

TREASURY LOW AT WASHINGTON

Income tax Receipts Last Day Higher but '30 Mark is Missed

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(AP)—The treasury pendulum swung farther into the debit side of the arc today despite the tugging of increased income tax receipts.

Income tax receipts for last Tuesday, the latest date reported, were $16,000,000 greater than for the corresponding collection day last year. This kindred no spark of hope, however, that total receipts for 1930 would be larger than the previous year.

At the same time the daily treasury statement showed the government's deficit on Tuesday was $735,138,522, a gain of more than $300,000,000 over the previous day, due to placing $325,000,000 in the public debt retirement fund.

Meanwhile Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, issued a statement saying there was no basis for any implication that loans to world war veterans were responsible for or contributing toward the prospective treasury deficit.

Vet Loan Backed

"Everybody knows by this time," he added, "that the two things are unrelated. Every veteran loan is a self-contained credit operation which involves no net addition to the public debt and not a penny of increased taxation."

Income tax collections on Tuesday amounted to $48,129,417, bringing the total for the month to $108,000,000, compared with $99,000,000 for the same period the previous year.

For the fiscal year beginning July 1 the payments have totaled $1,277,000,000, compared with $1,352,000,000 for the same period last year.

Officials have explained the first few days' income tax returns were not expected to portray what trend the total returns would take.

The belief in treasury circles that there was no encouraging news in receipts thus far led to the opinion that the total might not approach the $500,000,000 mark which had been expected.

If the total drops below this, experts believe the government deficit June 30 will be much greater than the $500,000,000 estimated by Secretary Mellon and Under Secretary Mills.

SALEM PICKED FOR FUTURE MEETINGS

Salem was chosen yesterday as the regular meeting place for salesmen's conventions of the National Thrift Corporation of America, when Oregon representatives convened here yesterday. G. T. Judd, state manager of Los Angeles, which entered the state field a year ago, was in charge of the day's program, while R. E. Trapp, the corporation's general agent from Los Angeles, presided at the noon luncheon.

In attendance at the meeting yesterday were: E. Trapp, Los Angeles, general agent; G. T. Judd, Portland, state manager; C. F. Gillette, Salem, district manager; Roy L. Gibbins, Salem, district manager; E. D. Judd, Portland, M. E. Block, Portland; Louis Bennett, Albany; George F. Vick, Salem; W. P. Ladd, Salem; H. B. Kaye, Salem; H. A. Woods, Dallas; C. F. Patton, Salem; J. Frank Hutchason, Salem; F. E. Sypher, Gervais; and Lars R. Bergsvik, Salem.

STRONGER MARKET SEEN FOR PRUNES

Prospects are that the prune market will be much stronger during the coming year, according to local buyers. According to this statement packers and growers in the northwest will be sold out of prunes in a few weeks. California is also expected to be sold out before the end of crop comes in.

Business conditions in European countries show market improvement and this coupled with local conditions promises increased prices during the coming year.

There are not enough drivers in the Willamette valley to take care of a heavy crop and the problem of handling the bumper yield that is in prospect is a grave one for local growers.

Question Upon Tax Levy Here May be Raised

Intimation that members of the county taxpayers' association, or possibly the taxpayers' association itself, is contemplating a suit to test the valuation and taxes levied in the county seen at the courthouse, with visit of Ed Jory, Marion property owner.

Jory did not say definitely what was behind his numerous questions regarding land and taxation, but told one official he expected to see the property tax out in half.

GUESTS AT TURNER

TURNER, March 19.—Ladies who visited at the J. M. Bonnes home Tuesday were Mrs. Joe Esten who drove down from Brownsville. The Esten family were residents of near Turner, and moved to their present home a year ago. Mrs. Jane Osborn of Independence was over for the day, also Mrs. R. A. Winsell of Salem, who also visited with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Barr.

NEW ROCKET-SLED IN SUCCESSFUL TEST

Shooting over Lake Onondaga, N. Y., at a rate of 75 miles per hour, the new rocket-sled, invented and piloted by Harry W. Hull (inset), Syracuse University student, went through a successful test. The rockets, divided into two batteries and placed on each side of the craft near the bow, are fired in rapid succession by a control switch.

5 DEBATES SET FOR UNIVERSITY GROUPS

Forensic activities are crowding members of the Willamette university student body who are interested in speaking work.

