Pattern

2083
By ANNE ADAMS

A dainty and wearable little frock has a becoming square neck and short kimono sleeves cleverly cut to correspond. The bodice is cut in smart straight lines, and the skirt is gracefully full in truly grown-up fashion. Note the little straps that hold the points of the sleeves in place and the tiny colored buttons that trim bodice and belt. Aren't they lovely details?

Pattern 2083 makes up delightfully in cotton broadcloth, percale, dimity, lawn, pique or wash silk. Choose a light ground well covered with colorful posies and match the binding to the outstanding color of the print for a ravishing frock.

May be obtained only in sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 requires 2 yards of 36-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Patterns for every size and simple, exact instructions are given.

DAIRYMEN PROTEST NEW OLEO RULINGS

A protest against the recent ruling of the national bureau of internal revenue which allows the making of oleomargarine with yellow palm oil and exempts the product from the 10 cent tax was made at the meeting of the Salem Milk Producers association at the chamber of commerce on Tuesday.

The dairymen termed the ruling a "serious menace to the dairy industry" and commended those Salem merchants who are refusing to push the sale of oleo or display it conspicuously.

Many producers from the Salem territory are planning to be in Portland today to attend the annual meeting of the state association which is to be held at the Central Library building. The first meeting of the new executive board of the state group will be held on Saturday.

Courtney Home Following Trip With Bank Head

Eugene Courtney of Woodburn returned on Friday from his tour through Arizona, California, Nevada and Utah. The trip was made in company with D. H. Otis, director of the American Bankers' association commission.

Courtney was awarded the speaking tour post because Oregon has again won the highest place in the banker-farmer work of the national association and Courtney is chairman of the banker-farmer committee of the Oregon association.

During the entire trip, which began January 13, much boosting was done for Oregon in explaining work of the Oregon bankers in behalf of farmers.

Amethyst For February-Born Important In 1931 Fashions

By K. D'ORSAY

If you were born in February, with your zodiac sign in Pisces, you are very fortunate in finding for your birthstone the amethyst. For, according to Paris standards, the violet hue of the amethyst is to be one of the outstanding fashionable colors during the year 1931; amethysts promise to be more important in fashions and therefore of more value, than in many years. They are already being used for big-stone necklaces and, especially lovely when combined with one of the stones of their only family—rose quartz.

The superb purple or violet shades of the amethyst, which vary in depth, is said to come from Madagascar. Although the stones of deep color are sometimes called "oriental," the real oriental amethyst is a purple sapphire and is exceedingly rare. One Greek legend has it that the meaning of amethyst has to do with wine because of its coloring and that its wearer would never feel any evil effects from drinking.

This legend is carried down to our times in the form of a warning against excess in any form. Disipation is said to have special influence upon the February-born, and if over-indulgence were to gain any hold, it would require more than human power to remove it.

The ruling planet for this period of the year is Neptune, ruler of the subconscious. He gives you an understanding of humanity and life in general—something which may be even beyond your own comprehension and may cause you to become moody and depressed. You must avoid this tendency, as you are lacking in self-confidence and may miss some of the biggest opportunities of your life that are likely to come to you in 1931. If new propositions are presented to you, do not magnify small obstacles to such an extent that you spoil your own success. However, it would not be wise to accept anything that involves too much detail—the attendant responsibilities of the year is Neptune, ruler of the subconscious.
