Elaborate Plans Made For "Good Music" Week

WHAT promises to be the most successful "good music" week to be celebrated in Salem during the national observance of the week which has become a matter of vital interest in musical and civic life each spring all over the United States will be observed this year from May 3 to May 9.

The churches will open the week with special music. Sunday afternoon there will be a special organ program in the studio of Prof. and Mrs. Roberts. Monday night will be given over to the "at home" programs, a delightful innovation of last year; Tuesday night the Salem Arts League will sponsor a special program; Wednesday the Willamette school of music will sponsor a special program; Thursday there will be two concerts, the spring concert of Sacred Heart cathedral and a concert at the school for the blind.

Friday there will also be three concerts, the grand piano ensemble at the armory and the program to be given at the Y. M. C. A. and the junior recital at the Sacred Heart academy.

Saturday will be the conclave of church choirs and Sunday will conclude the week with special musical services at the First Methodist church given by the Girl Reserves in compliment to Mother's day.

This movement of "better music" which is sponsored by the Oregon Federation of music clubs has spread until last year there were celebrations in more than 2,000 cities and towns. Each year the National Music week is a medium for advancing some particular idea. Last year the underlying motive was summed up in this: "to make music your friend from youth to age". The special feature this year is the development of a get-together spirit in music through participation in mass concerts and other big musical events.

President Hoover is honorary chairman for National Music week and in that capacity heads the honorary committee of governors, which consists of the governors of the majority of the states. In addition to the National Music week, the following organizations are members of the active committee: American Legion, Kiwanis International, Rotary International, Daughters of the American Revolution, National Association of Music Merchants, National Council of Women, and National Federation of Music Clubs.

Plans for the national celebration are well underway in Salem as well as over the entire state. Mrs. Walter Denton is state and city director for the week.

The Salem committee includes Prof. and Mrs. Frank E. Chrus, Ill. Prof. and Mrs. T. S. Roberts, Mrs. Dorothy Pearce, Miss Mary Schultz, Mrs. Stephen A. Stone, and Mrs. Joy Turner Moses, Mrs. Ethel Poling Phelps, and Miss Elma Walker. Other committees will be announced later.

Bridge Luncheon Is Attractive Event

A PARTICULARLY pretty bridge luncheon was that given by Miss Pauline Johnson Saturday afternoon at the Gray Belle in compliment to her birthday. A French arrangement of garden flowers and this flanked with pastel shaded tapers.

For the bridge which followed Miss Helen Pettijohn held high score and Miss Hazel Shutt held second.

Covers were placed for Miss Josephine Albert, Miss Jane Jackson, Miss Helen Pettijohn, Miss Mura Burkhardt, Miss Mardette Heenan, Miss Mary Heenan, Miss Hazel George, Miss Hazel Shutt, Miss Anna Karst, Miss Margaret Davidson, Miss Leota Bell, Mrs. Clyde Johnson and Miss Pauline Johnson.

"Reunion" Party Happy Event

A happy event at the George K. Moorehead home Saturday afternoon was a reunion of several alumni of Willamette university who either live in Salem or are visiting here. Some of the guests had not met since college days and getting acquainted with the children in the party was one of the features of the afternoon.

Guests were Mrs. Wilmot Moll, and two children of Butte, Mont.; Mrs. Willard Lawson and sons, Jack and Willard, Jr., of Bellingham, Wash.; Mrs. George Rhoten and daughter, Betty Merie; Mrs. Edwin Thomas and daughter, Laura Lee; Mrs. Cornelius Bateson and son Cornelius, Jr., and the hostess, Mrs. George Moorehead and sons, Van and Bruce.

University People Luncheon Guests

A group of young people from University of Oregon stopped in Salem Friday and were luncheon guests of Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson. They were motoring to Portland to attend the dinner given by Beta Theta Pi alumni at the Multnomah hotel.

In the party were Miss Ann Kistner of Portland, Miss Elizabeth Wilson of Grants Pass, Miss Elizabeth Strang of California, Kirby Kittus of Portland and Robert Bishop.

