SAN FRANCISCO, April 10—(AP)—The Portland Beavers defeated the San Francisco Seals 6-3 here today. The heavy-hitting northern squad had no respect for the offerings of Jimmy Zinn and hammered him freely until he was chased to the showers in the fourth.

The Beavers scored all six of their runs off Zinn. Bill Rheil, Portland second baseman, hit two doubles and a single. Sammy Hale got three singles. Bill Posedel pitched fine ball for the visitors, allowing two runs and five hits until he was forced to retire in the seventh after he injured his leg.

Sacs Break Through
SACRAMENTO, April 10—(AP)—Sacramento broke into the win column for the first time this year today by defeating the Hollywood Stars after three straight losses, 6 to 5. Four Star errors, every one responsible for a run, helped the Sacs although Ray Chestfield hurled a fair brand of ball and was put in trouble himself by two errors.

Schulte Hero Again
LOS ANGELES, April 10—(AP)—With John Schulte occupying the hero role for the second time in three days, Los Angeles won its third straight baseball game from Seattle today 5 to 4 in ten innings.

Seattle had tied the count in the eighth and forged ahead in the first half of the ninth. Schulte then tied the score in the Angels' half by hitting Walter Newman's first pitch over the right field fence.

Vince Barton singled to start the last half of the tenth. Newman walked Ray Jacobs and Lorin Baker, filling the bases. Then Schulte stepped up again and rapped out a sharp single over Harry Taylor's shoulder and Barton loped home with the winning run. The victory gave Los Angeles a 3 to 1 lead in the series. Score:

Past (and Present) Masters

By HARDIN BURNLEY

CONNIE MACK -- WHOSE CHAMPION ATHLETICS ARE OUT TO WIN AGAIN!

THE BIG THREE OF THE AMERICAN LEAGUE!

THAT'S THEM!

WALTER JOHNSON -- HIS WASHINGTON SENATORS LOOK VERY FORMIDABLE, WHILE THE YANKS ARE OUT TO FINISH HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR'S THIRD! JOE MCCARTHY.

JUST as the National League is facing the start of the 1931 season next Tuesday with such master minds as John McGraw, "Gabby" Street, and "Uncle Robbie" mesmerizing the pennant hopes of the Giants, Cardinals and Robins respectively, so the American League will start its schedule the same day, with the venerable yet vigorous Connie Mack, Walter Johnson, and Joe McCarthy in the leading mind-over-matter roles.

Mack's chief baseball ambition for the present is to have his Athletics win three successive World Series. He has the same team practically which triumphed over all others so decisively in 1929 and 1930, and it shows no sign of cracking thus far. Simmons,

Cochrane, Foxx, Earnshaw, Grove & Co., look fully as formidable as the old Athletics of 1913 and '14 which Mack finally "broke up" because "they won so often it finally hurt gate receipts." If ever there was a past master of "inside" baseball and team generalship, canny Connie is that. Only a crack-up or the rise of some other extraordinary team can disappoint Cornelius of the McGillicuddy in his ambition to figure in baseball supremacy three times in a row.

The New York Yankees appear to be clicking beautifully with their new manager, Joe McCarthy, though the team performed only passably well during its Southern appearances. Grim critics insist that the Yanks will really go to smash this season because most of their regulars are veterans "just about due to hit bad declines" and the new talent, especially the pitchers, are not quite seasoned yet for big league efficiency. Manager McCarthy ignores such pessimism. He has faith in the Yank vets and his own carefully selected rookies.

Sir Walter Johnson had his Washington team in second place only eight games back of the Athletics when the schedule ended last season. He's sure the Senators are improved. At any event, the experts already pick the Johnsonians to finish among the first three teams in the A. L., but you can bet "The Big Train" is aiming only at the top for 1931.

Diving Suits At Laundry; Game is Off

Parrish junior high also had to call off a baseball game on account of rain. The Gervals high team was to play here Friday.

Coach Haak stated that the game may not be played at all unless it is necessary as a deciding game or for a playoff. With all the space enclosed at Olinger field, there is only one ball field which is kept in halfway decent condition. Parrish must arrange to play when the other local teams are away.

