NOTED PIONEER OF STATE DIES

Mary Ann Gilkey was Early Teacher; Graduate of Willamette, 1866

(Contributed)
With the departure from this life of Mrs. Mary Ann Gilkey, Oregon has lost one of its earliest pioneers and most active citizens. Her parents were the first white couple to be married in this section and she was the first white girl born in Yamhill county. The Indian children were her playmates of girlhood days. Her life not only reached far back into the early days of the settlement of our community and state, but also figured prominently in progressive endeavors of more recent years.

Mary Ann Robinson was born on her father's old donation land claim, three miles south of Dayton, Oregon, March 7th, 1846. On February 21, 1931, at the age of 85, she died in her home in Dayton, Oregon, after a few days' illness, peacefully went to her reward.

Her early schooling was in the district school near her home, in what is now the Webfoot district. While studying in this little school she met the late, the splendid and lasting influence of her highly esteemed teacher and friend, Mrs. William Odell. Following this she was for a time in the graded school at Lafayette.

She later attended the Portland Academy, and completed her courses of study at Willamette university in 1866. She taught in various parts of the Willamette valley for about 14 years. It seemed that wherever she would go in recent days, she would there find some former student who was eager to pay her a tribute.

Miss Robinson was married in 1880 to William E. Gilkey. They made their home on a part of the old homestead near Dayton. Mr. Gilkey died in 1918.

The wide range of interests of Mrs. Gilkey, as well as her storehouse of historical incidents made her a fascinating conversationalist. She found great interest in the history of the Oregon country, in fact, during the pioneer, particularly in the history of early Methodism. She was a member of the Oregon Pioneer association. Because of her literary interests and appreciation of books, the Dayton library has been named the Mary Ann Gilkey library in her honor. She was a charter member of the Pleasant Hour Reading club.

Mrs. Gilkey was also a charter member of the Webfoot Methodist church, which she helped to build. She taught in the Sunday school, acted as superintendent of the Sunday school and was active in every way in the work of the church there. A fact of interest was her personal acquaintance with many of the pioneers of Methodism in Oregon, as her acquaintance with "Father" Wilbur; "Father" Roberts; Rev. Royal, and the daughter of Jason Leary, who was baptised at Willamette university when she attended, as well as many others of note.

Those who survive are: three nieces, Miss Lena Stilwell of Dayton, Oregon; Mrs. Ina Tegar of Clatsop; Mrs. M. M. Mangle of Randall of Amity, Oregon; and two nephews, Clair C.

From Fairfield—F. Ralph Durlette of Fairfield was a business visitor in Salem Wednesday.

INDIGESTION GOES QUICKLY, PLEASANTLY
When you begin to suffer from heartburn, gas or indigestion, it's usually the fault of too much acid in your stomach. The quick way to stop your trouble is with Phillips Milk of Magnesia. A spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids—and does it instantly. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know Phillips Milk of Magnesia. And you will never allow yourself to suffer from over-acidity again. It is the standard anti-acid with doctors and has been for over fifty years. Your doctor stores the Phillips Milk of Magnesia in generous 25c and 50c bottles. Full directions for its many uses in every package. Insist on the genuine. A less perfect product may not act the same.

SCHAEFER'S THROAT & LUNG BALSAM

GUARD OFFICERS GET PROMOTIONS

Melchoir, Sims and Hughes Move up in Ranking, Is Announcement

Three promotions of interest to this section were announced yesterday at Oregon national guard headquarters here. Those receiving promotions are Michael J. Melchoir of Salem, Elburn T. Sims and Everett J. Hughes, both of Woodburn.

Melchoir, who has been master sergeant in headquarters battery, 249th coast artillery, here, was promoted to second lieutenant and assigned to post of adjutant of the second battalion, 249th coast artillery. He has been a member of the national guard for the past 10 years and is a veteran of the world war.

Sims has been a first lieutenant with howitzer company, 186th infantry, Woodburn, and is now promoted to rank of captain, and assigned to command of howitzer company, 186th infantry, succeeding Oliver S. Olson, who was made a major a few weeks ago. Sims has been in the guard since 1917, and served overseas with company I, 162nd infantry, seeing service in several important engagements on the western front.

As a result of Sims' promotion, Second Lieutenant Everett J. Hughes steps up to be first lieutenant in the howitzer company, I, 162nd infantry.
