So the old tar suggested she claim the extra birthday of the first twins she met.

so when the Honney twins chanced along, Annie got their extra birthday. It came on April 1, but to quote Annie: "I ain't worrying. I guess if you're gonna be a fool, you'll be a fool, no matter what your birthday is." And too, "Many kids who have fathers and mothers can pick out fathers and mothers can pick out fancy birthdays but an orphan is se tickled to have any kind of birthday, they're too happy to care what day it comes on."

Of course there were some problems in connection with the party. Lyllan's nurse would not let her come because she didn't know Annie's parents. And Annie was so excited the day be-fore the party at the big hotel. But when it came-well, it was just too fine for words! So Annie and Zero celebrated

SILVERTON, April 4 — Lowis Mellbye, wheat farmer of Saskat-thewan, Canada purchased a 150-acre farm two miles east of Silverton recently.

Mr. Mellbye is going in for diversified farming and intends to bring the place up to a high state of cultivation. He has already built an attractive house, and is busy at the present time replacing old fences with new ones.

Mr. Melibye has four children, and it was the thought of their future that brought them to Oregon, where they could have all the advantages that go to make life worth while.
