Learn to Swim Campaign to be Launched Soon

A meeting of the Salem Red Cross life savers was held at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night and plans for a children and adult "learn to swim" campaign were formulated.

The campaign will start the latter part of May and be under direction of members of the Red Cross life saving corps. The local group has affiliated with the national group and received its charter last week. Carlson, a national ish, weak feeling which is due to inactivity of the pores. "Pape's" kills cold germs; opens the bowels; takes germs and the acid-wastes of colds right out of your system.

Next time a cold starts, try Pape's Cold Compound and learn the reason for its tremendous sales and popularity. Just remember the name "Pape's". All drugstores—35c.

Now, just a pleasant tablet and relief for your cold begins, instantly. And Pape's Cold Compound relieves all symptoms of colds. It does the three things any doctor will tell you are necessary to check a cold.

"Pape's" reduces irritation and swelling of the nasal lining. So breathing becomes easy; the charge stops; the head clears. "Pape's" encourages perspiration; banishes that aching, fever-

THE HOLLYWOOD
Today — Reginald Denny
"Those Three French Girls."
Friday — Jack Oakie in
"Sea Legs."

WARNER BROS. CAPITOL
Today — Adolphe Menjou
in "Men Call It Love."
Friday — Chester Morris
in "The Bat Whispers."

WARNER BROS. ELKS
Today — Norma Shearer in
"Strangers May Kiss."

THE GRAND
Today — Sue Carol in
"Dancing Sweeties."
Friday — Buck Jones in
"Dawn Trail."

Unusually satisfying action is a splendid part of the plays at the Elks and the Capitol theatres today. You may not agree with the plot of "Strangers May Kiss" as the Elks but you will enjoy the work of Norma Shearer and Robert Montgomery.

You will also enjoy the clever lines which keep the audience much amused throughout the play. At the Capitol the play "Men Call It Love" has a theme for its plot which carries real value to the grown-up people in the audience. It deals with a situation which is genuine and which is met in much the same manner in which it would be met in real life.

There are practically no motion picture "dramatics" and the whole play moves along with splendid interest and realism.

Adolphe Menjou has never done better work in his estimation and for once at the end of the story you like him as his character role. He has made a very genuine new acquaintance. Her characterization of a "very good bad girl, and a very bad good girl" as she tells Adolphe Menjou, is something to be remembered. If Norman Foster continues the sincere work which he accomplished in this play he has much with which to please the theatre public for some time to come.

Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

REVENUE THOMAS V. KEENAN, chairman of the state parole board, while at the state capitol yesterday remarked that his first job was with Julius L. Meier. Keenan said in 1913 and 1914 he was employed as office-boy for the governor, in his store in Portland. Keenan is now revising the parole system, subject to the approval of the board.

Work on the boys' dormitory at the state institution for feeble minded will be started early next month. The board of control indicated by advertising for bids for the $40,000 construction at Salem. Bids will be opened April 20. The building will house 110 boys.

William Hanley, Burns, paid another visit to the governor yesterday following a land board meeting which he attended in the interests of settlers of the Malheur lake game refuge territory. Hanley was named on the committee to determine action of the state relative to the governing suit pending to establish title to lands within the refuge.

Among other visitors to the land board meeting were Randolph S. Collins, representing the federal department of justice, who brought the government action against the state. The game commission was represented by Irving Vinland and J. C. Cullison. The suit should be prosecuted, the committee recommended to the board.

Colonel A. E. Clark, who Tuesday was appointed a member of the committee to work out plans for the new state police force, was here yesterday. He attended to legal business at the temple of justice here.
