

Wesley Ferrell Hurls No-Hit No-Run Game at Cleveland

FIRST OF KIND IN TWO YEARS

"Fast" and "Faster" Balls Go Whizzing Past the Browns' Batsmen

AMERICAN LEAGUE

W. L. Pct.	W. L. Pct.
Cleveland . . . 3 750	Detroit . . . 5 455
Washington . . . 3 515	St. Louis . . . 7 300
N. Y. . . 3 538	St. Paul . . . 7 300
Pittsburgh . . . 3 500	Boston . . . 7 300

CLEVELAND, April 29.—(AP)—Wesley Ferrell, one of the leading right handed pitchers in the American league, today crashed the gates to baseball's hall of fame by pitching his first no-hit, no-run game in the majors as Cleveland subdued the St. Louis Browns in the series final, 9 to 0.

Besides pitching the first no-hit, no-run game in the majors in nearly two years, Ferrell poked a mighty home run blow, driving in another man in the fourth inning and sent two runs across in the eighth with a double off the right field wall. Earl Averill also contributed to the cause by hitting the third homer of the season with one on base.

Ferrell was throwing them past the batters with amazing speed, eight Browns striking out on his "fast and faster" balls. He allowed only three walks, while three others reached base on three errors by Bill Hunnefeld. Not a runner went farther than first base, however.

Further than that, not a ball was hit beyond the infield.

The Cleveland speed merchant won his fourth game of the season, and with the Browns hardly more than two weeks old, seems headed for a better record than last year when he won 25 games and compiled a record as the most effective pitcher in the league. He has lost one game so far. Last year he lost 13.

R. H. E.
St. Louis . . . 000 000 000—0 0 0
Cleveland . . . 011 200 233—9 13 3
Gray, Stiles and R. Ferrell; W. Ferrell and Sewell.

MAY FIND BURIAL PLACE OF HEROINE

Clues Found in Search for Spot Where Dorion Woman Buried

The search for the Dorion woman's grave goes on, and some clues are being found that may lead to the finding of the spot where that heroic squaw was buried after her death in 1853. This occurred, it is rather certain, in the Middle Grove district about three miles northwest of Salem.

Josephine Johnson, who lived in that section at the time, might have told. But information was received yesterday that Miss Johnson died at her home in or near Heppner on February 12 of this year.

A monument is proposed for the Dorion woman in Idaho, and one in eastern Oregon. One near Salem, to mark her grave, would no doubt follow the finding of the spot. Myrtle Lawyer, three times Indian princess, will take the part of the Dorion woman in the Pageant of the Pioneers at Willamette gymnasium, May 15 and 16. It is hoped to find the place of the burial of the Dorion woman before that date.

The seat sale has started. One may buy his ticket now, and have it reserved without extra cost. There will also be some extra reservations, in front rows.

The book, Pageant of the Pioneers, on sale at all Salem book stores, and will be at book stores in Portland, Albany, Eugene and Roseburg. All net receipts go to the Pageant fund, for the promotion of the 1934 centenary celebration of the coming of the missionaries at the state fairsgrounds.

'PAY BILLS' MOVE IS OUTLINED HERE

S. A. McKean of Portland, with the Foster and Kleiser Advertising company, outlined plans for a "Pay Your Bills Promptly" educational campaign at the regular Wednesday noon meeting of the Salem Credit association, held at the Gray-Belle.

McKean reported that the National Retail Credit association is sponsoring such a move, and suggested that in the present economic situation the power of suggestion, rather than dogmatic command, will go far toward keeping money in circulation and bills paid.

The local association deferred action on adopting the campaign until after the northwest convention of their group, to be held in Spokane May 18 and 19. A committee consisting of Roy H. Wassman, Everett Dotson and Ralph Glover was appointed by President Phillip H. Holmes to report on the campaign following the Spokane meeting.

Bert Haney on Board of Fire Insurance Firm

Bert E. Haney of Portland was recently elected to the board of directors of the Oregon Mutual Fire Insurance company, of McMinnville, succeeding the late Judge H. H. Hewitt of Albany.

A further vacancy has been created in its directorate through the death of T. B. Kay, who has been associated with the company for many years.

STUDENTS TOLD OF WORK AMONG DEAF

Willamette university beginning sociology students have been learning Monday and Wednesday of this week the methods and history of working with deaf people. Their instructor for the time was Dr. Lyman Steed, superintendent of the local school for the deaf.

Monday's class sessions were taken up with an investigation into the need for training, the history of the institution, and the various types of deaf students; born deaf, loss of hearing through sickness and accident. Students' ability to read lips were demonstrated with a child of 6 who had been brought to the institution following his sickness after one year in the public school when he lost his hearing.

