Y. M. C. A. CAMP PLAN OUTLINED

Two Periods to be Offered At Oceanside, Groups Divided as to age

Initiation of the final plans for the Y. M. C. A. boys' camp at Oceanside is under way at the local association. One of the first orders of business was the division of the camp into two periods of instruction on the ways and means of running a camp will commence Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Two camps will be offered this year to boys of Salem. The first will be for boys 13 years old and over from July 20 to 31. The second will be for boys ages 8 to 12 inclusive, from July 31 to August 7.

Among the features graded by the National Camp Council, the local association's camp is well placed in program, leadership, sanitation, location, efficiency, organization and results. It "stands among the best camps in the northwest", according to this authority.

The purpose of the camp is to provide healthy outdoor recreation under trained picked leaders. Many a boy learns the art of cooperation and helpfulness, and oftentimes develops from a selfish individual into a real social being. Every boy must carry his share of work and assume his quota of responsibility in the tent.

The local association urges that every red blooded American boy should spend a few weeks in a boys' camp. It will develop his spirit, strengthen his judgment, teach him to love the out of doors and will help him to lead a better and cleaner life.

Honors will be given to every boy passing eight out of 12 essays offered at camp. All boys passing 10 out of 12 will receive a camp emblem.

Leaders and honor campers in past years who have indicated a desire to take the leaders' course in preparation for attending this season's camp are Bob Pickens, Everett Clark, Bob and Phil Brownell, Jim Sahon, Frank Pettijohn, Ned Hale, Joe Heraberg, Bill Wright, Harold Witcraft, Frank Shafer, David Hoss, Donald Stockwell, Parker Gies, Bob Boardman, Frank Cross, Wilson Stogmud, D. W. G. Adams, Don Pense, and Irving Hale.

Any boy from Marion and Polk counties may attend the camp. Further information may be had by telephoning or writing to the Y. M. C. A. in Salem.

Most Popular Books at City Library Are Listed

"What are the favorite books of Salem people?" Someone asks. "Huh, now you ask one," scoffs Mr. Wise Guy from the corner. "Just then along comes the inquiring reporter and casts his eye over the annual report of the Salem public library. That was some days ago when the report was first announced.

And behold, Someone's question is nicely answered, and with a degree of accurateness that even Mr. Wise Guy could not have reached.

The books most in demand by the Salem reading public are divided into fiction and non-fiction. Here's what the report showed to be in greatest demand in fiction: Burdick, "Barabans" Ring." Ferber, "Cimarron." Green, "The Selbys." Hargreaves, "Heroine of the Prairie." LaForge, "Laughing Boy." Lewis, "Babbitt." Priestly, "The Island Within." Priestly, "Good Companion." Remarque, "All Quiet on the Western Front." Sackville-West, "The Edwardians." Walpole, "Rogue Herries." Willis, "The Last Full Moon."

CHAIN STORE ISSUE DEBATE TOPIC HERE

No decision was given on a dual debate last night between Willamette university and Oregon State college. One debate was held at Corvallis and the other in Waller hall on the local campus.

The question used was "Resolved, That the expansion of chain stores is detrimental to the best interests of the American people." But one judge was at both meets. He merely criticized the arguments.

Ray Lafky and Ralph McCullough, affirmative speakers, journeyed to Corvallis while the negative team consisting of Ronald Howitt and Fred Whiteford met the invading Corvallis affirmative team.

A system which is perhaps new on the local campus was used in both debates. Each speaker was permitted to cross-examine the preceding speaker for five minutes.

CAMPAIGN OFF TO POOR START

Only $1,946 Reported in on Y. W. C. A. Fund Drive; Ends Thursday

Despite careful organization and the usual number of workers, the annual Y. W. C. A. drive for finance is off to a poor start, with only $1,946 reported in the second day off he drive. The goal of $7,000 must be reached if the association is going to continue its work as in the past, but with the small sum raised up to yesterday efforts will have to be more than doubled if the end desired is reached.

Mrs. Myra Shank, police matron, spoke at the luncheon yesterday, declaring that she had been chided for giving her time to assistance in the soliciting. Mrs. Shank said that she told the children that she owed the Y. W. C. A. so much she was glad to be able to assist in any way in its welfare.

"The Y. W. C. A. has cared willingly for so many of the girls that I pick up in my work that I consider my work in soliciting small. I don't know what I would do if it were not that I can take those girls that come to me to the Y. W."

Employment is Found For Many
 Mrs. M. B. Wagstaff, employment secretary at the Y. W., told something concerning her work. She said that in the last nine months she has placed 619 girls in positions, but that nearly four times this number, or 2,315, applied for jobs. There were 577 calls for help received at the Y. W. in that period. But bare figures do not begin to tell the story of the employment and unemployment—angle of the association, Mrs. Wagstaff said in reciting some of the needy, sorrowful cases that come under her observation in her position there.

The last luncheon meeting will be held this noon, when all workers are urged to attend. Thursday afternoon the drive will close, and all workers are invited to attend a tea at the Y. M. that afternoon when final reports will be turned in.

