

HIGH SCHOOLS ARE LEFT OUT

Free Textbook Bill Given Favorable Report With Vote Slated Today

High school students of Oregon were eliminated from receiving free textbooks in an amendment reported favorably when the house committee brought out the controversial bill onto the floor yesterday. The measure will be up for vote today. The bill providing for state loan of textbooks to public school students heralded the first step in legislation by receiving the vote of the committee, but the benefits of the measure was confined to elementary school pupils only.

Two matters which have held the spotlight during the past two weeks were placed on special order of business for the next two days. The Port of Portland bill was scheduled for vote in the house this afternoon and the old age pension law for the same time the next day.

Senators passed the Anglo provisions for naming the commission to regulate port activities and finances Monday, but held it over a day before returning it to the house for approval of its amendments. A debate on this amendment during the session in Portland vacated this year is expected, and observers predict a possible deadlock in the house on the issue. The measure as it now stands has the approval of Governor Julius L. Meier.

The old age pension law, providing payment by the state of $20 to every eligible dependent past the age of 65 years, was reported out of the committee favorably last week, and was delayed until Thursday for final action. This measure also is a controversial one, upon which public hearing was recently held.

A move to reconsider the bill would allow Multnomah county to provide for an art association in Portland. The measure will appear on the calendar for early review. Another measure directed at the oleomargarine business was introduced, this one providing a payment of 15 cents a pound excise tax to the dairy and food commission. A permit is also required by dealers to sell oleomargarine or butter substitutes.

Preservation of lakes and streams was approved in three proposals passed. A memorial to congress asking an appropriation of $50,000 to improve Takelish and Sitcoons lakes in western Lane and Douglas counties and preserve these lakes as resorts was given favorable votes. Prohibiting boat fishing on portions of the McKeenias and Umpqua rivers, while Lake of the Woods river in Klamath county was preserved as a resort were provided in other measures approved.

COOKING SCHOOL'S DATE DRAWS NEAR

for new suggestions, even an accountant's assistance, or dress-makers are always looking for new and improved ways of performing their work. There are so many different ways of combining them and various ways of seasons that we can always have unlimited varieties of serving them. This is only one of the reasons why you should attend these Cooking Matinees.

These for Ovens
There are many delicious dishes which can be prepared in the oven—things which we always thought had to be cooked on top of the stove. All we have to do is to prepare the various dishes, put them in the oven, set the time control properly and forget about them until it is time to serve them. No more "basting" and getting all steamed up every fifteen minutes by having to open the oven door. Our temperature is all set properly, so we don't have to look, as there is no possible danger of burning if we go according to instructions for the dish we are preparing. The speed, ease, and economy with which an oven meal can be prepared is almost unbelievable.

Oven meals may be of the long-time type which require several hours of cooking, or they may be the oven more popular short-time meal, which is ready to serve an hour after it goes into the oven. The heat control which regulates the temperature of the oven makes it possible to place an entire menu, including dessert, in the oven and leave it to work out its own destiny. Retaining several hours later, the food will be cooked and ready to serve.

Some forethought and care should be expended in planning the combinations suitable for the length of time the meal is to remain in the oven, as some foods are better for short periods and others for longer periods.

There is also a economical to fill the oven to capacity, if possible. Dried fruits, puddings, and vegetables may be cooked for a future meal if the menu prepared does not require the entire oven space. Considerable space may be saved if necessary by using flat top lids to cover food, thus making it possible to place one food on top of the other. If the oven is crowded unusually full, the temperature given may have to be raised slightly to obtain results in the length of time given in the directions. These and other cooking problems will be discussed at the cooking school.

Harry Steinbock Leading Tourney

Harry Steinbock, a brother of "Sammy" at local bowling fame and prowess, led a field of 242 entrants in the opening five games of the Oregon Journal's diamond medal bowling tournament at Portland Monday, according to word received here. Harry rolled the five games for a score of 1913. He was one of three players to make over 1000. The other runners-up chalked totals of 1916 and 1911.

ALL ALIKE

No longer is it difficult for the beauties who adorn his harness. For according to Mrs. Halide Edib, noted Turkish authoress, on a visit to the United States to conduct a series of lectures at Barnard College, polygamy was never very general in her country. She added: "It's hard enough to manage one woman, let alone two, three or four."

It is my personal opinion that if Grant Withers had a really good director he would be capable of some acting that would make one remember his work with a thrill. As it is he only shows glimpses of fine work and then becomes very mediocre—like a candle that flames up only to die down to a small flicker. In "Sinners' Holiday," which is now showing at the Capitol, Grant Withers has an appealing part to play and he does it very well but one wishes that some how the edges could be smoothed down.

ELLIOTT CONFERS WITH CITY CHIEFS

ject will be threshed out at the council meeting next Monday night. There is division of opinion as to the city's chances on an appeal. Some think the point used by Judge Hill to invalidate the decision is in error and that he would be reversed on appeal; others are not so sure about the matter. The practice in the secretary of state's office, according to Councilman O'Hara, is opposite to that which Judge Hill seems to require. There the petitions are considered filed when deposited with the secretary of state, and time dates from that moment. The chiefing follows, with the exception of the office.

President Elliott will remain in Salem today checking over business at the office of the company here. His headquarters are in San Francisco.

sloans gained in the swoop made yesterday, that the still had not been in operation for a long period of time.

