

Double Hoop Bill Listed for Salem High Court Tonight

KITZMILLER'S FACE Y. FIVE

Salem High Plays Sellwood Colts; Tight Previous Battle Recalled

A double bill basketball program is arranged for tonight at Salem high school, when the high school plays the Sellwood Colts and the Salem "Y" team plays Kitzmiller's five from Eugene.

The high school game will start at 7:30 and the other game will start at 8:30, since Kitzmiller and his squad will be unable to get here earlier.

Coach "Holly" Huntington will start his regular lineup with Bone and Kitcher forwards, Siegmund center and Sanford and Sachtler guards. However, the squad has been strengthened by the addition of Graber and Fletcher Johnson, who became eligible at the mid-year term.

The red and black is expecting a hard game tonight, as the Colts have a smooth ball club. The man to man defense used by the Colts in the first game in Portland completely foxed the Salem high men and they were able to win out only by one point. It wasn't that the Colts had such a slick offense, but that defense never wavered once.

WHY FIGHTS ARE FLOPPING

Congress and Hoover Join To Aid Building Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Congress and President Hoover joined hands today in pushing forward gigantic public building programs.

The administration's $100,000,000 public building authorization measure was passed by the house and sent to the senate where its public buildings committee approved it. In addition, the house passed the Wagner advanced planning public works measure and received from the chief executive a request to appropriate funds for more than 200 public building projects to cost $68,764,000.

The Wagner measure now goes back to the senate for agreement to house amendments. It is designed to stabilize employment and provides for the creation of a federal employment stabilization board to watch the trend of employment and to advance construction programs during periods of depression.

Under the $100,000,000 expansion measure, the administration's public building program outside the District of Columbia will reach $415,000,000, exclusive of about $50,000,000 to be obtained from sale of obsolete buildings.

Of the existing $315,000,000 program, projects aggregating $271,555,676 have been undertaken. The administration today recommended projects aggregating $49,515,000, exclusive of $18,999,000 for the District of Columbia and $11,500,000 under an old authorization.

The new program was referred immediately by Speaker Longworth to the house appropriations committee which is expected to include it in the second deficiency measure, the last appropriation bill to be drafted at this session.

The Kelly bill to authorize $10,000,000 for the purchase of construction of buildings for postoffice substations, branches and garages was brought up for consideration in the house but failed of action.

KING TUT WINS OVER PETROLLE

24-Second Attack Blasts Sensational Comeback; First Real K. O.

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
AUDITORIUM, St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Billy Petrolle, surprise conqueror of Jimmy McLarnin and Tony Canzoneri, met his Waterloo tonight.

Just 24 seconds after he raised his hands to defend himself against the rushes of King Tut, wild swinging youngster from Minneapolis, Petrolle sat on his haunches in his own corner with his head hanging over the second rope—a knockout victim.

A terrific right hand blast to the chin delivered almost before Petrolle knew what hit him, was the punch that did the damage. His knees began to bend and Tut, fighting with the ferociousness of a Tiger, opened up with a barrage of lefts and rights to the head. All of these blows found their mark and Petrolle collapsed. He tried to struggle to his feet at the count of ten but the referee's legs refused to respond and he sat there with his head hanging over the ropes. The referee counted him out.

Petrolle, caught in Tut's amazing whirlwind of punches, was unable to land a single blow on his wild swinging foe. All he could do was clinch in a courageous effort to survive that first right hand belt to the chin. For Veteran

Bearcats Face Pirates and Then Go North for Pair of Tilts Against Puget Sound

The Willamette Bearcats will drop south to Albany tonight and meet Albany College in a non-conference basketball tilt.

Although the Bearcats beat the Pirates by an immense score here, "Spec" Keese is taking his whole squad along with the idea in mind to brush up before starting north to play two conference games with College of Puget Sound and one game with St. Martins at Lacey, Washington. Coach Keese hopes that most of the weak points of his team can be strengthened tonight.

Special attention will be paid to defense in tonight's game. The defense of the team has been weak practically all season. This has been offset by the strong offense, but Linfield scored 36 points on the Bearcats Saturday night and should a team score 36 points and at the same time have a real tight defense, it would make tough sledding for Willamette. The guards have done excellent work all season, but most of the teamwork has been done in offense rather than on defense.

PHILADELPHIA WILL HEAR BUTLER TRIAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Philadelphia, which has seen Smedley D. Butler leading his drive on crime and has heard him as a virile speaker, will see the dashing marine as a defender in a courtmartial proceedings and hear him discuss Premier Mussolini for the second time.

Secretary Adams today fixed Monday, February 16, as the date for the courtmartial to start there.

