Cougars "hot" and Pile up Lead in First Half of Rough Hoop Game

PULLMAN, Wash., Feb. 24. (AP)—The Washington State college Cougars blocked the University of Washington Huskies almost to a standstill and then ran away for a 38-to-26 score in their Pacific Coast conference basketball game tonight.

It was a case of a hot Washington State quintet against a slow starting and poor shooting bunch of Huskies. In the first half the Huskies scored only 9 points, while the Cougars caught 23. For seven minutes the Huskies were held scoreless, and during this time the Cougars went ahead at a point a minute.

In the last half Nelson, subbing at guard for West, went wild and for a time looked as though the visitors would get back into the stride that has carried them to the top of the conference, but the Cougars rallied and continued their march. Nelson, however, got 10 points, enough to make him high scorer, before his attack was solved.

Washington forward, broke through for the visitors' first field goal, and after the score was built to 11 to 5 for the winners, Holsten, Cougar forward, and Willis, guard, went on a rampage that took the count to 20 to 5, seventeen minutes elapsed between the Huskies' second and third field goals.

After a feeble Husky rally in the second period, which brought the score to 26 to 13, Willis and Holsten went back into action and piled up the Cougars' winning margin.

The game was rough, with McLarney and Gordon, for the Cougars, and Fuller and Swanson for the Huskies, being yanked for personal fouls.

Four thousand persons saw the game. The two teams play again tomorrow night to close the series.

SHOSHONE SHERIFF AND DEPUTY FREED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24. (AP)—Merely because they were interested in the enforcement of prohibition laws was no reason for convicting R. E. Weniger, sheriff of Shoshone county, Idaho, and his deputy, Charles Bloom, for participation in the "Mullan run rebellion," the United States circuit court of appeals ruled today. The opinion upset their conviction of conspiring with 22 others, including five trustees and two policemen of the town of Mullan, to increase the town's revenues by extra-legal licensing of liquor establishments. Weniger and Bloom were the only ones to appeal. The court pointed out the conspiracy was confined to the town of Mullan, where the sheriff had no jurisdiction over the actions of local officers. Neither of the appellants, the opinion said, conspired with the others convicted to violate the prohibition laws.

"The failure of a person to prevent the carrying out of a conspiracy," the opinion said, "even though he has the power so to do, will not make him guilty of the offense without further proof that he has in some affirmative way consented to be a party thereto."

Henry Jones Not One to Turn Cheek; Uses Fists In Beating Barrackman

Henry Jones, who will wrestle Wildcat McCann here Thursday night at the armory, won a lively match from Mervin Barrackman at Albany Monday night.

Despite the fact that Barrackman outweighed Jones considerably, Jones managed to get two of the three falls and with the approval of most of the Albany fans. Jones rammed his head in the solar plexus of Barrackman and then turned him over for a pin fall. After Jones lost the second fall, things looked different. Both employed boxing tactics in the last period and Jones proved to be a bit more clever in this style of mixing and soon had Barrackman down.

Wildcat McCann says he can wrestle clean if that is in order, and all will admit that he can wrestle the other way. The Wildcat has not lost a match since last summer, except the one which was awarded to Wildcat Pote for an infraction of the rules. McCann has had no less than 30 matches since last fall and is in excellent condition. He has been taking on some tough opponents in practice.

CURT COMMENTS

One of the top notch columnists says a newspaper humorist ought to bat 300—but we know of some who are kept on the payroll because they are good fielders even though their batting averages are not so hot. Let's give our writers a shot at it—there's no one isn't supposed to be funny.

About four years ago there was a blamed good basketball player up at Salem high who didn't quite make the regular lineup but was as good a man as there was. He was a combination of a basketball player and an awfully close to it—there's no use arguing about that now.

Anyway the five regulars on that team were all seniors and so was this fellow. The regulars went to the state schools and three of them made the varsity basketball squad—the other two would have done likewise but they "majored" in other sports. A remarkable showing for Salem high—but remember that was the breaking up of a combination which had been built up through three years of state championships.

But this sixth man went to the college in his home town and turned out for basketball. We can still see that first game he played in: Spec Keene's boys were playing a tough defensive outfit and didn't seem able to break in to the basket, and this fellow Adams went in there and began poking them in from right under the hoop; he made it seem easy where the others had found it impossible. There we didn't mean to tell you, his name quite so soon but it slipped out and now you know.

The outstanding thing about Adams in all his playing was that nothing ever rattled him. He had an amount of tough guys who over convinced him that scoring wasn't a simple matter of waiting up there and popping the ball through the basket. No, we take it back. The outstanding thing was that he always did his best, not for Adams but for the team.

