D'ARCY DESCRIBES GENIUS OF LINCOLN

Tribute Paid in Address at Lions Meeting; Lack of Schooling Noted

"Abraham Lincoln was a man of true genius, for despite the fact that in his early life his surroundings were with people whose minds and feelings were not equal to his own, he developed into a wonderful character, and that development is a most wonderful thing to me," Judge Peter E. D'Arcy told members of the Lions club Thursday noon in addressing them on "Abraham Lincoln."

The boy who was to be the Civil war president was deprived of the advantages of the modern youth, and particularly of an education, Mr. D'Arcy said, pointing out that Lincoln's schooling amounted in all to about one year.

The venerable judge, a small boy in Salem when the Civil war clouds were gathering, told of the early trips of Lincoln to New Orleans, and how the sights which he witnessed there in the south led him to a course of thought and action in behalf of the negro. But later Judge D'Arcy declared: "Lincoln's only desire when the war came on was the preservation of the union. He did not desire that the slaves be free above all else." He read from part of the first inaugural address, showing how through this Lincoln sought to stay the course of the war.

"I don't believe the Civil war would have been conducted as well by anyone else," the speaker said. D'Arcy paid tribute also to the work done by Horace Greeley, New York Tribune editor, during the war period.

The broad views so many times apparent in the actions and life of the man Lincoln were also commented upon by D'Arcy.

LOBBY PROGRAM BY CLUBS IS TONIGHT

Numbers which the Lions and Kiwanis clubs will present as their share of the Y. M. C. A. lobby program tonight at 8:00 o'clock have been announced.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT! Student Writer Finds Teachers Are Human GOLF WAS GIVEAWAY

WOODBURN, Feb. 12—Despite popular opinion, teachers are human and subject to the same temptations that the average man has to contend with.

The associated teachers of Woodburn conclusively proved the above statement Tuesday night when they succumbed to one of the present day evils—poo wee golf.

Tuesday night was the regular social night for the organization so Mrs. Myrtle Clark, in charge of the entertainment, conceived the idea of setting up a miniature golf course in the Washington grade school and letting the teachers emulate Bob Jones at his worst.

Twenty-nine teachers and their families attended the affair. Light refreshments were served later in the evening.

POLICE-FIREMEN'S ANNUAL BALL SOON

The annual ball presented by the Firemen and Policemen club will be given on the evening of March 6. Plans at the present are to have it at the Crystal Gardens hall.

At a meeting of the organization, Tuesday, E. C. Lewis was elected by the body to the post of president. William Bechter was appointed secretary-treasurer.

The committee on committees for the ball consists of Charles Charlton, Jack Cutler, and Bob Mills. They have three committees working with them.

The other committees are tickets—Walker and Winterstein; advertising—Fisher and Smith; dancing—Eberhard, Oglesby, Coffey.

Last year, the money that was raised by the dance, over $800, went to help defray expenses on the "Cherry" James search in Douglas county.

A large crowd is expected to attend the ball this year. Special orchestral and vocal music will be featured.

Folk Songs Are On Program of Breakfast Club

Old Hungarian folk music which has never been written was featured on the regular weekly program of the Salem Breakfast club on Thursday.

UTILITY MEASURES YET IN COMMITTEE

The Meter triumvirate of utility bills—hydro-electric power commission, utility commissioner and grange power bill—lingered longer in committee yesterday and there was no indication any of the measures would be forthcoming for debate in either house until next week.

Attorneys friendly to the administration were giving the bills a careful reworking last night after hearings of recent days had exposed a number of weaknesses in the measure.

Sources close to the governor last night declared that there had been some difficulty to redraw the measures to make them conform to known practices in utility regulation and yet to preserve the main portions of the bills as drawn by the original framers of the measures.

The grange bill, in particular, has undergone extensive remodeling. Its first draft sent to committee showing a number of weaknesses.

Farmers Union Groups Meet at Salem Chamber

Members of the state executive board and of the committees on State Insurance and on Central Buying of the Farmers Union met at the Salem chamber of commerce rooms on Thursday.

HAWLEY EXPLAINS LUMBER BAN BILL

A wire received this week from Congressman Hawley on the Russian lumber situation follows:

Committee on ways and means has just ordered reported a bill amending the law prohibiting the importation into this country of goods made abroad by convict forced or indentured labor by adding to the conditions against such imports that they shall not be "transported, handled loaded or unloaded" by such labor. It changes the effective date from January 1, 1932 to April 1, 1931.

It adds also the following: "In any proceeding under or involving the application of any provision of this act reports and depositions of officers or agents of the United States shall be admissible in evidence." Such reports and depositions are not now admissible in evidence in the courts. The treasury department says these changes materially strengthen the law and aid in its enforcement.

We desired another provision but it was rejected by the committee. These changes were greatly desired by the lumber industry.

Would Cut Out Service Charge In Some Cases

The West Coast Telephone company yesterday filed with the public service commission here a tariff providing for the elimination of the charge for service connections when the instruments are already in place, and when they are connected either for incoming or outgoing service, or both, at the time the application for service is made.

Officials of the telephone company and members of the public service commission held a conference here last week in connection with the new tariff. The company operates in Coos and Curry counties.

GARDEN SEED SALE HERE EXTRA HEAVY

The urge to dig in the earth which seems always to come with spring weather has apparently hit the Salem area.

Seed dealers report that an unprecedented demand for garden seeds has occurred recently. Seeds of all kinds are in demand, both for large and small gardens.

Farmers in Polk county report that in many districts plowing is difficult because the ground is dry eight inches down.

Skipper Slated To Address Ad Clubbers Today

Frank H. Skipper, personnel director of the Pennoil company will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Salem Advertising club today. The club will meet in the Silver Grille of the Gray Belle.

Mr. Skipper's subject will be "The Measuring Stick." He has given this talk in many cities and has received much favorable publicity from it. Members of the local club are enthusiastic over the opportunity of hearing Mr. Skipper.

GIRL RESERVES ON JAUNT TO ASTORIA

Twelve Girl Reserves from the Salem high triangle will be in Astoria today until Sunday for the annual spring conference in session there. Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaher, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and director of the Girl Reserve activities, will be with them. The girls are: Margaret Nunn, Theresa Ulrich, Gwen Gallaher, Virginia Wassam, Dorothy Tucker, Rachel Gardner, Ellen Moore, Ruth Critter, Grace Skinner, Harriet Pointer and Agnes Moore.

A feature of the Saturday afternoon at the conference will be a trip to the famous Astoria column, and in the evening the banquet will be held.

"Pioneers—Today" is the theme of the conference, with Mrs. Robert Sandall to be the conference speaker. Three broad subjects will be discussed in the morning meetings: "Choices," or "How to Evaluate Things," "Relationships With People" and "Vocations." A "workshop hour" will be held each day, in which the delegates will learn more about club duties and committee work.