Major General Butler went to Philadelphia in 1924 as director of public safety and spent two years trying to clean up vice conditions. On January 19, 1931, he made the speech before the contemporary club in which he allegedly described Premier Mussolini as a hit and run driver.

For that speech he is going to stand military trial.

Sessions of Court
Federal Building 10 a. m.

All indications point to open sessions of the court but a positive decision has not been announced.

At a conference with newspapermen, Secretary Adams said "I don't see how many things they might be open."

Charges and specifications for which Butler will be tried have not been completed. They still are being considered by Rear Admiral David Sellers, judge advocate general.

GLADSTONE PUPILS VISIT AT CAPITOL

The eighth grade pupils of the Gladstone public school of Clackamas county, visited the statehouse Monday to watch the legislative in action. The pupils were particularly interested in calling at the office of Secretary of State Hoss, a former resident of Clackamas county, and T. B. Kay, state treasurer, who gave the pupils a few facts about this department.

More Men Here Asking For Jobs On County Roads

Another influx of unemployed men seeking work with the county or in the county through the state highway commission was reported at the county court house yesterday. Nineteen men, the largest number to register in some days, appeared yesterday to sign for work.

Several of them said the lay-off from work on the city sewer project had put the workers almost on their attempt to provide bread and butter for the wife and children at home.

No jobs on the highway emergency program were open in this county yesterday.

DOSSEY RATED A WORTHY FOE

Give and Take Artist Will Meet Ratzlaff Here on Wednesday Night

Local fans who have been wondering if Ratzlaff will meet plenty of competition in Jiggs Dossey, when the two fight at the armory Wednesday night, may be placed at ease according to H. A. Robinson, matchmaker, who states that Dossey is a worthy opponent.

Jiggs is fighting all the time and is in good trim. He is one of these fighters who keeps coming all the time in a fight and never holds back. He and Ratzlaff both are fighters who will take one just to get a chance to give a better one. Last year Dossey won a $50 prize on Captain Harry Hansen's special card, for putting on the best fight of the evening. His up and coming style and his toughness were what made him the favorite there. It will mean a lot to Dossey if he can get a win over Ratzlaff here Wednesday night.

WOODWARD HEARD BY BUSINESS MEN

A witty and discursive talk on legislators and legislation, was delivered by Senator James D. Woodward to the chamber of commerce Monday noon. Filled with Woodward humor and tinged with the philosophy of 67 years, the address delighted the business men who applauded the senator from Multnomah at length.

"While we live under a modified form of democracy and have our high and mighty, I'm convinced we are improving every day and every year," declared the speaker. "My faith in humanity and its desire for better conduct is not shaken through the years. Despite the press, which performs much public mischief that is bizarre and extreme, I know we are trying to improve the conditions of society."

Old Age Pension
Assistant Secretary

Senator Woodward said his advocacy of old age pensions, secured not at 65 years of age but later in life, was based on the view that the costs to the state would not be raised while the service rendered by the individual in a socialized group, would be improved.

"I haven't thought the matter all out," said the senator, "but I know our consciences are behind this matter. We have the power always with us; we must take better precautions to care for the stragglers and jettison of society."

The senator pleaded for a new evaluation of citizenship, not on the basis of the amount of money a man possessed but on his service to the community. "I think a widow raising her family of children just as valuable a citizen as a man who says he pays large taxes and can write his check for $1000 at any time."

He said he felt that within the next biennium the budget must be balanced, even if "Saw" Keese had to go into hiding for 30 days after he submitted the pruned figures. A cigarette tax as a means of adding revenue, the senator said he felt was imminent at this session.

Cougars Win From Idaho Again, 31-21

MOSCOW, Ida., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Washington State college defeated Idaho, 31 to 21, tonight in a Pacific coast conference basketball game.

Washington State took a lead in the first minute of play on a basket by Holsten, and the Cougars were never headed. It was a rough game throughout, the first half being particularly hard fought. The score at recess time was 9 to 8 for W. S. C.

In the second half the Staters rang up counters more regularly. Huntley Gordon, Cougar center, located the hoop in the closing session and scored four baskets.

In the second half Idaho lost both Parks and Wicks on personal fouls.

Gordon of W. S. C. was high scorer with 11 points.

Hack Wilson Signs Up on Dotted Line

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Whether Hack Wilson, the Chicago Cubs' home run clutter, obtained the $40,000 a year he was reported to have demanded was unknown tonight, but at least the chunky outfielder was satisfied with the amount he will receive for the 1931 season.

Wilson and William Veeck, president of the Cubs, met here today and came to terms quickly. Wilson signed a one-year contract. As is usual, in the Cubs' business arrangements with the players, the amount the slugger will receive next season was not revealed.