Just last week Adams was handed a big bouquet on the occasion of completing four years of college at Willamette. In those four years he has not always been an outstanding star, though he broke in as a regular, more or less, his first year. Last season he was selected as all-Northwest conference forward.

There have been times when Adams played in the Willamette lineup and one or two of those had to be used to sub for him on the opposing bench and saw Willamette beat the team they were subbing for—but that's neither here nor there. We just thought his career was worth mentioning, among other reasons, because nearly every boy in Salem from six years upward knows Dwight and knows that he's not only a good basketball player but a fine fellow—and another reason is that he'll probably never mention it himself.

Ingram Greeted By Large Crowd Of Californians

BERKELEY, Cal., Feb. 24. (AP)—Five hundred students of the University of California welcomed their football coach, "New Bill" Ingram, here tonight, and the yell leaders had to stand on box cars to make themselves seen above him.

Everyone agreed he was "as big as all outdoors." Ingram, who had a little time on preliminaries, the five hundred, draped on box cars, the railroad station, and on all other elevations, gave him a few yells; Ingram posed for photographers, and then left for his hotel. He will probably start spring practice next week.

WINTER GARDEN'S PINMEN SPEED UP

Winter Garden's bowlers took a sudden spurt last night to win their third straight game. The local Bedding company pinmen, trail high game of 1000 and cop the team series count with 2315 total pins. Elks club defeated Willamette Valley Transfer, an Elks team in the other league match. McKay Chevrolet had to postpone its game with Bake Rite, probably to tonight.

The big game count scored by Winter Garden was not quite enough to beat Elks club's 1063. But Taylor playing for the Garden, rolled high individual game, of 241 and the healthy series of 643 pins.

Under the point system, Elks and Winter Garden each chalked up three and the other two teams, one.

WORK IS STARTED ON GYM BALCONIES

Preliminary work started Tuesday on the installation of the new balconies in the Willamette gymnasium. Two balconies, one on the east end and one on the west end, will be built in order to take care of the large tournament crowds. The new structures will increase the seating capacity almost 600. Work will be rushed in order to complete the job before the tournament begins.

Dark Horses Loom Up for Great Derby

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. (AP)—From out of the west comes Siskin, a rugged son of Epitard, to join the unbeaten Vander Pool and Don Leon of Kentucky as the outstanding dark horse to win the pot of gold at the end of the Kentucky Derby.

On the basis of two year old performances and what meagre information is available out of their winter starts, the trio fall in line behind Equipoise, Twenty Grand, Mate and Inco as the public choices to carry off the honors at Churehill Downs on May 16. Odds varying from 20 to 1 to 40 to 1 can be obtained on either of the three in the derby futures while similar quotations may be had in the Preakness books.

Vander Pool, which races for Mrs. M. F. Allen's Tennessee stable, failed to win the two-year-old championship last year, but he turned in 11 victories in as many starts.

Training Camp Notes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 24. (AP)—Texas produced some sunshine today and the Chicago White Sox had their first good workout since they arrived in San Antonio. It wasn't strenuous, however, with the Athletics chasing fly balls and limbering up.

AVAILON, Calif., Feb. 24. (AP)—Another dozen of Chicago Cub ball players arrived on Catalina Island today, but the same twenty who have been doing all the work, did it again.

BRADENTON, Fla., Feb. 24. (AP)—Jim Lindsey, big right handed pitcher whose relief work last year saved numerous games for the Cardinals, reached camp today, leaving Syl Johnson the only pitcher absent or unaccounted for.

GATES TEAM COMING
Jason Lee M. E. "church" and Gates High school will play basketball at the Y. M. C. A. here at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night.

RICKREALL AND PARRISH CLASH

Junior High Hoopers Suffer General flu Attack; Future in Doubt

Tonight Parrish junior high will play Rickreall at the junior high gymnasium.

Tonight's game is not a league game as Rickreall is in Polk county. However Rickreall is still in the running for the championship of Polk county and the game tonight will give a comparison between the teams of both counties.

Parrish and Gervais are leading in the northern division of the Marion county B league. Each has won six games in the league and lost none. Friday Gervais will come here for a game and Monday Parrish will go there. In case of a split in the series, the third game will be played on a neutral floor. The winner will play off with the winner of the southern division and get a chance at the Chemawa A team for the county title.

At present Parrish is suffering from a general attack of flu. Wintermute, Hobbs, and Nicholson were all absent from practice Tuesday and Ellis was not feeling very well. Last season the numps hit Coach Brown's team about this time and weakened it for the playoff games in the district. If the players do not recover immediately, it looks as though Parrish will suffer a like fate again this season.