Mrs. H. L. Earl of Portland was the guest of Mrs. J. W. Harritt at her home on Union avenue Friday.

TODAY WE PRESENT . . .

... two Salem matrons who have been instrumental in starting successfully the post-Easter season of benefits. Mrs. J. T. Delaney was general chairman of the large bridge benefit given at the Marion hotel Thursday afternoon; Mrs. E. A. Pruitt was general chairman for the bridge and "500" benefit sponsored by women of the St. Vincent dePaul parish Monday afternoon.

To the left is Miss Lois Wilkes, popular Willamette university student and member of the Delta Phi sorority, who announced her engagement to Keith Jones at an attractive Easter morning breakfast at the sorority house.

Musical Salem Thrilled As Achievement and Honors Come

ACHIEVEMENT and honor in musical accomplishment are outstanding in Salem musical circles today. Four young students, Dalbert Jepsen, Cleo Seely, Nathan Steinbock, and Louis Stutt, were among the 226 students from the Pacific Northwest to be sent to make up the Northwest high school orchestra sponsored by the Music Supervisors conference which meets every two years in Spokane as one of the convening bodies during the Inland Empire Teachers association meeting.

Nathan Steinbock occupied the third chair in the first violin section; Cleo Seely occupied the seventh chair in the second violin section; and Dalbert Jepsen occupied the eleventh chair in the first viola section.

Each year there is gathered together in Interlochen, Mich., a group of 200 young musicians from high schools from all over the United States. They are chosen on merit and those from the northwest were chosen at the Inland Empire meeting. Nathan Steinbock is an alternate to go to this national meeting, a signal honor for a young Salem musician and one of which Salem should be very proud.

A second matter of keen interest that has come to Salem musical circles is the fact that Miss Josephine Albert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Albert, has been called by the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia to come for an audition. She leaves today for the east where she will be for two weeks, and during which time she will compete with 150 other students for a coveted place in this highly selective school of musical training. Only a few are admitted each year and Miss Albert goes from Salem to try for her place there. If successful in her audition she will continue her vocal work there.

The accomplishment of the junior symphony orchestra Friday night under the inspiring direction of William Wellens Graham gave its audience a taste of what to expect when this group of young artists have their talent displayed Friday night. The aim of the orchestra is to develop the youth of the city into a group of symphony artists. Any child or high school student who can qualify is welcome to enter and receive training of invaluable worth.

Showing his belief in the junior orchestra, Ferenc Steiner, principal cellist of the Portland symphony orchestra played with the juniors as guest artist. Mr. Steiner is an outstanding artist of enviable repute in musical circles of the east and west. His gracious courtesy and beautiful playing Friday night was an inspirational compliment to the efforts of the junior orchestra. Mrs. A. A. Schramm with her beautifully quiet, sympathetic and sure accompaniment added the last touch to the great artist's performance. These special numbers on the program made the Salem audience feel the importance of the work of the youth orchestra.

Another matter of interest is the representation which Salem will have in the annual musical

Mrs. John Rand To be Tuesday Hostess

MRS. JOHN RAND will entertain members of the O. T. club at her home Tuesday afternoon with a one-o'clock luncheon followed by an afternoon of cards.

Special guests and former club members invited are Mrs. Alice Dodd and Mrs. T. T. Gear of Portland and Mrs. Louise Bean of Eugene.

Club members are Mrs. E. C. Cross, Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. H. B. Thielson, Mrs. George White, Mrs. R. P. Boise, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mrs. Seymour Jones, Mrs. T. B. Kay, Mrs. Charles Robertson, Mrs. John Albert and Mrs. John Rand.

Girl Reserves Plan Exhibit

Girl Reserves are planning an interesting exhibit for the annual Y. W. C. A. "open house" to be held this year, April 21 in the Y. W. C. A. social rooms. This exhibit will include representative work of all that accomplished by the Reserves during the past year.

The high school Reserves are also planning to give the "ring ceremonial" upon which they have been working for the past several weeks at 4:15 o'clock the afternoon of open house in order that the guests at this affair may witness the impressive service.