Thirteen students have judged 23 debates in the months since the first of the year. There are five debates scheduled for the weeks immediately after spring vacation.

Ross Knott and Charles Gianoli, freshmen, will debate with representatives of the College of the Pacific from Stockton, California, the night of April 2. Gianoli and Ross defeated the University of Washington about three weeks ago.

Ray Lafky and Ralph McCullough will debate the "Chain Store" question, taking the affirmative side, against the University of Arizona on the same day, April 2. Two years ago, Willamette won, but last year the Arizonaans were victors. The decision this year will be made by one critic judge, George Marriam of Oregon Normal school.

The state after dinner speaking contest will be held in Salem April 17. Dr. Roy Hewitt of the law school is to be toastmaster.

An historical Oregon pageant will be presented sometime after school begins in April and the junior play is scheduled for the week end of the first of May.

Students have taken an active part in forensic work as judges and chairmen.

'Y' LEADERS PLAN FOR SUMMER CAMP

Fred A. Crosby, northwest director of camp work for Y. M. C. A.'s spent Wednesday here. He has been on a trip over the northwest going as far as Eugene, conferring with local units on their summer camp plans. "Boys are commencing to sniff the air," said Crosby, "and we must get ready with our camps. The purpose of the organized camps is to make the camping experience not only agreeable but helpful and a real training in wholesome living and Christian citizenship."

Crosby met members of the local boys' camp committee and Secretary Kells and "Bob" Boardman at noon at the Gray Belle where plans for the improvement of the camp site at Ocean side were discussed. The bridge to the camp has been completed. What must be done this year to get the camp in shape include clearing several acres of ground, building and equipping a kitchen and arranging for sleeping quarters of tents and lumber floors.

The camp committee will make a trip to Ocean side soon to inspect the camp ground.

DOUG T. POTTER IS INFLUENZA VICTIM

Doug T. Potter, 42, died shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday night at his home at 1462 North Commercial street after an illness of a fortnight caused by influenza.

For the last four years Potter had been bookkeeper at the Otto J. Wilson agency here and prior to that time worked for a number of years for Bishop's here.

His wife, Mrs. Vera Potter, survives him and two children, Margaret and Norman. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Potter, also live here in Salem while a brother and sister, Roy W. Potter and Mrs. Genevieve Meyers, live in California.

Potter was a member of the Elk's lodge of this city.

DANCY BACK AFTER 10,000 MILE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dancy arrived in Salem Wednesday evening following a trip of six weeks which took them by automobile 7000 miles through the northern part of the United States, and three thousand miles by train on the return trip.

Especially of interest on the automobile tour were the visits made in Galveston, Texas, where the sea wall attracted much attention; New Orleans, and its Marne Grand, and also its old French quarter; the farthest point reached to the south, Key West, Florida; Daytona beach with all its wonderful automobile speed track; Miami and its winter resorts. Many other points of lesser interest were mentioned by the travelers.

En route home visits were made with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Matthews in Kansas City; a three day stop was made in Denver; and several days visit with friends in San Francisco. Coming home from San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Dancy stopped over Monday at Roseburg and visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter and then completed the return trip home by automobile with Mr. and Mrs. Porter Wednesday night.

Mrs. Frank Snedecor, with whom the trip was made, plans to return to Salem some time in May. She is now in Birmingham, Georgia.

POPULAR GIRLS WILL VIE FOR QUEEN JOB

The annual election of three candidates for May queen was held in a student body meeting of Willamette university Wednesday at chapel time. Those named by the entire student body as the most popular are Grace Henderson, Evelyn High and Betty Lewis. These three will be voted upon for queen in an election that will take place within a week.

All three women must necessarily be in the senior class and be appointed by a popular election in which the entire membership of the Associated Students take part. Two movements which will simplify financial matters of the student body were put under way from the floor. Two committees will soon be appointed, one to investigate the possibilities of student control, financial disbursements and general aspects of the book store; the other to look into and suggest possible revision of the matter of student fund disbursements.

The management of the glee clubs and those interested in a band for the university, asked that an amendment be made to the constitution allowing these three groups to be a part of the regular student body activities with a manager and a chance at the funds of the student body treasury. An amendment was read which allowed for these points; it was put on the books for voting in the usual manner.