TO MEET STETERS
The local Y. M. C. A. team will lay the Oregon State college faculty volleyball team in Salem. Y. M. C. A. big gym, Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Red and Black Hit by Flu Epidemic With Fishermen Due Here on Friday Night

After marching straight through 15 basketball games with high schools and not registering a single defeat, the Salem high basketball squad has suddenly been hit by an epidemic of influenza.

Only two of the first eight were out for practice Tuesday night. Sachtler, Graber and West were home in bed, and Siegmund, Bontie and Sanford did not feel like practicing. Coach "Holly" Huntington complained that he also had a slight touch of it.

It is particularly distressing at this juncture as the Astoria high team is coming here Friday night for a game. This is the last hard high school game on the docket before the tournament and the red and black wishes to keep a clean slate. The best that can be hoped for is that the players will be able to play even though they will not feel like doing their best.

If it were with any other team it would not be so serious, but the Fishermen go all the time. They do not give their opponents a minute to rest during an entire game. There will be no chance to drift along and take it easy when the Astoria five gets in action.

The B team is also hit with the same sickness so there will be no relief in that direction. The players are now taking care of themselves and every effort is being made to have them in shape for Friday.

The only other game on the schedule at present is against Silverton high March 6. A game will probably be scheduled against Willamette freshmen or some other tough team in preparation for the state tournament. The Willamette yearlings have a strong team now with Kloostra and Kaiser being added from the varsity squad.

DEAF HOOPERS OF 2 STATES TO MEET

The School for the Deaf quiet is receiving the final touches in preparation for the game here Saturday night against the California School for the Deaf.

Tuesday night the entire practice period was given over to offensive drill and passing. The local team is now in good condition and will be tuned up to the minute to meet the boys from the sunny state. The California squad will arrive here on the train Saturday morning and rest for the game that night. Last season the Oregon team went to California, but were tired from the long ride on the bus.

Whitty Cox Has Lead in Moist Florida Event

CEBAR HILLS GOLF CLUB, Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 24. (AP)—Whitty Cox, blustering boy from Brooklyn, picked them up out of the bog to lead the field of finishers at the first 18 holes of the Florida open golf tournament here today.

Whitty played the water-logged course in 36-35-71, one under perfect figures, a stroke ahead of his playing mate, George Christ, Rochester, who had a 36-37-72.

FROSH DEFEAT POLK CHAMPS

Monmouth High Sans aid of Star Center, Defeated by 35 to 23 Score

Willamette university freshman hoopers Tuesday night on their own floor accomplished what no high school team has been able to do this season—beat Monmouth high. The score was 35 to 23.

Monmouth was lacking its star center, which was a severe handicap. It was not Monmouth's first defeat, as the team had lost to a quintet listed as the Oregon Normal reserves but including some of the Normal's regulars.

Burdette was scoring ace for the freshmen with 15 points. Hoekema of Monmouth running him a close second with 13.

TEAMS PICKED FOR POLK TOURNAMENT

Four teams will compete for the Polk county basketball championship in a double elimination tournament to be held at Independence March 6 and 7.

Monmouth high and Dallas high are the A teams to enter and Rickreall and Bethel are the B teams to participate. The winner of Polk county will then continue in the race for district championship and the right to enter the state tournament.

Monmouth is favored to win the Polk county tournament, having won 15 high school games and dropped none. Dallas has already been defeated by Monmouth twice, but has been improving lately. The B teams are strong, but not considered as serious rivals for the championship.
District number seven includes Polk, Marion, Clackamas and Multnomah (except Portland) counties. Gresham appears to have the edge in Multnomah county. Molalla is making a strong bid for Clackamas county. Chemawa is now out in the lead in Marion county and Monmouth is the feared team in Polk county. March 13 and 14 the district tournament will be held at Willamette university to determine the entrant in the state tournament.

SOPHOMORES BEAT JUNIOR HOOP TEAM

Playing for the sophomores and points scored were: Rachel Yocum (9), Lavonia Burris (12), captain, forwards; Lillina Porter, jumping center; Mabel Lenz, side center; Esther Wirt and Nora Lenz, guards; Cathryn Eaton and Violet Lydegraf, substitutes.

Junior basketballers are: Charly Watson (3) and Lillie Burch (4), forwards; Martha Warren, jumping center; Rachel Gardner, side center; Anoka Coates and Vivian Lankester, guards; and Eileen Moore, substitute.