All of the students were pupils of lip reading; four of them were being taught to keep their faculty for speech and the fifth was being taught to talk.

Dr. Steed is classed as one of the greatest living authorities on the education of the deaf. His ideal is that lip reading will become so prevalent among the deaf that the sign language will be eliminated.

ROTARIANS GRIEVE AT KAY'S PASSING

Rotary club met as under a pall yesterday noon. A familiar chair was vacant, the one usually occupied by Tom Kay. The members felt a personal loss over the death of one who had been an active member of the club since its organization. In tribute to his memory the club stood bowed in silence for a few moments and then sang a verse of "Nearer My God to Thee."

Dr. Carl G. Doney, president of Willamette, was the speaker of the day, discussing the international influence of Rotary. The district convention of the organization has been in progress in Portland this week, with representatives from Canada and the United States.

Dr. Doney noted the work of Rotary in promoting better relations and higher standards among the peoples of the earth. Its influence works toward ameliorating the causes of discord; selfishness, ignorance and misunderstanding. In this way Rotary is a great force for peace.

Salem High Track Squad Gives Promise of Strong Showing in Valley Meet

Salem high's track team is rounding into excellent condition for the Willamette valley meet to be held here Saturday afternoon on Sweetland field starting at 1 o'clock.

Coach Vernon Gilmore is keeping all of his men out of this season and is not only coming through with a team which can hold its own this year, but is at the same time paving the way for a championship squad next year. Over 50 fellows turned out for track and most of these are still working.

New checks are made on the fellow's speed all the time in order to let all have a chance and to make certain that the best will be chosen to compete. Twenty-eight men will be given a chance to compete Saturday in the valley meet with 13 events, including the relay, lined up. In the dual meets more are given opportunity to enter.

A dual meet with Hill's Mill-race academy will be held in the near future. It has been some time since Salem high and Hill's have met in any major sport and interest is high regarding that meet.

Graber is likely to take the 440 at the valley meet unless some dark horse looms. White, quarter miler, Grant, eighth, was clocked in the 440 he ran in the sprints medley relay at Eugene last Saturday and he made it in 51, bettering the former state high school record by 1.1 seconds. However a number of fans affirm that for all of that Graber gained on him in the quarter mile. Graber is tall and has an unusually long and powerful stride.

With so many different schools here Saturday, it will be hard for any one to annex many points. Indications are that there will not be nearly enough first places (only 13) to go around. Hill's, Chemawa, Corvallis, Eugene and Albany are counted on to bring strong teams and any of the others might come through unexpectedly in any event.

Gilmore was well pleased at the showing made by Salem high at the Oregon Relays. The sprints medley relay team took second place and was not far behind Grant, the winner.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

ROYALTY WAVES TO NEW YORK

The royal rulers of the kingdom of Siam ended their journey half way around the world that King Prajadhipok might be attended by the foremost surgeons of the United States. King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambai Barna are pictured waving a greeting as they arrived at the railroad station at Scarborough, N. Y. The royal couple motored to the Whiteley Beach mansion at Purchase, N. Y., where they will stay for the duration of their visit.

PORTLAND BOX SCORE

Missions	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Monroe	2	4	0	0	3	0
Clarke	4	0	1	3	3	0
Eckhardt	3	0	0	1	0	0
Hufft	1	0	0	2	0	0
Scott	2	1	1	1	0	0
Burns	4	0	2	0	0	0
Rodda	3	0	1	0	1	0
Brenzel	4	0	0	2	1	0
Caster	3	0	2	0	3	0
Hofman	1	0	1	0	0	0
T. Pillette	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	1	8	24	11	0

