Mrs. J. R. Pollock Is Bridge Tea Hostess

One of the attractive parties of the week was the benefit bridge party for which Mrs. J. R. Pollock was hostess, with Mrs. George Trotter assisting, and for which members of the Unitarian Woman's Alliance and friends were guests, Thursday afternoon.

A profusion of brilliant wild flowers, trilliums, wild currant, and delicate wild orchids made delightful flower decorations. Cards were in play at eight tables. Mrs. Harris Letts and Mrs. W. E. Feldman held winning scores for bridge and Mrs. Milton Meyer held high "90" score.

At the tea hour Mrs. Trotter and Mrs. Pollock were assisted by Mrs. Milton Meyer, Mrs. John Clifford, Mrs. Truma Huston, and Mrs. Fred Alban Weil.

Guests for the afternoon included Mrs. Fred Alban Weil, Mrs. Truma Huston, Mrs. James Tyler, Mrs. Milton Meyer, Mrs. E. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. Percy Kelly, Mrs. Harris Letts, Mrs. R. W. Davis, Mrs. Ralph Allen, Mrs. G. W. Lafair, Mrs. W. T. Grier, Mrs. W. Weiser, Mrs. Claude Glenn, Mrs. S. P. Wells, Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mrs. L. C. Marshall, Mrs. G. A. Littlefield, Mrs. W. H. MANY ILLS ARE DUE TO FATIGUE

Common Cold is Very Easy "To Catch" When "Tired Out"

Fatigue, according to medical authorities, lowers the resistance of the human system. As a result, the system is more susceptible to infections. For example, when fatigued, the body is easily chilled and often a head cold or worse follows.

One of the most effective ways to overcome fatigue is to eat or drink something sweet. A soda fountain beverage, ice cream, a piece of candy and small cakes are appropriate because they are quickly digested and their energy is ready at once to restore vigor.

Thousands of people who work, or spend the day shopping, have learned the value of a mid-afternoon sweet snack to banish fatigue. Children upon coming home from school are also benefited by a light, nutritious sweet food. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

OPPOSING THEORIES ON PEACE OUTLINED

No Nation Wants war Says Handsaker in Address At Fraternis Meet

"We do the people of Europe a gross injustice if we say they want war," declared J. J. Handsaker of Portland, associate secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, at the Fraternis club Thursday night.

"They want safety and security and whether the future holds war or peace depends on which philosophy of security succeeds. One group says the way to safety is to arm and arm until others are afraid to go to war; the other that safety depends on cooperation with other nations against our common enemy, war."

"These two ideas are held in every country, including our own. Curiously enough, the two men who have the most to do in the house of representatives with the navy are exponents of these contrasting ideas."

Representative Britten of Illinois, chairman of the naval affairs committee, wants a billion-dollar navy, while Representative French of Idaho, chairman of the sub-committee on naval appropriations, opposes it.

"Since Salem is now paying more than $521,000 annually for war costs and has a share of the cost of a billion-dollar navy would be over $205,000 and an additional upkeep of over $30,000 annually, it certainly is to her interest to strengthen the idea of cooperation as expressed in the world court and other peace agencies."

Mr. Handsaker stated that Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, will visit Salem during May. Mr. Handsaker returns to Portland this morning.

TAKES COUNT

Margot Webb, "Miss Atlantic City" in 1927, with her husband, Count Alain de la Falaise, brother of the Marquise Henri de la Falaise de Courday, ex-wife of her husband Gloria Swanson, the motion picture actress. Count Alain and Miss Webb were married in Nice.

MEIER TALKS WITH 2 COMMISSIONERS

M. A. Lynch of Redmond and C. A. Spaulding of Salem, members of the state highway commission, held a conference with Governor Meier here Thursday. H. B. Vanduser of Portland, chairman of the commission, was invited to attend the meeting but was unable to do so because of a previous business appointment.

Reports about the statehouse indicated that the meeting was held in connection with charges of waste and extravagance in conducting the state highway shops in Salem. This was denied by Governor Meier, however, who declared that the conference had to do with new highway projects.

Matters scheduled to come before Thursday's conference were continued until the regular April meeting of the state highway commission.

Ruling is Made On Indebtedness

Certificates of indebtedness issued under authority of the statutes, even though they may aggregate more than $1,500,000, are legal and not a violation of the constitutional provision which limits its debts and obligations created by the state to $50,000, Attorney-General Van Winkle stated in an opinion Thursday.

The opinion was sought by T. B. Kay, state treasurer.

SALEM HEIGHTS, March 26—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson who left Salem Heights about two years ago to go to Rockford, Ill., returned to their home here in the heights Sunday. They drove their car from Rockford to Oregon and stated that they encountered exceptionally fine weather all the way and that the trip was most enjoyable. When asked about economic conditions in the middle west they said that where they were, times were not good and that as near as they could judge throughout their trip, that times were much better here in Oregon than through the states through which they passed, and further stated voluntarily that Oregon certainly looked good to them and that they had no desire to return to the middle states. Mr. Anderson was employed in one of the large furniture manufacturing concerns.

GANGPLANK UP FIFTH OF MILE

Thrills in Store When big Blimps tie up at top Tallest Building

By CHARLES E. GREGORY
NEW YORK, March 25.—(AP)—Would you like to take a walk down a gangplank a fifth of a mile in the air?

That will be possible when the airship station atop the Empire State building, world's tallest skyscraper, is finished in a few days. The mast, a giant of steel and stone and aluminum in itself was "unveiled" of its outer scaffolding and structurally completed today.

Its apex rises 1,252 feet above Fifth avenue at 44th street. Some guessers have said no major lighter-than-air craft ever will moor there because of hazards to the airship and the steel building itself. Others have scoffed at these fears and submitted convincing evidence in engineering calculations that the tall tower would unflinchingly stand having the largest dirigible ever constructed anchored to it in a gale.

Big Thrill Due Upon Gangplank
The big kick for seasoned sky voyagers might come when stewards on the air-liner shout, "all ashore for New York!" The gangplank would be lowered to a circular platform little more than a dozen feet wide. It's just less than a quarter of a mile to the street and almost that far to the roof of the nearest skyscraper.

The gangplank would span an abyss dizzy for anybody. The plank is six or seven feet wide and the passengers involuntarily would clutch the handrails and try not to look down. With probably hurried footsteps they would cross the bridge to "terra firma" to find themselves on the land.

Senator H. E. Elliott of Douglas county has proposed to the secretary of state $250,000 "expense money" which he accepted under a joint resolution adopted by the 1927 legislature. A similar resolution adopted at the 1929 legislature was declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court.

Senator H. J. Elliott of Perrydale, Polk county, has written the secretary of state to draw on his bank for the amount of "expense money" he received, together with interest at the legal rate.

The attorney general, in an opinion handed down here recently, held that "expense money" accepted by legislators under the resolution adopted at the 1927 legislative session is collectible.

This was to have been an illustrated announcement of the arrival of these stunning new spring frocks, but SAD AS IT MAY SOUND TO YOU, WE WERE DELIGHTED WHEN OUR PREDICTIONS CAME TRUE AND WE WERE UNABLE TO FIND A PICTURE THAT ANYWHERE NEAR RESEMBLED EVEN ONE OF THESE UNIQUE DRESSES.

Even the designers had kept them a secret. You'll simply have to see them—they're so absolutely different—not that they're freakish or unfashionable, but the smart new detail so necessary to this season's frocks is combined in them in a most striking manner. Every jacket, sleeve, and neckline is a perfectly contrived piece of art. They represent every color of the rainbow and many others at which the rainbow has never even hinted.
