

GRANGERS OUTLINE AGRICULTURE PLANS

Representatives Meet With Polk County Agent to Study Projects

DALLAS, Feb. 17—Six projects on the agriculture program for Polk county were summarized at a meeting of representatives of the nine granges in the county last Wednesday. The 33 prominent farmers in attendance drew up plans for a comprehensive program covering production, marketing, legislation and other phases of successful agriculture.

Considerable attention was given to problems of legislation and strong endorsement was made of the proposed federal and state license and poundage tax on oleomargarine. Dairymen expressed themselves to the effect that the prosperity of the dairy industry depended to a great extent upon the enactment of this proposed law. Business folk and other industries are asked to join with them in thus supporting a prosperous industry. To equalize the tax burden the enactment of the intangibles and income tax was approved. The majority present believed that a substitute plan should be presented for the present proposed cream grading bill. A committee was selected to study this measure and to report later.

Endorse Squirrel Fight. Each grange heartily endorsed the present compulsory county-wide grey squirrel poisoning and committee men will be appointed in each school district to assist in the carrying on of the work. Mr. Beck announced that the cost of materials has been reduced and that this year from one to one and a half more pounds of poison will go into each bag, which sells for 50 cents. Consequently more squirrels will be poisoned at the same cost as formerly paid for a smaller amount. The first grey squirrels were noticed early last week and if present spring weather continues the poison is now ready to put out, while they are still hungry.

Another pest which came in for consideration was the Canada thistle, and to avoid the condition which now exists in Marion county, each grange will undertake a spray program in its own community to eradicate the thistle which covers a limited acreage in Polk county.

Grangers gave their unanimous endorsement to the project now under way for the elimination of European red clover seed. J. H. Harland of Rickreall proposed that a red clover association might prove valuable at this time and a committee of five was appointed to study such a plan if feasible, and present it to the next meeting.

Land Plaster Tried. The use of land plaster for alfalfa will be given a trial in all parts of the county, being adopted as the project of several groups. One hundred pounds will be applied to an acre and an adjoining strip will not be so treated, which will give an opportunity to observe the benefits, if any, in each district.

To further the 4-H club work each grange will endeavor to sponsor an active livestock or farm crop club among the boys and girls of their community.

That the granges of the county are intensely interested in their agriculture problems was indicated by their attendance at this first county-wide meeting. Granges and members representing them were: Rickreall, Glen Hogg, J. H. Harland; Monmouth, George Kurze, William Riddell, Jr.; McCoy, C. L. Gilson, G. L. Shields; Brush College, F. E. Wang, Wayne Henry; Dallas, Forrest Martin, Loren Wilson, C. H. Farrar; Oak Grove, S. H. Robison, W. B. Allen; Suver, Martin Conger, George Plov, W. J. Kerr, W. W. Kester; Buell, Herman Eiders, Charles Muller; Forest Hill, William Shepherd, W. W. Werth, Howard Wooden.

At the proper time each grange will advocate the application of sprays and poison baits for protection of the cherry, strawberry and prune crops.

GUESTS AT PLEASANT VIEW PLEASANT VIEW, Feb. 17—Mr. and Mrs. John Ray and Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson and son, Bobbie, of Lebanon and Mr. and Mrs. Angus Staderant of Redding, California, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

Kathleen Key (left), beautiful but impulsive ex-film star, who showed her resentment of Buster Keaton's refusal to lend her $20,000 by crashing his dressing room, wrecking it, and beating up the melancholic comedian. Buster is shown above as he must have looked when he attempted to block the fiery Kathleen's barrage of swears, hooks and whatnot.

Frank Cook. The ladies are nieces of Mrs. Cook, who accompanied them home for a short vacation.