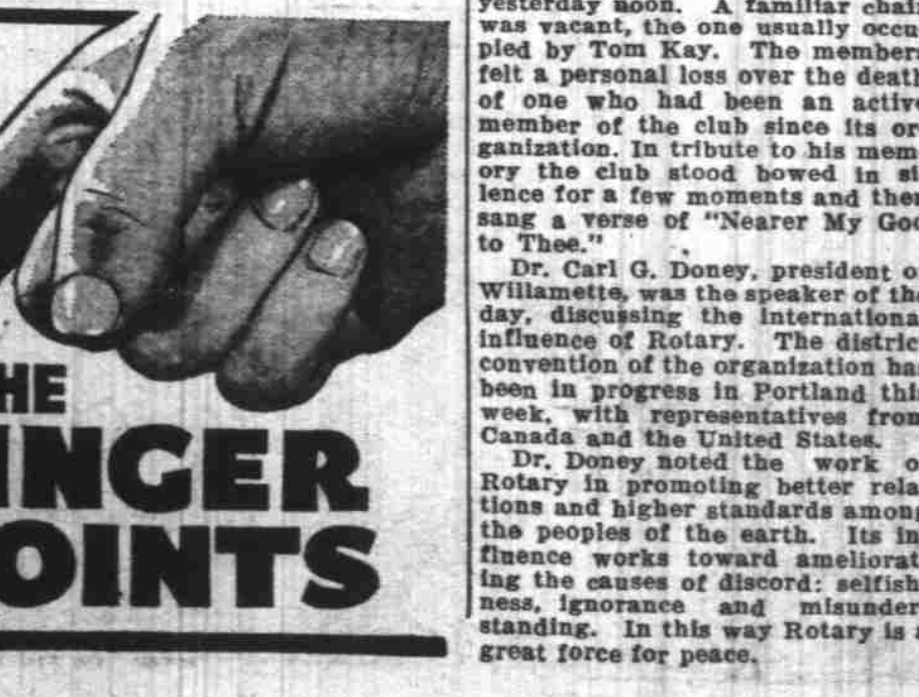

*Batted for Rodda in 9th.
†Batted for Caster in 9th.

ROYALTY WAVES TO NEW YORK

The royal rulers of the kingdom of Siam ended their journey half way around the world that King Prajadhipok might be attended by the foremost surgeons of the United States. King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambai Barna are pictured waving a greeting as they arrived at the railroad station at Scarborough, N. Y. The royal couple motored to the Whiteley Beach mansion at Purchase, N. Y., where they will stay for the duration of their visit.

ROYALTY WAVES TO NEW YORK

The royal rulers of the kingdom of Siam ended their journey half way around the world that King Prajadhipok might be attended by the foremost surgeons of the United States. King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambai Barna are pictured waving a greeting as they arrived at the railroad station at Scarborough, N. Y. The royal couple motored to the Whiteley Beach mansion at Purchase, N. Y., where they will stay for the duration of their visit.

The royal rulers of the kingdom of Siam ended their journey half way around the world that King Prajadhipok might be attended by the foremost surgeons of the United States. King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambai Barna are pictured waving a greeting as they arrived at the railroad station at Scarborough, N. Y. The royal couple motored to the Whiteley Beach mansion at Purchase, N. Y., where they will stay for the duration of their visit.

GREAT WALTER BEATS MISSION

Bill Phebus of Oakland is Effective at Night Against Seals

COAST LEAGUE W. L. Pct.
Los A. . . 12 10 .563
San F. . . 10 12 .455
San P. . . 12 10 .545
Mission . . 10 12 .455
Hely . . . 12 11 .523
Seattle . . 10 14 .417

PORTLAND, Ore., April 29.—(AP)—Walter "The Great" Mails pitched good ball and received fine support against the Missions today and Portland won the second game of the series, 4 to 1.

The Missions threatened often but it was not until the ninth that they scored their lone run. A double by Bob Johnson with one on and another by Bill Phebus tied in Portland's favor in the seventh, ensuing hits by Rhie and Flagstead scoring a total of three.

Phebus Wins Duel

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—(AP)—The youthful Bill Phebus out-pitched Jimmy Zinn in a duel here tonight, Oakland taking the second game of the series with the San Francisco Seals one to nothing. Phebus struck out six men in the first four innings. The only run came in the second inning, but the Seals threatened in the final session with a man on first.

Oakland R H E
San Francisco 4 6 0
Phebus and Berry; Zinn and Wilson, Penebuck.

Angels Dig In

LOS ANGELES, April 29.—(AP)—Los Angeles strengthened its first place position in the Pacific coast league standings today at the expense of Sacramento, erstwhile leaders, winning their second game of the series, 10 to 9.

Sacramento R H E
Los Angeles 9 14 2
Chesterton, Hock, Hambling and Koehler; Petty, Ballou and Campbell.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

W. U. Trying For 3rd Win Over Oregon

Coach "Spec" Keene worked his Bearcat ball tossers strenuously Wednesday afternoon and will do the same today placing emphasis on hitting, base running and special attention on ironing out the kinks in the infield.

Keene does not wish any recurrence of a "nobody's ball" rolling leisurely through the infield with all the players waiting for the other fellow to take it. This very play cost a run against O. S. C. and is commonly seen in games where the infielders have worked together only a short time.