Approximately $225,000,000 has been spent on the 6,581 miles of road in California's state highway system.

SCOUTING OBSERVES 21ST ANNIVERSARY

In tribute to scouting and the good wishes of the Boy Scout movement, which this week is observing its 21st anniversary in the United States, President Hoover, honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, recently issued the following letter, which will be of interest to Boy Scouts in Salem and their area:

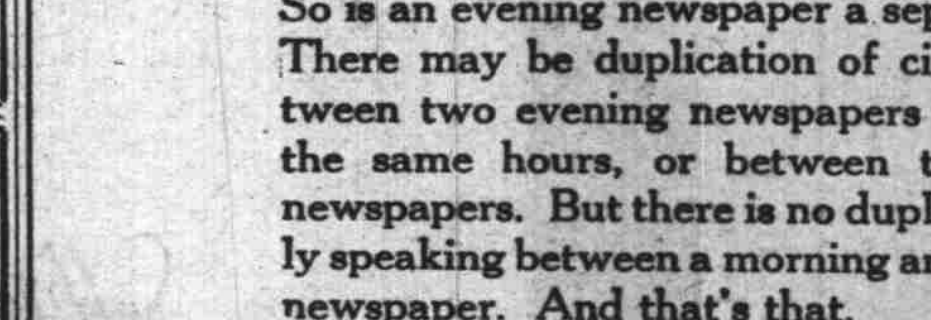

"Boyhood is the period of development. By the time he comes of age a boy has acquired, in body, brain and character, the tools he must use in life. His work and play, his love of camping and knowledge of nature, his courage, his sportsmanship, his desire to serve his fellow men, have become a part of him, of what he will always be.

"Scouting, too, has come of age. Through 21 years it has summoned youth to the great adventure of lofty living. As the first year marks youth's formal passage to legal maturity, so the coming of the 21st year of the Boy Scout movement in America marks its entry into an era of mature service. I hope it may continue through years of increasing usefulness, to release that deep love of humanity, that eagerness to make life fuller and sturdier, that is the very core of democracy itself."

Boy Scouts in Salem and Marion and Polk counties, which comprise this council area, are observing the anniversary week in fitting manner.

Tonight from 7:30 to 8 o'clock over station WEAJ and the nationwide broadcast from New York, Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive, will broadcast something of pertinent interest in the Grantland Rice period. Thursday, beginning at 6:30 o'clock over the same station and network, Dr. S. J. Crumblin of the American Child Health association will broadcast a scout program.

A bill which is now before congress is being watched with special interest by the photo-engraving plant operators of the state, for its passage would virtually drive these plants from operation, says George D. Fraser of the Salem Engraving company. The bill provides for a new copyright law, no copyright notice is required on any work copyrighted, but at the same time heavy penalties for infringement of copyright are provided. Photo-engravers object also to fact that the proposed law is discriminatory in that it restricts protection for an innocent infringer to a person or corporation engaged solely in printing, while not recognizing that a photo-engraver might be equally innocent in the use of an unmarked copyrighted material.

Should the bill become a law, it is said from the national offices of the American Photo-Engravers association that it would reduce to vanishing an industry now creating over $60,000,000 of products. A British writer, in submitting views on the bill, says in England last year, where such a law is in effect, only one in 500

EMANCIPATION NOT FINISHED IS CLAIM

"We can win wars and still lose. That's what we have done. The negro is not a slave today yet he is not free and emancipation must yet take place," declared Rev. J. Lytle Carlton, pastor of the Mt. Olivet Baptist church in Portland, last night in an address before the dinner meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the Jason Lee church.

World peace, economic adjustment and brotherhood or race solution are the three pressing problems of the world today, the visitor said, adding: "These things must all be worked out around conference tables and things must be thought through and we must apply a definite amount of love."

Speaking on the subject, "The Moral Independence of Abraham Lincoln and Our Need for It Today," Rev. Carlton pointed how Lincoln thought things through; how he was not slave of the dollar but independent of it; and of his plan of emancipation for the negro through compensation rather than war.

F. H. Phipps, president of the Brotherhood, presided, and Rev. Hugh B. Fouke Jr., pastor, led the group in southern songs. Perry Reigelman read "He Knew Lincoln" and Billy Mudd gave an oration, "Ben and Pat." The young people of the church served the meal.

Books printed was illustrated on account of the law.

duplication?

SOME confusion exists, we believe, with respect to what has been termed "duplication of circulation" between morning and evening newspapers.

As a matter of pure fact, an advertisement in a morning newspaper is not duplicated in an evening newspaper.

There is repetition here, but not duplication.

As well might one say that an evening newspaper of Wednesday duplicates the evening newspaper of Tuesday.

A morning newspaper is a separate entity insofar as the business of the day is concerned. So is an evening newspaper a separate entity. There may be duplication of circulation between two evening newspapers published at the same hours, or between two morning newspapers. But there is no duplication strictly speaking between a morning and an evening newspaper. And that's that.

In Salem, The Statesman is the only morning newspaper in the area covering thoroughly the homes now worth cultivating with agate-line salesmanship. Here you have first call, first thing on the first homes in the market.
