TODAY WE PRESENT . . . .

. . . . a compliment to the Business and Professional Women of Salem who have been busy this week observing in appropriate fashion the annual national "Business and Professional Women's week".

To the left is Mrs. Mona Yeager, president of the local Business and Professional Women's club; center is Mrs. Madalene Callin, who spoke before the Corvallis business women this past week and who is editor of the official magazine of the club, the "Oregon Business Woman".

To the right is Miss Phyllis Day, student in Oregon State college who was a recent hostess while home over the weekend and who will be among those college students to spend the spring vacation in their homes in Salem.

SPRING

THIS week there will be much planning and "filling up the cookie jar" in homes to which college students will be returning Friday to spend the week's spring vacation from college duties.

It's a grand time, these vacation home. Family life that tends to troy into dignified decorum with the "children" away at school suddenly becomes full of activity and exhilaration with the impetus of the interests and enthusiasm of college life being thrust into it. There will be guests, there will be parties, there will be clothes to plan and discuss, there will be all manner of developments for discussion and observation. All told, it will be a splendid week which will start with Friday's spring vacation.

There are being planned a few parties for the coming week, but for the most part the days will continue quiet until April 5, when Easter will break the silence. One of the largest parties of the year is being planned for Monday and Tuesday night, however, at which time Mrs. Elliott Colony, Mrs. Groves Bellinger and Mrs. Karl Kugel will be hostesses to members of the Monday Night Dancing club and a few additional guests at the Willamette Lodge Country club on Wallace road. Bridge will be in play both evenings and St. Patrick will inspire the decorative motif for the clubhouse.

With the promise of good weather the women of the Salem Golf club are developing much enthusiasm over the Friday tournament. The day will feature a flag tournament.

Already there are many Salem people joining parties at the beach and plans are being made for opening beach homes. Many parties are just in the offing for week-end beach trips and not a few will be made up for this week-end.

Before it can be realized the winter will be a thing of the past and the spring and summer trek to the beach and the mountains and to other states will be on earnest.

Orchard Heights Women Meet

Orchard Heights. — The Orchard Heights Women's club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. W. DeLap on route six. The meeting was an all day one with a delicious pot luck dinner at noon. The day was spent in quilting for Mrs. William Knower.

At the business meeting at which Mrs. C. H. Fisher presided it was arranged that the local club entertain the Oak Grove Ladies' Aid society Thursday, March 26, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Ashby in Salem. A report was heard of the recent meeting at Brush College of the Federation of Rural Women's clubs.

A very interesting paper on "Oregon Missionaries" was given by Mrs. R. S. Blackwell of Salem. This was the closing number of the Oregon history study which the club has enjoyed throughout the past year. Mrs. Blackwell is the wife of a Methodist preacher who served this charge many years ago and who built the church now standing at this place.

Special guests for the day were Mesdames Pawk, Stephen Hillis, Arba Martin, W. H. Humphrey, J. B. Ashby, Frank Pecha, Marion Putnam, Emma DeWitt, R. C. Blackwell and Clifton Kennedy.

Members present were Mesdames C. H. Fisher, Cash Roberts, Fred Gibson, Philip Bouffier, Prudence Bouffier, Burnham Southwick, Eugene Southwick, William McDowell, J. McDowell, Frank Farmer, J. Pawk, C. S. Matthews, Edward Reed, Robert Adams, William Knower, Miss Mary Wait and the hostess, Mrs. DeLapp.

Miss Thielsen Plays Charming Program

A delightful informal evening of music was that given by Miss Gretchen Thielsen in the studio of Prof. E. S. Roberts Friday night in compliment to about 40 invited guests, immediate friends of Miss Thielsen.

The program was delightfully given and gave decided evidence of the artistic ability of the young musician. So popular did the event prove that Miss Thielsen will give the program later for a recital program.

Prof. Roberts assisted Miss Thielsen in her program which included the following numbers:

- Piano and organ, "Serenade" . . . . . Widor
- Eventide . . . . . Gaul
- Slumber-Song . . . . . Nevin
- The Rosary . . . . . Nevin
- Piano and organ, "Grand Aria" . . . . . Demarest
- Vox Angelica . . . . . Henrich
- Cavatina . . . . . Wheelton
- Emmaus . . . . . Frysinger
- Pilgrim' Chorus from "Tannhauser" . . . . . Wagner

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nunn of Marshfield were guests in Salem Friday night. They spent the weekend in Portland.

Opera Luncheon is Outstanding Event

THE Portland Federation of Music Teachers entertained in compliment to the Chicago Civic Opera company Friday with a 12:30 o'clock luncheon in the large dining room of the Congress hotel.

Musicians were present from all over the state and the event represented a splendidly successful and smart affair.

The outstanding artists of the opera company were present as was Mayor Baker, St. Leger, clever director of the Civic opera; Bishop Sumner, Frank Branch Riley, speaker of the day; and William van Hoogstraten acted as master of ceremonies.

Miss Helen Calbreath, president of the federation introduced Mr. van Hoogstraten who received such thundering applause as to amount to an ovation.

In a brief talk made by Mr. St. Leger, emphasis was placed upon the crying need of more opera companies. He pointed out the fact that there are now just six such companies in the United States, and all but the Chicago Civic company are practically new companies.

Mr. St. Leger also paid outstanding tribute to Mark Daniels and his ability as an operatic singer as he had proved himself in his appearances with Chicago companies.