The complete schedule for Parrish is as follows:
April 17 Hubbard there.
April 24 Mt. Angel here.
May 1 Gervals there.
May 8 Hubbard here.
May 15 Leslie.
May 22 Mt. Angel there.
May 29 Leslie.

GRANGE TO MEET
ANKEN ESHOTOM, April 10 condony Grange No. 549, will hold their next regular meeting April 18, at which time a basket social will be given, every one invited to come and bring a basket.

CURT COMMENTS

So Jerry Owen is going to be the bonus commission secretary now. We judge the bonus won't be any bigger but there'll be a wisecrack with each new loan, at slight cost if any to the taxpayers.

Luke May said small town police were the hamburger but he should have seen Monmouth's city marshal and Independence's boy scouts in action this week. Whole raft of crooks lined up in short order.

Medford News the other day had two streamers across the top of page one: "Chicago Quiet as Cermak Defeats Thompson"; "Chicago Store in Panic-Struck Rear." Ideas in what constitutes quietude in Chicago differ both in Chicago and in Medford, it would seem.

Tracksters Are Shunted Inside By Bad Weather

The horse show pavilion at the state fairgrounds was used again Friday for a practice field by the Salem high track team, which abandoned plans to have the interclass meet Friday.

"The interclass meet will come Tuesday, meaning that the men will have a little more time to round into shape. Next Friday is the date for the triangular meet of Salem-Mt. Angel-Silverton and much interest is being manifested by the members of the local track squad.

A layman doesn't know. None but a man who has wrestled and knows the game thoroughly should attempt it.

Coordination is the thing that takes practice in officiating. For instance in basketball, there has to be coordination between the eye and the lungs. It's not hard to see the fouls, but to make the whistle do its work soon enough after the foul to avoid argument—there's the sticker.

Scalers and Adamites in Hard Battle

If the Willamette baseball team has the life in its game that it had in practice Friday, it will take a tornado to stop it.

A wet field and a cold wind made an outside practice inadvisable, so Coach "Spec" Keene gave his squad a workout in the gymnasium. The catcher's mask and other protectors were not needed and even the other players doffed their gloves to play indoor baseball.

Scalers and Adams chose sides and their teams played a double header. Scalers led his team to an overwhelming win in the first game and started the second one in a like manner. By the fourth inning the "Scalers" were in the lead, 7 to 0, but the "Adamites" broke loose to score 12 runs in one inning and maintained the lead the remainder of the game.

It was all in fun and Dwight Adams wore out a new pair of socks playing without shoes. Some of the more fortunate players had tennis shoes to wear. "Spec" Keene impersonated the blind tom at umpire and was well pleased with the class of ball exhibited by the players.

Hills Candy Will Oppose Realtors

Tucker's Realtors and Hills Candy company at Aumsville.

The local teams entered in the Cascade baseball league will tangle Sunday in the opening games of the league and are both practicing in the shape for their interclass contest. The game will be called at 2:30.

Both outfits have found a number of young players to carry their colors and are now arranging their batteries. Interest in the games played in the league and the boys take their baseball seriously.

The other teams to play in the north section Sunday will be Aumsville at Johnson and Mill City at West Stayton at Lebanon. Games in the north section will include: St. Paul at Mt. Angel, Brooks at Amity and Dayton at Yamhill.

LEAGUE OPENED HERE DOUBTFUL

Olinger Field in Best of Shape for Swimming; Solons Practice

The diamond at Olinger field looked more like a swimming pond Friday afternoon and the management of the Salem Senators virtually decided that it would be impossible to play the Portland Valley league opening game here Sunday. Further announcement will be made that morning.

Several of the players worked out on the drier portion of the athletic field Friday, making about the third workout this season but that is no fault of the players. Opportunities have been just about that scarce. This year's squad appears much more willing to put in practice hours than has been the rule in the past.

In case the Solons play Hillsboro here Sunday according to schedule, indications are that Johnny Beck will be on the mound and McClain, well known Albany slugger, behind the bat. Reardon, who performed so well in the initial sack in 1928 and '29, will be back there again and wield the big club with which he shaved the House of David a few years ago; Bernie Hughes will hold down second base, Ashby will be on short and Olinger on the hot corner, the only present infield holdover from last year.

