Organization Votes to buy More Good Playground Equipment

SCIO, Feb. 21—The P.T.A. met in the schoolhouse Thursday evening for their regular meeting.

VEGETABLES COME IN GREAT VARIETY

A wide variety of fresh fruits and vegetables is now on hand on Portland's team-tracks, supplanting the local produce which has been so plentiful heretofore, during the present winter.

Although orange receipts are liberal, these are practically all received via steamship at present.

Refrigerated carlot movement of oranges is expected to be resumed in the near future.

Rains throughout California is resulting in irregular shipments of many commodities.

Imperial valley asparagus, which started to move last week, nearly a month earlier than usual, is now curtailed by rains.

Lettuce shipments are also expected to be on a moderate volume, with present quality of loadings generally inferior.

Oregon potatoes and onions continue to be crowded out Portland retailers, by producers, as fast as the consumer demand will permit.

Prices are steady to slightly weaker.

February is rather too early to report the market outlook for 1931 late crop potatoes.

Preliminary information, however, indicates that growers intend to plant about five per cent more acres than in 1929 and 1930.

Potato production totaled only about 360 million bushels in 1929, the same as in 1930, because yields were below average.

With average yields on acreage equal to that of 1930 would produce over 400,000,000 bushels.

Crops of that size usually bring low prices.

Stocks of merchantable potatoes held by growers and dealers in the 35 late potato states on January 1 were estimated at 83 million bushels, or slightly less than a year previous.

On the other hand, an increase is indicated in the early potato acreage. If the late-crop acreage is increased and average yields are obtained, the supply of potatoes during the 1931-32 marketing year is likely to be more than offset the expected improvement in demand.

Somewhat more difficult production credit conditions and smaller stocks of certified seed may tend to curb growers' plans to increase production.

LIVESTOCK TREND IS DOWNWARD MOISTURE REPORT LOWERS PRICES

Hay Also Slides Down Due to Absence of Winter Weather

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 21—(AP)—A further recession in livestock prices was apparent at the turn of the market here this week.

Heavyweight hogs, 250-290 pounds, were down 25c to $7.00-8.00; medium were off the same amount to 7.50-8.50 for 200-220 pound stuff; 160-180 pound lightweights were 8.25-8.50, and feeders and stockers alone were unchanged at 8.75-10.00.

Best steers from 15 to 50 pounds were off from 15 to 50 cents at 8.00-8.25, and cows were down a quarter to 6.25-6.75. Vealers were unchanged at 10.00-11.00.

Lambs alone showed an inclination to gain and quotations were fairly steady at 7.00-7.75, a slight increase.

The stabilized price of wheat continued at 68 cents for Big Bend bluestem. Other grades were 66 and 63 cents.

Oats continued at $2.50 and $2.30. Some grades of hay fell off, and the list was steady at these quotations, based on buying prices, f.o.b. Portland: Alfalfa 14.50-15.50, off about a dollar; valley timothy 17.50, unchanged; eastern Oregon timothy 19-20, up 10c; clover 19.00-11.00; alfalfa, valley, 2nd cutting 15.00-17.00; alfalfa, Oregon, 1st cutting 13.00-15.00; oar and vetch 13-15.50, unchanged.

Fresh extra eggs were 17 and 18 cents, about the same as last week, and butter extras were selling at 28 cents, unchanged.

There was a fractional drop in hop prices, and 1930 Oregon crop was going at 15 and 16 cents.

Wool dropped one cent to 15 cents for medium and 11 cents for Willamette valley coarse.

Italian prune prices improved a half-cent to 6 and 5 1/2 cents.