Mayor Baker paid this tribute to the Chicago company: "Having followed opera rather closely all my life, I have never seen such perfect stage setting nor heard such dramatic singing as has been accomplished during the present opera season."

The luncheon meeting was attended by hundreds of people and there were at least 200 who were unable to make reservations.

Mrs. Edgar Rowland is Hostess

A delightfully informal afternoon was that spent by members of the "S. E. W.—So" club as the guests of Mrs. Edgar Rowland Thursday. Tea was served at a late hour with Mrs. G. Fallin assisting. Mrs. C. A. Downs will be the next hostess in two weeks.

Guests for this afternoon were Mrs. J. Fallin, Mrs. C. A. Downs, Mrs. Jess Wheaton, Mrs. Knight Pearcey, Mrs. G. Fallin, Mrs. Ted Brown, Mrs. Ed Donnelly, Mrs. William Yarnell and Mrs. H. R. White.

Brooks—The 4-H Thimble club met in the school house Monday with their leader, Mrs. H. H. Bosch in charge. The business meeting was conducted by their president, Minnie Ogura, and Beulah Otto read the secretary's report. Plans were made to give their demonstration at the next Parent-Teachers' meeting. Those present were Daisy Potts, Clara Umemoto, Beulah Otto, Sumie Ogura, Hattie Applinwall, Mary Clark, Ada Hutto, Arleta Wood, Evelyn Moisan and Minnie Ogura.

KIDDIES FROM DAIRYLAND Storybook

One certain fact is quite well known. The food that folks place on the throne—Is milk. This King of Food's a treat. Our Milk is Fresh and Pure and Sweet.

Pretty Party is Compliment to Young Maids

Miss Kathleen Mae Lindbeck entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lindbeck on South High street, Saturday night in compliment to a group of the younger set.

The affair was a St. Patrick's party. All the decorations and the menu suggested the idea of the good patron saint. Cards and dancing were enjoyed during the evening hours.

The guest list included Miss Doris Unruh, Miss Marguerite McCarty, Miss Lucille Rolow, Miss Doris Armstrong, Miss Ruth West, Miss Constance Cartmill,

Clubs Continue to Hold High Place in Calendar Events Of Coming Week

Clubs and organizations continue to hold the center of attention of a large share of Salem women. Coming events include Third district meeting of the state federation of women's clubs March 26 in Hillsboro; the state Daughters of the American Revolution convention in Newberg March 19 and 20; and the convention of District 11 of the Pythian Sisters, March 21 in Hubbard.

The D. A. R. convention will be preceded by a board meeting of the executives of the state organization in Portland Wednesday night. Delegates from the Chemeketa chapter of Salem will be Mrs. W. H. Orr, the regent; Mrs. W. H. Byrd, Miss Edna Mings, Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. A. E. Austin of Woodburn, Mrs. J. E. Sibley of Dallas, Mrs. H. T. Love, Mrs. Lewis D. Griffith, and Mrs. Frank Settemier of Woodburn. Alternates include Mrs. W. F. Fargo, vice-regent; Miss Lillian Applegate, Mrs. V. E. Newcomb, Mrs. C. T. Ellison, Mrs. A. A. Underhill, Mrs. C. A. Eprague, Mrs. C. C. Best, Mrs. W. B. Johnson, Mrs. Frances Looney Cornell and Miss Marguerite Looney of Jefferson.

The Pythian Sisters are planning an extensive program and day of events in Hubbard. Mrs. Emma Snyder of Aurora will preside as district deputy grand chief and she has arranged the program for the day. There will be both an afternoon program at 1:30 o'clock and an evening program beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock a banquet will be served by Thalia Rebekah lodge.

The evening meeting will include special music, and floor work initiation, and addresses by representatives of various temples of the state.

The Third district convention will include representation of about 2000 Oregon women. Extensive club plans are to be discussed at this meeting and an exceptionally attractive program has been arranged.

One thing to receive immediate consideration will be plans for observation of national music week. Mrs. C. C. Geor is county chairman of this committee and has sent out suggestions and plans to the 11 clubs of the county for the observation of the week. In Hillsboro March 26 there will be a luncheon for the music folk over which Mrs. Roswell Walz, district music chairman, will preside. Mrs. Mark McCallister, state music chairman, will be guest of honor at this luncheon. Any one interested in the club is invited to attend the luncheon.

Miss Helen Kendall, Miss Margaret Smart, Miss Carol Dasch, Miss Irma Oehler, Miss Helen White, and Miss Lindbeck.

Miss Doris Pickens returned this week end from spending several days in Roseburg and Coquille. Miss Pickens is being extensively entertained before her marriage April 5. One of the large affairs of the future in compliment to her is the shower to be given March 24 by Mrs. Chester Pickens and Miss Dorothe Pickens.

West Salem Players To Repeat Play

Because the Ford Memorial Methodist church in West Salem is making a drive to clear up its indebtedness, the West Salem Community club is sponsoring a presentation of the comedy "The Mummy and the Mumps," Friday evening. This play was given in February in the community hall with remarkable success. The proceeds from the play will be devoted to paying off the church indebtedness.

It was decided to use this delightful comedy on account of the many requests that have come to the community officials for a repetition. The play was given last week before an appreciative audience in Falls City. Committees have been appointed to take care of advertising and tickets and rehearsals by the cast will be held Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the community hall.