No attempt was made to dismantle the still yesterday, and a guard was kept constantly following arrest of the trio. Officers expressed hope that one or more truckloads of supplies would be brought in last night under cover of darkness, and for that reason did not disturb the apparatus yesterday.

The still will be taken down today, with the duties scheduled to leave on the job sometime this morning.

The arrest was made shortly after 9 o'clock.

It had not been determined last night when the trio lodged in the jail here would be given their first hearings before the law.

REDS ATTEMPT TO INVADE CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Communists sought today to invade the floor of the house of representatives, and rebuffed in this, wound up by creating a series of disturbances in the public gallery.

Fourteen persons—whites and negroes, men and women—marched in Capitol Hill shortly after noon as a committee to demand a hearing on the floor of the house or from Speaker Longworth, on unemployment insurance.

They failed and marched away. A group of sympathizers who had entered the public gallery of the house while the leaders were in the office of Sergeant at Arms Rodgers an hour later tried to address the house from that vantage point. Four were ejected.

Bert Kennedy, house doorkeeper, brought about the ejection of the first man who had just moved into the front row of the gallery, when seized by detectives. Kennedy took from him a newspaper on the border of which was scribbled "You are to speak after he finishes."

SCOTTS MILLS AND PARRISH TO CLASH

Parrish Junior high's basketball team will meet Scotts Mills here tonight.

In a game played at Scotts Mills in January, Parrish won 24 to 11. However the Scotts Mills team is improved now and will be able to give a good game here tonight. Parrish will be weakened by the absence of Ellis at guard. Ellis was out of the Chemawa game on account of illness and will not be ready to play tonight.

Friday and Saturday of this week Medford junior high will play Parrish here in a series to help determine the state junior high championship in basketball. Much interest is being shown in the games as this is the first time that a junior high basketball team from southern Oregon has defeated Salem. Medford was easily winner of the Southern Oregon championship.

The starting lineup for tonight's game will be Perrine and Wintermute forwards, DeJardin center, and Hobbs and Clark guards.

LOAN COMPROMISE ON RELIEF SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Senators' republican independents waged an all-day attack upon the compromise relief legislation today and a vote went over until tomorrow.

Senators LaFollette and Blaine, of Wisconsin, and Norris, of Nebraska, led the oratorical assault on the $20,000,000 drought loan fund. They asserted it was a surrender to President Hoover by the senate coalition.

Anxious to get the funds appropriated for prompt relief, democratic and republican leaders who have endorsed the compromise, wise left the talk to the opposition. They are confident of votes for adoption. A roll call was believed in sight for tomorrow.

The republican insurgents contended the $20,000,000 loan chest would be of no benefit to those most in need of aid because of inability of many sufferers in the drought area to put up security. Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, expressed the belief, however, the Red Cross would supplement the federal loans adequately.

STOCKS CLIMB UP AS BULLS ATTACK

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Fervid speculation such as Wall street had not seen in months swept through the stock market today, boosting aggregate share values to the best level since mid-October.

The more popular shares ended the day $1 to $1 1/2 higher, and the day's transfers in the stock exchange totaled to 4,268,000 shares, 700,000 more than yesterday's and the largest since December 17. The sweeping advance met more resistance than it did yesterday, however, and the net progress, as measured by the price index of 20 leading issues, was only a lit more than half as wide.

The advance, which started with an unexpected, explosive bull drive late in Saturday's trading, in three days added more than $1,000,000,000 to the aggregate quoted value of all shares listed on the stock exchange, or more than the total gain of the month of January.

which places pending applications under this act but preserves for such applications any prior rights they may possess.

The hearings which were held in the morning and afternoon brought controversy between Kenneth Harlan and Ge West on the question of jurisdiction. Harlan went back to 1915 and read from a voluminous scrapbook which he called a Sears Roebuck catalog, clippings from the Oregonian upholding state sovereignty. West rejoined that the issue had all been settled in favor of federal authority because of the federal power act and the Utah case decision.

JUDGE SAYS DAISY IS GUILTY ENOUGH

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A five year term of probation, 18 months of which must be spent in the county jail, was granted to Daisy De Roe by Superior Judge William Doran at the close of her trial for the theft of $235, from Clara Bow.

The decision of the court, which saved her from a possible term of one to ten years in prison was preceded by a stern reprimand. Doran, speaking quietly and addressing his remarks directly to the blonde young woman, told her she was not only an "unbeliever" but had committed a serious breach of trust.

As secretary to the film actress, he told her she had held "a good position at a substantial salary and had been entrusted with funds." "You conducted systematic raids on these funds for some length of time and the jury was quite generous in the verdict finding you guilty of only one count."

Mrs. De Roe originally was charged in 37 counts of grand theft with stealing more than $15,000 over a period of a year and a half. "The evidence was sufficient," the court continued, "to support a conviction on all counts."

Amity Hoopers May Challenge Salem Quintet

AMITY, Feb. 10.—The Amity high basketball players are still practicing every day. They are out after more games. Coach Summerville stated that they would have to play about six more games in order to have enough money to start baseball. The boys need new equipment this year so the basketball team is going to try to raise their money for the athletic fund.

They are in hopes of getting games with Salem, Bethel and Independence. Amity high lost four baseball letters last year which they will miss very much but they are hoping for a successful year.

A topographical survey of Cheyenne Bottoms in Kansas, 20,000 acres of which will be made into a game refuge, is virtually completed.
