

YOUNG PEOPLE BEST PARENTS

Hubbard P. T. A. Listens To Program by Each of Two Groups

HUBBARD, April 27.—The young people won the decision of the judges in the program contest between the new committee, members of which were the young folks, and the old committee whose members were the older people, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association of the White district at the schoolhouse Friday night.

Mrs. George Parry, president of the association, announced that the penalty provided that the losing side would be held responsible for the program at the first meeting of the organization next fall. Judges for the contest were Mrs. Carl Minkler, Miss Doris Harriott, Miss Mildred Harriott, Miss Mary Gibson and Miss Mas Engle, all teachers in the Woodburn school.

Miss Mildred Smith, chairman of the new committee, gave the assistance of a radio studio with the following persons taking part: Robert Sonnen, announcer; Miss Esther Dirksen, pianist; Pat Gleason of Gervais, harmonica, and also the "Infallible Wizard" of the "Lawrence and Francis Van de Wilson of St. Paul, vocal duets; Harold Springer, Hawaiian guitar; Opal Eppers, a little girl soloist; Miss Rose Gilles of Woodburn, lecturer on how to reduce; Miss Amanda Gilles, a cook expert, and P. K. Scaelie of Woodburn, 75-year-old player of old tunes on the violin, and also an artist at tap dancing to the accompaniment of the harmonica played by Pat Gleason.

Mock Wedding Held

The young peoples' program closed with a mock wedding, the bride and groom of which were Miss Amanda Gilles of Woodburn and Pat Gleason, and the little ring bearer, Betty Stauffer.

The program presented by the old committee with Mrs. Earl Grim as chairman, was featured by a humorous Irish play with the following persons taking part: Mrs. Earl Grim, Mrs. A. J. Smith, Mrs. Henry Parry, George Parry, Mrs. Parry, Hazel Carothers and Warren Parry. Other numbers included a reading by Miss Mildred Grim and music by the Hubbard Cheer-orchestra, led by Dr. A. F. deLuzaine and featured by vocal solos by Don Covey of Woodburn. Refreshments were served after the program. A large audience was present, filling every available seat, with hardly standing room left.

MAN CAGED WITH LIONS AND TIGERS IS MASTER

Lion taming according to Clyde Beatty, of circus fame, has like all other pursuits, its ups and downs. He daily demonstrates before circus fans and during rehearsal that the mighty king of the jungle has met a master. Not content with making lions and tigers go through their paces for the amusement of a still loving audience, the 24-year-old young man from Chillicothe, Ohio, locks himself into a cage full of lions and tigers, all ready to pounce on him if he should show the slightest sign of wavering. He is unable to describe the power which he holds over the savage beasts but asserts that fearlessly looking a wild beast in the eye will many times calm him. Still, he does not advise a would-be attempt at such a feat as a means of safety. Neither does he advise others to emulate him.

RICKEY HAPPY OVER STUDENTS' SPELLING

RICKEY, April 27.—Pupils from this district made an unusually good record at the county spelling contest held in Salem Saturday. Only one out of the five who represented the school missed more than one word in the written contest and three of these spelled all the words in the written contest correctly and one won a silver medal in the oral contest.

Patricia Fitzpatrick of the seventh grade and Robert Brown of the eighth grade will receive certificates and Hazel Magee of the sixth grade a silver medal. This year Hazel Magee won the silver medal, the first medal to be won by the school in the spelling contest. The class is now composed of nine members and they expect to add a gold medal to their trophies before graduation day. Robert Brown made an especially good showing. He was not spelled down until 12:15 o'clock, a few minutes before the last one went down.

MISS GILSTRAP HONORED

TURNER, April 27.—Mrs. Jean Peary and Miss Josephine Gilstrap arrived at Turner about midnight Friday after the final contest in the state high school extempore and interpretative contest held Thursday and Friday at Corvallis. Miss Gilstrap who is a member of the sophomore class of the Turner high school was awarded fourth place in the extempore division, and was well pleased especially when it was learned that other speakers were seniors from large high schools.

Educational Conclave at Monmouth Attracts Many Teachers; Program Good

By BEULAH H. CRAVEN MONMOUTH, April 27.—An unusually large group of educators assembled Saturday at the Oregon Normal school to attend the third annual educational conference. The "Meaning of Freedom in Education" was the conference theme, which was ably handled by a corps of brilliant speakers secured by the conference committee, headed by Dr. A. S. Jensen. Dr. Clifford Woody of the University of Michigan gave the addresses at the morning session, and a third in the afternoon.

Miss Helen Christianson, primary expert from the San Francisco State Teachers' college, was heard at a morning and afternoon talk, and addressed the primary council at the noon luncheon held in the domestic science rooms of the training school. The luncheon was a very charming affair and well attended.

3 BIG EVENTS ARE PLANNED

Silverton to Outdo Former Efforts; all to be Free To General Public

SILVERTON, April 27.—The Silverton Music week committee, with Mrs. Gertrude Cameron as its head, announces that plans are nearing completion and that the three big programs this year give promise of being exceptionally good. The programs will all be held at the Eugene Field auditorium and will all be free of charge. The first of the three programs will be given Monday night, May 4, and will be Costume night. Old-time numbers and folk songs will be featured. There will be vocal solos, piano solos, violins, bagpipes, perhaps a reading or two, harp music, numbers, harp solos and other numbers on this evening.

The next night will be Thursday night, at which time the young people will be in prominence. At this time the school musical organizations of which Silverton has something rather good, will be given their opportunity. Sunday night, May 10, the last of Music week, will be devoted to religious music and readings. For this program all of the local churches are being asked to dispend their regular evening services this night and to take part in a joint musical service. Old-time hymns, familiar to all, will be sung jointly. Choirs and orchestras of the churches will furnish the music.

LITTLE HURT DONE TO CROPS, WACONDA

Fruit Unhurt, is Report; Farmers Don't Like Drying Winds

WACONDA, April 27.—The recent freak windstorm caused a little damage to crops here as in any part of the valley. It is thought that aside from twisting off limbs and uprooting of a few fruit trees the fruit has not been hurt. Several rows of loganberries were laid flat by the wind on the McClelland and A. W. Nasom farms. The ground which was very hard to work because of the hard crust is even more difficult to work since the strong wind. Even in localities where the ground almost never dries out, farmers find it impossible to break up the heavy clods. C. C. Russell in Mission Bottom is working his hop yard at this time and the land in this district is hard to cultivate. Those same farmers who wished the rain to cease a few weeks ago are hoping for rain now.

AMITY, April 27.—The high school will play "Tee for Two," Friday night in the gymnasium to a well filled house.
