Rain Helps Bearcats Squelch Webfoot Hope of Revenge

G. Scales' Record Breaking Four Baser Means two Runs Right Away

Possibly the weather man, who is hardened to all sorts of merited and unmerited abuse, is getting the blame in Eugene this morning for University of Oregon's third defeat at the hands of Willamette university on the diamond this season. Friday's game here, part of the May day program, was won by Willamette 3 to 1 when it was called in with the fifth inning half over on account of a sudden heavy down-

What would have happened in four and a half more innings nobody can say; certainly Oregon was playing better ball than it had on its previous visit here, but then so was Willamette. To the credit of Billy Reinhart's sportsmanship it should be said that he made no effort to halt play when the rain started, at which time it would have been "no contest." Three Pitchers Mean two Runs

Somehow Graduate Manager Sparks and Coach Keene managed to line up seven or eight games with the state school this spring, and that automatically ulled Willamette out of the little college class and dropped it into the hig time in Oregon. That's the thing we have been pointing to in other sports. It will take more of an effort in football, because that means to many good reserves. Willamette's first string has been close to hig college class for two seasons.

That program will mean a lot to Salem; enough to warrant general cooperation in the ef-fort. And if it is achieved, the big schools will welcome it; more worth while competition close to home with low traveling expenses, and a healthier athletic program for Oregon col-