WOULDN'T PREPARE MEALS, COMPLAINT

She wouldn't prepare his meals for him when he returned to the farm house after spending long days in the fields, Samuel H. Webber alleges in divorce complaint filed Wednesday against Birdie B. Webber, to whom he was married in Albany in January, 1907.

It was in 1917 that she formed a dislike for plaintiff and when she began to refuse to prepare meals and to treat him in sullen manner, Webber says, adding that things continued in this manner until July, 1925, when she made him live upstairs. She lived downstairs in their home. Unable to bear it any longer, he left the house in July, 1928.

He asks care of their minor child, a son. Two children have reached their majority.

Night "Raid" is Planned to Get Legion More Men

A night "raid" on delinquent members of the American Legion post here is to be conducted Monday by R. H. Bassett and other members of the post's membership committee. Bassett announced the "raid" yesterday, saying it was the purpose of the post to approximate the membership total of two years ago when there were 1200 paid-up men in the organization. To date only 700 members have paid their dues this year.

The local group wishes to go to the convention this summer at Corvallis with a report of a large enrolled membership and with dues fully paid.

WARDEN CALM AS PROBE OPES

Legislative Group to Look Into Joliet Prison Affairs Today

JOLIET, Ill., March 19.—(AP)—Warden Henry C. Hill, white haired arbiter of Illinois' revolt-racked twin penitentiaries, tonight awaited the outcome of a legislative probe into his administration "with complete confidence."

Still ailing and weakened by a protracted illness, which kept him in bed for weeks, he looked back over a week of disorder and expressed confidence his iron-hand tactics in quelling mutiny would be upheld by the legislators.

"I believe my every act and those of my subordinates have been what the situation demanded," he said. "I am ready for the legislative committee." That body arrived late today.

Looking from his office window in the old state prison, Hill could see augmented guards on duty to keep the sullen convicts in order, and across the town he saw the entire student body of the State University watching Stateville prison inmates. In that institution, the last and greatest of the uprisings took place yesterday.

Convicts Hurl Threats

There was nothing tonight the rebellious convicts could do but lounge in their tight-locked cells and hurl imprecations at the keepers who helped quell three riots in six days.

Two reports of further rebellion came in but both failed to materialize. Prompt measure prevented a rumored plan for 600 old prison convicts to break loose at breakfast today. Machine guns frowned down on these men as they ate and guards lined the dining room.

Likewise, the women's penitentiary, which houses 135, asked for extra tear gas bombs after Mrs. Bertha Finnegan, superintendent, said unrest was spreading from the Cross street old prison. But there was no indication of any disturbance.

Raymond Barney, negro, who was one of the three men wounded yesterday, died today. The others are expected to recover.

Thirty convicts believed to be chief participants in the flaming disorder at Stateville, which caused $500,000 fire loss, were put in solitary confinement. From their number, Deputy Warden Kneass singled out William Wheeler and named him the ringleader.

A former prison guard, but now a life term inmate, Wheeler had been convicted of giving guns to inmates at the Pontiac reformatory when they rioted in 1921 bringing death to two convicts and a guard.

APRIL 12 PROBABLE FOR BLOSSOM DAY

Gabrielson Names Committees; Special Cars Meet Incoming Trains

Continued cold and rain during the week has made it evident that Blossom Day will not be held April 5 as was first planned. Present prospects are that April 12 will be the day set although no definite announcement will be made until later.

King Bing Gabrielson has named the following committees for the day:

Courtesy cars to provide transportation and meet stages and trains—J. H. Maden, chairman; F. G. Myers, Douglas McKay, Dr. H. H. Olinger, Fred Williams, A. A. Keene, E. H. Kennedy, P. C. McDonald, A. C. Haag, George H. Graves and Grover Hillman.

Publicity—To provide special pictures in Portland newspapers and to arrange with C. E. Knowland for a broadcast over KEX—C. E. Wilson, chairman, Harold E. Bakin, E. L. Baker, Dr. Harry Bancroft, Ralph Cooley, Elmer Dues, Dr. O. A. Olson and C. E. Knowland.

Photograph—To arrange for pictures of uniformed Cherrians and little girls sporting themselves amidst the blossoms—Gus Hixson, chairman, Frank Spears, Dan Fry, E. F. Slade, Otto Hartman, Axel Hoff, Phil Elker, P. D. Quisenberry, Lester Davis, F. C. Delano, Dr. C. A. Downs, Frank J. Chapman, James H. Clark and Reed Rowland.