In the outfield will be Dowling from past Albany teams, "Snycde" Campbell, all around athlete who formerly played basketball for the Yanketts football team, and Ted Girod, the only one of the three brothers who didn't succumb to the lure of higher education.

"Trisco" Edwards who managed the Senators for the past three years had announced that he would turn out, but got a call from some California club and boarded a train for the land of sunshine several days ago.

Homans Out; Dunlap Still In Fine Form

PINEHURST, N. C., April 9—(AP)—George T. Dunlap Jr., New York golfer and intercollegiate champion, continued his winning streak in the 31st annual north and south amateur tournament here today, but the defending champion, Eugene Homans of Englewood, N. J., fell by the way-side.

Dunlap, the medalist, won his quarter final round in the 13th hole, eliminating Howard Tryon, Elmira, N. Y. 7 and 5.

Homans, who won the 1930 tournament, was one down to T. Stiffen Tallor, Newport, R. I., at the turn, but Rhode Islander showed a more consistent brand of golf at the back nine to win 5 and 4.

J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., who came to Pinehurst with a string of wins acquired in Florida, winter tournament, defeated Richard S. Tufts of Pinehurst, 3 and 1.

BASEBALL OUTLOOK AT LESLIE IS POOR

"Prospects for baseball at Leslie are the poorest I have ever seen," stated Coach Gurnee Fleisher Wednesday when contemplating his 1931 team.

Fleisher reports a dearth of baseball material and states that the few players he has are not all around men, but just show well in one department. Invariably his best hitters are poor at good infielding and handling the ball and those who can handle the ball well are poor bat wielders.

Some hope is seen when Converse returns to catch. He will be back in a few days. News is a good infielder and Mason shows up well, but is weak on hitting ability. Elliott has possibilities of being one of the best players at any of several positions, but is not exerting himself or showing much interest.

Weather Halts Third Attempt At Ball Opener

Once more the Salem high baseball team was disappointed by the weather and has yet to play its first game of the season. Friday the red and black had to call off its game with Silverton in the city because of excess precipitation.

The schedule for the remainder of the season calls for two games a week and unless a great deal of good weather prevails, it will be hard to get all the games played in addition to the Silverton and Woodburn games which have already been postponed indefinitely.

McGraw Modest About Chances of His Team But Says it Will be One of Five

(Note: This is the fifth of a series of stories on major league prospects written for the Associated Press by the club managers.)

By JOHN MCGRAW
Manager, New York Giants

We had a very successful conditioning trip as far as work was concerned, yet the work as compared with past seasons was rather light, due to the weather and various circumstances not within our control. The Giants will be getting home well trained but not overtrained. That may mean a lot.

The team as it stands is a better outfit than last year. Of that I am convinced. So far the major changes made in the club's array have satisfied my judgment. Verges seems a most satisfactory third baseman and Lindstrom has adapted himself quickly to his outfield assignment. Much of course—probably the most—depends on the pitching, and if the kid, Schumacher,

Normal Five Hoop Season Big Success

MONMOUTH, April 10—The Lamron, student publication of the Oregon Normal school, presents in its current issue, the following complete score of the season's basketball games:

"The Normal basketballers have just completed the most arduous schedule played by this school in several years. A total of 22 games was played of which 16 were won, giving a percentage of .727.

"Competition encountered was very stiff but the Oregon Normal boys avenged their defeat by winning from their conquerors in either previous or later contests. As Fresno State college, San Francisco State teachers' college, Columbia university and Idaho State teachers' college.

ELKS TOURNEY STARTS TODAY

Golfers Have Until April 26 to Qualify; Frank Lynch in Charge

The annual Elks' handicap golf tournament will be launched today. It is announced by Frank Lynch, chairman of the committee in charge. The qualifying round will be closed April 26. All that is necessary to qualify is to play 18 holes either on the Salem or the Illabe courses, and turn in the score at the clubhouse or at the Elks club buffet.

Players qualifying will be arranged in flights of comparable handicaps and after the 26th a match play round will be played each week. Matches to be completed within that time or forfeited.

Judging from past tournaments there will be much interest among the Elks. About 60 members qualified last season, when Foster Come was in charge. Rex Sanford was the winner. He has departed from this vicinity so that a new champion is sure to be crowned at the end of the present tourney.
