Free Cooking Matinees are Scheduled Next Week By The Statesman

Housewives of Salem are eager-ly anticipating the gas cooking matinees which are to be held February 17-18-19-20, in the basement auditorium of the First Methodist church, corner of Church and State streets. The matinees are sponsored by The Oregon Statesman.

Miss Willa Campbell, home economist for the Tappan Stove company, has been secured to conduct these affairs through the courtesy of the Portland Gas & Coke company. Rita Conner, well known home economist in this city, will assist Miss Campbell.

These two ladies are sure to have a store of various useful ideas and suggestions for the

The church was beautifully arranged for the lovely ceremony. A profusion of spring flowers formed a background for the bridal party in which were Miss Honora Reidy, maid of honor, who wore peach net, and bridesmaids, Miss Josephine Maulding in yellow net, Miss Margaret Davidson in orchid net. All the gowns were made in long graceful princess lines. Lace mits and maline hats completed the ensemble of the attendents who each carried shower Colonial

The bride was gowned in white flat crepe satin, tight fitting, and adorned with sequins. A chan-tilly lace cap circled her head and a graceful tulle vell was held in place about the cap with orange blossoms. A prayer book from which fell a shower of dainty flowers and a necklace of pearls completed the bride's gown.

Thornton Coffee acted as best man and the ushers were Clark Jackson, Kenneth Coffey, Hugh Gearin and William Coffey. Following a wedding breakfast with covers for 30 in the Marion hotel the young people left for Santa Cruz where Mr. Coffey is in business. O. S. C. Conference