More stress is being placed on playing for the men on bases and on learning to suit play for the runners to the situation, taking into account the number of outs and the ability of the man at bat. It also makes a difference what the score is and how far along the game has progressed. A complex problem is shown at once and the scope for improvement is almost unlimited.

The Bearcats' infield is composed of three freshmen and two veterans who have been shifted from their last year's positions. In addition to that the infielders must accustom themselves to the different fielding and base covering ability of three different pitchers. Making adjustments to all these details in the midst of championship teams and often games hinge on just such minute details.

Oregon Coming Again on Friday

Willamette will play Oregon here Friday, May 1, and stands a good chance of winning. Twice already this season Billy Reinhart's batsmen have been turned back on the short end of the score, once 13 to 12 and again 10 to 4. There should be no reason for Oregon saving its best pitchers at the home team will present their strongest lineup for the 3rd Friday and the return game Saturday at Eugene.

The pitchers at Willamette are not getting enough work according to "Spec" Keene, but at least two will get plenty this weekend. The infield has played very good ball this year and Erickson, Scales and Moore make one of the fastest outfield combinations in the state. They are now beginning to learn to play for the individual differences of the various batters and having played Oregon twice already, should be able to judge the players' hitting direction with a fair degree of accuracy.

The hitting of Willamette has been pleasing in most of the games and is improving steadily. A lot of life was shown by Reinhart's batsmen and "Spec" wishes to add to it and make it characteristic of his 1931 team.

Track Squad Stronger at Willamette

Interest continues to grow in track at Willamette as the first meet of the 1931 recuperative season looms for Friday at 1 o'clock against Albany college here

Interest continues to grow in track at Willamette as the first meet of the 1931 recuperative season looms for Friday at 1 o'clock against Albany college here. The Bearcat tracksters will better old records this season.

Van Dyke ran the mile in 4:40 three years ago, but has not equalled that time since. However he is planning to do so now and is working hard toward that end. He did not compete in the interclass meet because of a sore muscle caused from stepping on a stone while favoring his weak knee. However he will probably come out of it all right, though he will not be able to do his best against Albany Friday.

Klostra made five feet seven in the high jump in the interclass meet and accomplished that height with only a scissors jump. He is now practicing a roll jump and should be able to make six feet six in the new time to aim at in the half mile. He won the half mile at the Washington state high school track meet in 1927 and is a powerful runner. He has not been working out long enough yet to be in the best of condition, but is progressing nicely. Carpenter is now perfecting his form in hurling the discus and may also better his previous marks.

Coach "Les" Sparks is working with his men and is also putting some time in on certain good track men who are now ineligible but who will be able to compete next year. Practically all of this year's men will be back next year and if those who are now ineligible get their scholarship up, Sparks expects to have a first class team.

Last year Willamette won but one conference meet. That was from Linfield. The Bearcats also came close to winning from Pacific. Last year was a particularly poor one, but this one is starting much better. Competition is likely to be stiffer though in all of the conference schools and hard work will be required. Whitman has regained supreme in track the last two years and College of Puget Sound has also been strong. Whitman is billed to keep the best of power this year, but Willamette will make a strong bid for it next.

Track Squad Stronger at Willamette

Interest continues to grow in track at Willamette as the first meet of the 1931 recuperative season looms for Friday at 1 o'clock against Albany college here. The Bearcat tracksters will better old records this season.

Van Dyke ran the mile in 4:40 three years ago, but has not equalled that time since. However he is planning to do so now and is working hard toward that end. He did not compete in the interclass meet because of a sore muscle caused from stepping on a stone while favoring his weak knee. However he will probably come out of it all right, though he will not be able to do his best against Albany Friday.

Klostra made five feet seven in the high jump in the interclass meet and accomplished that height with only a scissors jump. He is now practicing a roll jump and should be able to make six feet six in the new time to aim at in the half mile. He won the half mile at the Washington state high school track meet in 1927 and is a powerful runner. He has not been working out long enough yet to be in the best of condition, but is progressing nicely. Carpenter is now perfecting his form in hurling the discus and may also better his previous marks.

Coach "Les" Sparks is working with his men and is also putting some time in on certain good track men who are now ineligible but who will be able to compete next year. Practically all of this year's men will be back next year and if those who are now ineligible get their scholarship up, Sparks expects to have a first class team.

Last year Willamette won but one conference meet. That was from Linfield. The Bearcats also came close to winning from Pacific. Last year was a particularly poor one, but this one is starting much better. Competition is likely to be stiffer though in all of the conference schools and hard work will be required. Whitman has regained supreme in track the last two years and College of Puget Sound has also been strong. Whitman is billed to keep the best of power this year, but Willamette will make a strong bid for it next