KITCHEN.

House Warming Jolly Affair

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Stewart entertained Sunday afternoon with a "house warming" in compliment to their new home on Culver Lane, Salem Heights. A potluck supper was served late in the evening and music, cards and games made a happy social time. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Linfoot, Ross Linfoot, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilman, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson, Helen Johnson, Margaret Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Luther, Vera Luther, Glenn Luther, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ostlund, Mr. and Mrs. William Gahlsdorf, Mr. and Mrs. H. Fishback, Mrs. Robert Rogers, and Miss Edna Garfield.

Marriage Comes As Surprise

A marriage which came as a surprise to their friends was that of Miss Evelyn Young to Chester E. Page, Monday in the First Methodist church. B. Earle Parker read the simple service before only immediate family and friends.

The bride was attired in a green traveling ensemble with accessories to match. Immediately following the 7:30 o'clock ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Page left for a short wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Page will return to Salem where they will make their home. Mr. Page is a member of the staff of the Thomas Kay Woolen Mills.

Mrs. F. Snedecor Is Hostess

Mrs. Frank Snedecor will entertain members of the Thursday Bridge club with a luncheon at the Marion hotel and afternoon of cards at the home of Mrs. Reuben Boyd today. Members include Mrs. David W. Eyre, Mrs. William Walton, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. Henry Myers, Mrs. George Rodgers, Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. A. Bush. A few additional guests will also be present.

Clear Lake—The Women's Missionary society of the Clear Lake Evangelical church held its first meeting of the year Thursday at the home of Mrs. Roy Smith with Mrs. L. J. Massey presiding. The topic, "Women in Social and Welfare Work" was presented each member taking part.

The next regular meeting will be held February 1 at the home of Mrs. Cecil Boyd. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Eck Dutoit. Members present were Mrs. L. J. Massey, Mrs. V. E. Boyd, Mrs. Emma Smith, Mrs. Bill Dorman, Mrs. Alex. Field, Mrs. Theo Stolk, Mrs. Eck Dutoit, Miss Hazel Clement and Mrs. Roy Smith.

Hubbard.—Fifty-one persons attended the card party sponsored by the Knights of Pythias and the Pythian Sisters at the Pythian hall Monday night.

Twelve tables of "500" were in play during the evening with high scores won by Mrs. Nellie McLaughlin and Louis Ainsworth. Second honors went to Mrs. Elizabeth Fohert and Phillip Weigand, the latter of Aurora. Miss Mildred Smith won the door prize.

Miss Anita Bevins, Miss Orva Barrett and Mrs. Susie Ott had charge of the refreshments.

Gervais.—The Past Noble Grand club met Saturday night with Mrs. Mary Sawyer where the members enjoyed a pot luck supper and pleasant social evening. The club is working on a quilt which is to be sold. Mrs. Clara Shields made the birthday cake for Mrs. Ida Schwab, Mrs. Gladys Pitts and Mrs. Minnie Allsup, whose birthdays were being observed at this meeting. Those present were Mrs. Sig Harris, Mrs. Clara Shields, Mrs. Jessie Coomler, Mrs. A. L. Collins, Mrs. Ida Schwab, Mrs. Minnie Allsup, Mrs. Mary Sawyer and Miss Ruth Palmer.

Sigma Nu chapter of the Delphian society selected Mrs. James Heltzel, Mrs. L. L. Nelson and Miss Loretta Ford as supervisors of the chapter meetings for the second year's work of the chapter, at the Monday afternoon meeting at the city library. Mrs. Frederick Deckebach acted as presiding officer for this meeting. Reports on the study topic, current topic reports, and a review of Theodore Harper's book, "Forgotten Gods" made up the study program.

The Etokta club was entertained at the home of Mrs. A. W. Lane Tuesday. At the tea hour Mrs. Lane was assisted by Mrs. Richard Erickson. The program topic for the study hours was "Mission Days in Old Oregon." Mrs. A. J. Vick read a paper in point and a general discussion followed.

Hubbard.—The poetry club held a meeting at the school house Monday evening. Carl Sandburg and Vachel Lindsay were discussed and many of their poems read. Mrs. Lottie Fry will be the hostess for the next meeting.
