

NOTED EVANGELIST TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Rev. "Bud" Robinson to be
At Waller Hall; Church
Of Nazarene Sponsor

Rev. "Bud" Robinson, nationally known evangelist of Pasadena, California is to speak tonight at Waller hall, on the Willamette university campus in a meeting sponsored by the church of the Nazarene of Salem. Five other Salem churches are cooperating. Rev. Robinson will tell his life story.

Rev. Bud Robinson, familiarly known as "Uncle Buddy" to thousands of people in the United States, and Canada, and the British Isles, is one of the unique speakers of America. His native Irish wit, and homely philosophy of life have made him the most quoted man of his denomination.

He has spoken in practically every city in the United States and Canada of 10,000 or more population and many of the smaller cities and has had more than 1,000,000 conversions. He is one of those men who have laughed at fate. He was born in poverty in the mountains of Tennessee, had no educational privileges, and had such an impediment in his speech that he could scarcely talk.

He was converted at the age of 21; a cowboy on the plains of Texas, he learned to read from his Bible and has had outstanding success in the ministry for 40 years.

"Uncle Buddy" calls this his daily prayer:

"Oh Lord, give me a backbone as big as a saw-log and ribs like the sleepers under the church floor. Put iron shoes on me and galvanized breeches and give me a rhinoceros hide for a skin. Hang a wagon load of determination up in the gable end of my soul, and help me to sign the contract to fight the devil as long as I've got a fist and bite him as long as I've got a tooth and then run him 'till I die. All this I ask for Jesus sake. Amen!"

Cooking School Note

In the cooking school conducted under the auspices of the Statesman this week, Miss Willa Campbell, director, served a delicious and economical CRISCO, the new shortening.

His spelling was awful but his Eggs Polonaise are grand!

IN THE little hotel where I found this interesting recipe it was listed on the menu as Eggs a la Polonaise. And the recipe I copied away from the chef was as complicated as his spelling. I simplified the name when I simplified the recipe.

But call it whatever you like—it's particularly appropriate for Sunday night suppers, and not too fussy for any day in the week. Deep fried in Crisco, it comes piping hot to the table as delicately flavored as this sweet fat it was fried in.

POLISH EGGS

6 eggs, beaten 1 tablespoon cream
1/2 cup grated cheese 2 tablespoons Crisco (melted)
1 teaspoon minced parsley 1 1/2 cups small bread dice
1 teaspoon minced onion 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Mix eggs, cheese, parsley, onion, seasoning, cream and melted Crisco. Add the diced bread. Drop by tablespoons into hot, deep Crisco (300°-375° F., or when one-inch cube of bread browns in 60 seconds) and fry a light brown (about 5 minutes). Serve plain or with Tomato Sauce (1 1/2 cups) or Tartar Sauce (1 cup).

If you've lost your recipe for SALMON CROQUETTES

Pink inside—brown outside—these salmon croquettes make my mouth water just to think of them! They make a delicious main dish—salmon and potatoes, well seasoned with chopped parsley to lend color and add flavor, wrapped in a golden crunchy coating that only frying in Crisco can give. Foods deep fried in Crisco always taste fresh flavored and good, for Crisco itself tastes sweet and fresh—and comes to you in an air-tight can.

1 cup salmon, canned or left-over, boiled 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 1/2 cups mashed potatoes 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

1 egg beaten with 1 tablespoon water. Dried bread crumbs. Mix ingredients thoroughly and shape into croquettes about the size of an egg—roll in dried bread crumbs, dip in egg, then in crumbs again. Fry in deep hot Crisco (300° F., or when an inch cube of bread browns in 60 seconds)—drain on unglazed paper. Serve plain, garnished with lemon rings or serve with cream sauce.

ALL MEASUREMENTS LEVEL. Recipes tested and approved by cooking authorities. Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Company.

Taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor will tell you why things made with Crisco taste so much better.

In its new airtight can—as fresh and sweet as the day it was made