The high school group will meet Tuesday to plan work for the remainder of the year and to plan for a skating hike for Thursday afternoon.

Other groups meeting Tuesday will be Parrish Reserves who will make plans for the special music which they will give music week. Leslie and the Parrish seventh grade groups will meet Tuesday as will West Salem. Leslie will make plans for the play which they will give April 23 in the little theatre in Willamette university. Beulah Graham is coaching this play.

Mrs. Wallace Carson To be Hostess

Mrs. Wallace Carson will be hostess at her home, 370 Leslie street, Tuesday afternoon for the regular meeting of the Junior Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Mrs. E. E. Bragg is to assist Mrs. Carson.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Heath and daughter Beokra of Redmond, Oregon, spent Friday in Salem as the guests of Mrs. John Hunt, mother of Mrs. Heath. They left Saturday for Walla Walla, Wash.

Yew Park grade school. Reserves will meet Thursday at 3:30 o'clock in the Yew Park school at which time they will present a play and the parents are invited as special guests. Mildred Meaney will play the leading role in this play.

Washington grade school Reserves, just newly reorganized, will meet Thursday as will Garfield. Grant will meet Wednesday and Englewood will meet Tuesday.

APRIL with her whims and fancies has tossed into its days as much of interest socially and musically as together several of its past sister months did own. Easter with its pretty "dresy" bow to spring—and following on its silky frilly train is "blossom" when all of Salem takes to its automobiles, gathers up its friends and goes driving over the blossom covered hills through winding roads, the sides of which are now wooded and then again softly suggestive of the fields which they border.

Two large bridge and "500" benefits have marked the past week and Wednesday one of the most elaborate bridge benefits of the year will be sponsored at the Woman's clubhouse by members of the Woman's club. Playing will be both afternoon and evening and an informal program has been arranged. Mrs. C. K. Spaulding is general chairman and Mrs. Karl Becke is table chairman. Reservations may be telephoned to Mrs. Becke. This benefit is being given for the Y. W. C. A. and all funds will go to its supporting coffers.

April 21 one of the largest social events of the year for the Y. W. C. A. will be sponsored when it holds "open house" and all the members and friends of the organization call. The social rooms will be open both afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Julius Meier and Mrs. T. A. Livesley will preside at the tea tables during the afternoon hours and Mrs. C. P. Bishop and Mrs. E. T. Barnes will preside during the evening hours.

Mrs. Milton Meyers is in general charge of the arrangements for this "open house". Mrs. Prince Byrd has charge of the serving and will be assisted by a bevy of young girls.

An outstanding musical and social event will be the MacDowell club's spring concert April 27 at which time the Portland string trio composed of Ruth Bradley Keiser, Laura Teschner, and Sylvia Weinstein Margulis will play as guest artists and Jean Miller Rahn will be assisting soloist. The MacDowell chorus will present a number of beautiful spring numbers. Lena Belle Tartar is directing the chorus.

Already the clubs are beginning to feel the approach of spring and comes the word that this one and that one will soon be having its last meeting. The Monday Night dancing club leads the way in bringing the season to a close for it Monday night with a large dance at the Illihee country club.

Brilliant Affair Is Beethoven Banquet

COVERS for 50 were placed at the sixth annual Beethoven banquet given by the Beethoven society of Willamette university Saturday night in the Silver Grille room of the Gray Belle. Pastel shades were used in the attractive flower arrangements and the tapers, which were held in three candleabra.

Miss Josephine Albert, president of the society, introduced Miss Frances Virginia Melton, faculty advisor, who acted as toastmistress. Responses and musical selections were given by Miss Hel-

National Officers Will Visit Y. M. C. A.

Miss Pauline Schaedler, national finance secretary of the Y. W. C. A. with headquarters in Seattle, Wash., will be a guest of the local Y. W. C. A. Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Miss Schaedler will meet with finance committee Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. social rooms and Tuesday she will be a special guest at the executive board meeting at 10 o'clock followed by a noon luncheon.
